Sleeping On Big Double Veranda On West Side

There are ten patients in the new Oregon City Hospital at Tenth and Washington streets, which shows the need for the institution. One of the patients has pneumonia, three typhoid fever and one a broken leg. The nurses, Mrs. M. B. Mesny and Miss E. V. Parks, assisted by Miss Ethel Greaves, of this city, who is a pupil nurse, have been rushed taking care of the patients, and those under their charge are receiving the best of care Miss S. R. A double ver-anda on the west side of the building has recently been completed, and this will be a most delightful place for patients in the summer. The veranda will be canvassed, and during the summer it is planned by the managers to have sleeping apartments constructed. The colorings of each room are attractive. Estacada wants a new jail. In fact the city needs it very badly and the public-spirited citizens of that town are ready to dig down in their pockets to assist in raising the necessary noney. The sum of $3,000 is needed to erect a structure such as would meet with the requirements for now the authorities cannot hold prisoners in the illy constructed bastile long enough to prosecute them, for the law the law are in a quandary. In fact, they are "up in the air." They are ready to do their duty but after an arrest the "plaything jail" makes a "monkey out of them," they say.

Estacada is planning a $3,000 jail of re-enforced concrete with four cells and a four-foot hallway. To carry out the ends urgently needed and that is why the matter is before the citizens.

Constable W. A. Jones of Estacada, is one of the champions for the new jail and in his conversation with Mayor J. W. Reed, of that town, he states that the latter said:

"We need a new jail badly. For the present time we could put in a steel cage in the City Hall, this of course being an emergency proposi-tion The cage would serve to protect the city better than at present and the purpose would be answered. As a permanent thing though it would be in the line of retrogression rather than progression." Estacada is also planning for 2,600

FOOTBALL CLUB TO GIVE DANCE TONIGHT

The Oregon City Football Club dance to be held this evening in Busch's Hall, blds fair to be unique in the annals of semi-public balls in Oregon City. Without exception every member of the team was born and reared in Oregon City, and because of this fact alone the older element of business people is especially interested in the welfare of the club. Contrary to the usual run of local Contrary to the usual run of local enterprises the football club has waited to "make good" before appealing to the public for support. An entire season of uninterrupted victories, not one opposing team scoring against the home boys, has not only gained the enthusiastic support of local sport-lovers, but has given the team considerable weight with outside

The demand for tickets indicates that a substantial appreciation of the purely disinterested work of the club will result in a big attendance at the dance tonight.

Manager White has organized an efficient floor corps, and has arranged for several novel effects which will undoubtedly add to the enjoyment of the evening.

CORONER PROBES 2 SUDDEN DEATHS

WILLIAM ARMSTRONG STRICKEN WITH APOPLEXY WHILE VISITING.

Coroner Wilson investigated Eriday the sudden deaths of two men, finding in both cases that death was due to natural causes. Joseph Koenig, fifty-three years of age, a bachelor, who lived alone at Oswego, was found dead in bed. William Armstrong, fifty-seven years of age, died at the home of his brother, J. W. Armstrong, on the West Side, two miles from Oregon City.

Koenig, who owned considerable property in Oswego, had been a mi-ner in Colorado, and Dr. Rosetter, who made an examination decided death was due to consumption. The body was found by Clifford Johnson and John Kisor. Mr. Koenig had lived in Oswego twenty years, but frequently went to Colorado to look after his mining interests.

While visiting a neighbor Mr Armstrong was stricken with apoplexy, and died soon after reaching his brother's home. Armstrong was in Oregon City Thursday and seemed to be in his usual good health. On his way home he stopped at the home of Louis Ford, and was induced to spend the night there. He did not respond when called Friday morning, and upon going to the room, Mr. Ford found his friend in an unconscious condition. Armstrong was rem his brother's home but died Dr. Mount, who was summone vestigation and found there were no provides certain protection for prisoners.
