Odds Favor Suit Break

By OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

My old friend the unlucky expert really is unlucky. Other players make their own bad luck. He sits South today.

South wasted no time losing his slam. He won the club opening, cashed the ace of trumps and ace-king of spades, led a second trump to dummy, discarded his losing club on the queen of spades and played the ace and another diamond.

West won the trick and was unkind enough to lead a third round of trumps, whereupon South was able to ruff only one of his two remaining diamonds.

Had South stopped to think before he led the ace of trumps he would have noted that danger and considered the possibility of playing his ace and king of spades before leading even the ace of trumps.

Then he could have led a trump to dummy, taken his club discard and gone after diamonds. West would have gotten the lead, but would not been unable to lead a third trump because only one trump would have been played.

Of course, this play would lose if someone had ruffed the third spade but it was a far better play. The odds are 3 to 2 against a 2-2 break and better than 3 to 2 in favor of a 4-3 break. Hence South had taken a play with only a 40 per cent chance of success instead of one that had better than 60 per cent in its favor.

Collection On Tax Up

SALEM (UPI) — Tax Commission collections for fiscal 1962-63 totaled $123,130,618, a 9.1 per cent increase over fiscal 1961-62, it was announced today.

The 1961-62 figure was $112,874,072, the commission said, $10,256,546 less than for 1962-63.

For the 1961-63 biennium, collections from personal and corporation taxes were $233,775,542, an increase of 5.1 per cent from the $222,486,026 collected in the 1959-61 biennium.

Collections for the biennium were about $22 million less than had been anticipated by the 1961 legislature, the Tax Commission said.

Personal income taxpayers paid in 6.3 per cent more with receipts totaling $179,113,795 and $190,412,712 for 1959-61 and 1961-63, respectively.

Corporation payments, on the other hand, remained virtually unchanged with receipts for 1959-61 totaling $43,372,231 and for 1961-63, $43,362,830.

The commission noted that receipts from personal income and corporation excise and income taxes credited to the state's general fund rose 8.8 per cent from 1961-62 to 1962-63 while revenues from dedicated taxes jumped 38.8 per cent, due mainly to the first year's revenues from the Eastern Oregon severance tax.
