HOLD HEARING IN CHANCERY

Witnesses in Speckart Case Live in Portland.

In order to bring to a close as rapidly as possible the long drawn-out legal battle that Miss Hattie F. Speckart, now a resident of Portland, is making to get possession of the fortune left her by her father, from her uncle, Leopold Schmidt, a millionaire brewer of Olympia, Wash., testimony in rebuttal was taken yesterday before a master in chancery. The hearing was held in the offices of Martin L. Pipes, and was held here because a number of Miss Speckart's most important witnesses live in the city.

Miss Speckart, at the death of her father, had a fortune amounting to $180,000 left to her. She became of age some time ago and demanded her share of the estate. This was refused by her mother and her uncle, who alleged that Miss Speckart had agreed to lend Schmidt the money at 6 per cent interest to invest in the brewery business.

Miss Speckart denied this and began suit to recover her fortune. Neither Schmidt nor his wife attended the hearing, being afraid, it is said, to come to Portland because of a threatened suit for defamation of character. The next move in the case will be the arguments which will be made before Federal Judge H. C. Hanford.

Spain's Grandee an American Freshman

Philadelphia Press.

Enrolled among the freshmen at the University of Pennsylvania is a Spanish nobleman, the Marquis Carlos de Potestad, a youth of 18, who speaks English like a native of England, having attended school in that country for several years, and has already received his A. B. degree there. His family is one of the noblest in Spain, and his father occupies a high governmental position.

The business of a well-known firm of New York opticians consists largely of the manufacture of spectacles for horses to make them step higher.

Selz Shoes

are honestly made of leather

You'll find lots of shoes made now-a-days that are cheapened in little ways you can't see; hemlock instead of oak tanned soles; composition instead of leather heels; pieced counters instead of good solid sole leather.

We're strong for Selz Royal Blue Shoe because we don't have to watch that sort of thing; they're honest leather all through. Fall styles are here.

Selz Royal Blue Shoe $3.50, $4, $5
