The Question Has been Asked:

What effect will the European War have on my Fire Insurance in case I should suffer a Fire Loss?

And My Reply:

Your Fire Insurance Protection is just as safe with a so-called "Foreign Company" as its invested assets in the United States makes it.

Facts Worth Knowing:

The United States Branches of all "Foreign Companies" to all intents and purposes ARE AMERICAN COMPANIES, and are PROTECTED BY FUNDS in the hands of AMERICAN TRUSTEES—Citizens of the United States—of recognized standing and financial ability, and solely for the protection of AMERICAN POLICY HOLDERS.

The SECURITIES in which they must invest are well DEFINED BY LAW and are of a character that can be readily converted into cash in any emergency.

The funds of a "Foreign Company" cannot be withdrawn from the United States so long as it has a risk in this country upon its books.

Your Fire Insurance Protection is Safe with this Agency.

QUALITY AND QUANTITY

When it came to personally conducting a story that was a masterpiece in action, "THE SPOILERS" Wm. S. Hart gave entire attention and associated with the enterprise, to spare neither time nor expense to secure the best results possible. Producer Colin Campbell took to his task very literally and seriously, bringing forward every detail distinctly and with exactitude. In the original outlay, he filmed 14,500 feet, making in all 232,000 distinct photographs of the big moving story that restlessly drifts from Washington to the far-flung shores of the City of Nome, on the Bering Sea. Then began the work of most careful curtailing to reduce it to a normal size, practicable for an evening's entertainment. This scale finally settled upon nine reels, giving a grand aggregate of 144,000 distinct pictures, which seemed sufficient to cover the action of the work from prologue to finale with a firm, spirited grasp upon scene and situation. Primarily, a cast of unusual strength and caliber was secured, selected with a view to make the characters register impressively as soon as introduced. Studied care and unusual liberality was exercised to give the actual atmosphere and the real environment, so that the action should retain its integrity at all times.

"The Spoilers" will be given at the Star Theatre next Saturday afternoon and evening.

row boat except Mrs. Bolin, she stayed with the launch. After digging for a time Earl went with what they had to the launch returning again to the clam flat sticking the oar in the sand and tying the skiff to it. Mrs. Bolin soon noticed the skiff was loose and drifting away. Earl started to wade to it and saw the water was too deep, so he took off his boots and started to swim to it and when he had got within 10 feet of it he turned around like he was going back. Mr. Bolin called and ask him if he was coming back and he said yes, just at that moment he sank and never came up once.

Mr. Bolin had swam out to where he went down ready to help him when he came up, but could not see him so had to wait for help to come to his assistance. In getting to the launch he went to town and 50 men went to help drag the river and found the body at 5 p. m. The accident happened about 1 a. m. The doctor said that cramps was the cause. Earl had rooms in the house occupied by Mr. Bolin family and was much thought of by all.

Mrs. Bolin remarking that Earl spent his evenings with the family, he having an accordion and violin which he played well. He enjoyed his leisure time that way too and not on the streets as so many young men do.

Although Earl had been in our city only a few months he had many friends.
