STANDARD OIL IS HIT DEATH BLOW

SUPREME COURT ORDERS DISSOLUTION OF COMBINE IN SIX MONTHS.

TRUST CALLED MENACE TO TRADE

Government Wins Long Fight Against Rockefeller Corporations—Harrigan Dissents on Minor Point.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The Supreme Court today in a far-reaching opinion held that the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and all its subsidiary companies are a combination and a conspiracy in restraint of trade. The big oil trust was declared by the highest court to be operating through interstate commerce in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The court ordered the dissolution of the trust in six months. This is the culmination of a fight by the government to put down a combination said to be inimical to the industrial welfare of the country. The court interpreted the Sherman anti-trust law so as to limit its application to acts of "undue" restraint of trade and not "every" restraint of trade.

Justice Harlan dissented to this ruling on the ground that cases already decided by the court had determined that the word "undue" or "unreasonable" or similar words were not in the statute.

He said that the reasoning of the court in arriving at its finding was, in effect, legislation which belonged to Congress.

The decision of the court was unanimous on the main issue.

COMPANY G GOES INTO CAMP ON AUGUST 7

SOLDIER BOYS DELIGHTED OVER PROSPECT OF SEEING CENTENNIAL.

William R. Logus, First Lieutenant of Company G, Oregon National Guard, announced at the drill Monday night that the company would leave here to go into camp on August 7. He said that it had not been definitely decided whether the men would go to Astoria or Fort Stevens, but the soldier boys are hoping it will be the former place on account of the centennial exposition. They will be given an opportunity to see the exposition even if the camp is located at Fort Stevens. The company will be in camp ten days, returning to Oregon City on August 17.

The lieutenant urged that the attendance at the drills from now until the company leaves be as large as possible in order that a good showing can be made. The members are delighted over the prospect of going to Astoria during the centennial, and their interest is taken in the encampment.

PORTLAND MAN WILL BUY RAILROAD STOCK

CLACKAMAS LINE OFFERS FINE OPPORTUNITY; VISITOR DECLARES.

The directors of the Clackamas Southern Railway are meeting with more encouragement each day as the work progresses, and a large number of persons who have been backward about assisting in the work are now showing their faith in the enterprise and are arranging to take stock in the company. There is no valid reason why Clackamas County people should not help with this work for the investment would be on a paying basis and the stock would be worth twice the original cost.

Every man in Clackamas County should come in and take at least one share of stock at $50 per share and pay for it at $12.50 per month and before the autumn rains set in the road would be on a paying basis and the stock would be worth twice the original cost.

The officers of this company are devoting their time without salary and give written guarantees that every dollar paid in to the treasurer will be judiciously expended upon the construction work. What more could be asked?

WORK OF TEARING OUT BAR FRONTS BEGINS

ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR GLASS GOES INTO EFFECT JUNE 4

In compliance with the provisions of an ordinance recently passed by the Oregon City Council, the saloonkeepers Monday began tearing out the fronts of their places, to replace them with glass. The alterations must be completed by June 4. The entire fronts must be of glass with the exception of four feet from the floor. The ordinance also abolishes free lunches, card playing in rear rooms and dice throwing for drinks.

L. Ruonich, proprietor of "The Planet" at 619 Main street, the first to begin making the alterations, said that it would take only a few days to complete the work. The glass fronts must be placed four and one-half feet from the sidewalks. It is thought that the new law will keep many persons out of the saloons.

A petition to the Council and Mayor for the adoption of an anti-treating ordinance is being circulated, and the saloon men, while not making any public complaint, are known to be

IMPORTANT DEALS ARE MADE.

Professor Buchanan, of Canby School, Elliott & Son, real estate dealers, of this city, made several deals last week, among them being the following: The C. N. Lewis place of eight acres near Division street was sold to Professor Buchanan, of Canby, and he and his wife will take possession as soon as the Canby school closes. Mr. Buchanan is principal of that institution. This land is well adapted for farming purposes, and much of this ground is set-out in berry bushes.

The Sheer place at Mount Pleasant was also sold, the buyer being Mrs. Gage, of Hood River, who is contemplating making that her future home. There are 10 acres and most of it is under cultivation.

During the past month there have been many inquiries coming from Eastern states by persons who wish to locate here.

He furnished Chief of Police Shaw a good description of the robber, and the chief at once suspected Greenwood.

AUTO STRIKES BOY ON WHEEL

Lad Not Hurt and Men Pay For Damages to Bicycle.

Rennie Younger, 14 years of age, had a narrow escape from being run over by an automobile Monday afternoon while riding on his bicycle on Main street near the corner of Sixth. An automobile containing two men from Portland was passing along that street on its way to Portland. The car was going at a slow rate when it ran into the bicycle throwing the lad over the handle bars. He was uninjured, and the wheel was only slightly damaged, the repairs being paid for by the two men in the machine.

At the time of the accident there were several wagons passing, and the driver of the machine gave the alarm. The boy did not hear or see the car, and was just turning the corner. As soon as the autoist saw what had happened they brought the machine to a stop, and went down into their pockets to pay for the damaged wheel. No blame was attached to anyone, as it was purely accidental.

ROBBERS FOILED BY D. C. ROBBINS

HIGHWAYMEN TRY TO HOLD UP COMMISSION MERCHANT ON HILL STAIRWAY.

COMMAND TO STOP IS NOT HEEDED

Big Wallet Shown in Store Attracts Men Who Upon Being Outwitted, Make Their Escape.

Two men made a daring attempt to hold up and rob D. C. Robbins, manager of the Oregon Commission Company, as he was ascending the Fifth street stairway to the hill section of the city Sunday night. Mr. Robbins eluded the men. He had $150 in his pocket.

The commission merchant attended a moving picture theatre in the evening and afterward went into a drug store to make a purchase. He took from his pocket a large wallet which was evidently seen by the men who later attempted to hold him up. Mr. Robbins was attracted by the actions of the men as he left the drugstore, and decided to watch them. They passed him, and when he arrived at the stairway they paraded as he would have to walk between them. As he did so one ran under the stairway and the other followed him. At about the tenth step Mr. Robbins stopped and prepared to defend himself in case he was attacked. The man, however, passed by him, and turning, said "stop!"

Realizing that he was at a disadvantage, Mr. Robbins rushed down the stairway, and told of his experience to several friends. It is supposed that the man who followed Mr. Robbins intended to throw his booty to his companion, who lurked under the stairway, in case pursuit was given. One of the men had a black mustache and wore a black slouch hat drawn over his face. The men are thought to have been strangers in the city, and to have left immediately after the attempted hold-up.

The Portland boys started out with two scores and in the third copped two more, but in the next inning the Spokane aggregation got within one of Williams' team and in the fifth made four scores, which put it one to the good. The lead, however, did not last long, for in the seventh the Roadsters, by good stick work added three more runs to their score and sewed up the game.
