Humane Society May Help With Problem

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: A few years ago the people next door bought a little kitten for their daughter. The child was very tender-hearted and loved animals. She started a home for stray cats — feeding and sheltering them from the elements, bless her heart.

Today the girl is 9 years old, and apparently the cats have spread the word around town. At the last count there were 38 cats in the basement.

It's admirable that the child is such a little humanitarian but do you know what 38 cats sound like? Our house is very close to theirs and I haven't had a good night's sleep in weeks. Every morning I drag myself to work exhausted.

Is there a logical solution which has escaped me because I'm so tired? I don't want to be an old meanie but I can't go on this way.—D.E.E.

Dear D.E.E.: Thirty eight cats is a lot of felines under one roof. There are ordinances in most jurisdictions pertaining to animals and I suggest you learn what they are by contacting your local humane society. Then you can speak with some authority to your neighbors.

Dear Ann Landers: I would like to comment on the letter from the woman who was annoyed with her psychiatrist because he munched apples during her sessions and seemed totally disinterested. I had a similar experience, and for $25 an hour, too.

At first I was furious but I kept by anger bottled up. Then one day I exploded and tore right into him. It was the worst tongue-lashing I had ever given any one. My doctor let me rant and rave for 10 minutes then he quietly said, "Good. Now we will get someplace."

My progress since that day has been amazing. People who seek professional help fool themselves if they talk only about what is polite and pleasant. You were wise to advise that patient to let the doctor have it. If she takes your advice she'll find, as I did, that there is real value in being honest about one's feelings.—UNCHAINED

Dear Unchained: Psychiatrists and analysts must be catching it from patients left and right. Many readers wrote along these same lines. Hooray for all of you!

Dear Ann Landers: About that old duffer who dashes for the picture window when the light next door goes on:

His wife probably resembles mine—a perfect 39-39-39 with a voice like a ton of gravel going down a coal chute. The old girl has let herself go till she looks like a mountain of lard. I've pleaded with her to do a little walking and bending, to cut down on the starches and get herself looking like a human being again—but it's a hopeless cause.

So when I want to see a beautiful female figure, what do I do? I go to our kitchen window at about 10:30 p.m. and there she is—a model in her early 30s who lives across the court. She wanders around in her scanties. Sometimes she does exercises, or sews or reads.

I've checked with other old duffers in this building and they enjoy the view, too. Of course, the woman is despised by every hog-fat, double-chinned wife in the building. They keep hoping she'll move. We hope she stays here forever.—NOT DEAD YET

Dear Yet: If this is proof that you are "not dead" I have news—you're not exactly living either. I've said it before and I'll say it again. Those who get their kicks viewing are sick, sick, sick.

Confidential to Two Bit Philosopher: I'm one myself and I disagree wholeheartedly with your notions. There can be no good or evil if there is not the freedom to choose. (Try this one out on your saxophone, Buddy.)

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Installation At Tulelake Legion Held

TULELAKE — Officers of the Auxiliary of Tulelake Post American Legion No. 64 were installed at a no-host dinner meeting at the Sportsman's Hotel recently.

Kay Phillips was reelected president. Other officers are Gladys Olchawa, first vice; Gladys Bergman, second vice; Marguerite Dayton, reelected secretary; Naomi Kurtz, treasurer; Fanny Ryckman, chaplain and installing officer; Frances Yost, historian; Bessie Metz, sergeant-at-arms; Kathleen Todd, marshal.

Executive committee members are Mabel Rogers, Cordelia Frailey, Cleo St. Peter, Arlene Campbell. Delegates to the state convention in San Bernardino are Kay Phillips, Marguerite Dayton, Naomi Kurtz. Alternates are Gladys Olchawa, Fanny Ryckman and Cordelia Frailey.

Officers of the Past Presidents Group of the auxiliary will be elected at a meeting of the auxiliary July 9 at the home of Mrs. Ryckman. Time will be 8 p.m.

Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Frailey, community service chairman, attended a district meeting at Burney recently.

Honor Paid To War Dead

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Republic of Korea paid tribute Tuesday to the 33,629 U.S. servicemen killed during the Korean War.

Korean Ambassador Kim Chung Yul, a former air force general, laid a wreath of carnations on the Tomb of the Unknowns in Arlington National Cemetery to honor those killed in combat, 29,517 dead from other causes, 5,178 listed as missing and 142,091 wounded during the three-year conflict.

FAMED BRIDGE

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The famed San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge was opened for traffic Nov. 12, 1936.

Floods Strike Area In India

CALCUTTA, India (UPI) — Heavy rains continued today in the Kamrup district of Assam state, where the Brahmaputra River already has covered seven villages, leaving three persons dead and 15,000 homeless.

State authorities ordered emergency relief measures for the area and sought to prevent further flooding by the famed "River of Sorrows."

CAUTION

FARGO, N.D. (UPI) — Treat power mowers with respect, warns the North Dakota State University College of Agriculture. It said power mowers in a recent year clipped 30,000 toes, 18,000 fingers and caused other injuries in about 70,000 accidents. Also, about 20,000 children were injured by flying objects thrown by rotary power blades.
