Salt and Tobacco.

Many smokers have adulterated their own tobacco. Parr sprinkled his pipeful with sait to make it last longer. And it does. Parr. one of the most leisurely of smokers and longest of livers, made his sailed pipe last an hour. There is a faint crackling as the salt burns, but no difference in the taste. And it was Lamb who, disdaining aduiterants, sat opposite and smoked in furious clouds. When Parr asked gently how he had attained this fierce dexterity the reply was characteristically Lamb's.
