Questions Answered.

It being impossible to answer all our numerous letters of inquiry by personal letters, we take this method of furnishing the information desired:

Question. Is there any government land to be had in the Willamette Valley?

Answer. Yes. In the foothills and mountains, which are mostly heavily timbered, though in some localities there have been big fires that have made it easy to place the land in a state of cultivation. Yet in reality distance and the surroundings make it unprofitable to most of the homesteaders with small means. The same in regard to school and railroad lands.

Q. Are there any wild Indians in Oregon?

A. No; all are on their reservations, or living on their farms, where they are in the different lines of agriculture, while their children are attending schools.

Q. Are there any poisonous snakes in the Willamette Valley?

A. In a few places in the foothills rattle snakes are sometimes found, but not often.

Q. What is the size of the Willamette Valley?

A. On an average it is 60 miles wide and 150 long.

Q. What is the general surface of the Valley?

A. Mostly level, open prairie with timber along the streams.

Q. Is the land in the valley all taken?

A. Yes; all fenced and mostly in cultivation, having been settled mostly for over forty years.

Q. Have you good roads?

A. Yes.

Q. What kind of timber have you?

A. Small grain, fruit vegetables, some stock in the valley proper, while in the foothills stock-raising is mostly followed.

A. Usually from one to two months, but some winters not at all.

Q. Can I trade my farm in the East for a farm in Oregon?

A. No.

Q. Can I rent a farm in the Willamette valley?

A. Farms are hard to get on shares, but they are being rented, and when offered they are quickly snapped up.

Q. What rent is being paid?

A Principally share rents—one third of crop.

Q. What interest does money bring?

A. From 6 to 10 per cent.

Q. What are the principal crops of Marion county?

A. Wheat, oats, barley, hay, potatoes, and fruits and vegetables of all kinds.

Q. Does stock and poultry raising pay?

A. Yes.

Q. Does fruit raising pay?

A. Yes; prunes, plums, cherries, apples, pears and peaches, and many other kinds of fruit and berries grow to perfection, the yield is immense and the crops never fail.

Q. How is Marion county watered?

A. By clear mountain streams.

Q. How deep are the wells?

A. From 10 to 50 feet.

Q. Is the water soft or hard?

A. Mostly soft and cold There is no alkali in Oregon except east of the Cascade mountains.

Q. Is the Willamette Valley healthy?

A. Yes; the death rate of Oregon is as low as that of any state in the Union.

Q. Have you free schools?

A. Yes.

Q. What is the length of terms taught?

A. In the towns generally nine months; in the country from four to nine.

Q. What wages are paid teachers?

A. In the towns $60 to $100; in the country $30 to $60 per month.

Q. How many organized school districts in Marion county?

A. 100.

Q. Is the county in debt?

A. No.

Q. What is the rate of taxation on farm property?

A. An average of 14 mills.

Q. What is the cost of living?

A. Just about the same on an average as it is in the middle states.

Q. What is the price of farm stock?

A. Horses well bred $100 to $200, common stock, $20 to $100. Cows, fine stock, $50 to $100; common stock, $20 to $50. Sheep, $1.50 to $2.

Q What are the wages paid in the Willamette valley?

A. Farm hands, $15 to $30 per month. In haying and harvesting $1.50 to $2.00 per day. Common laborers in town, $2 per day; carpenters, $3 per day; brick masons, $5; painters, $3; clerks and salesmen are paid from $25 to $75, while the experienced and many bookkeepers are paid from $100 to $150 per month. Q. What is the population of Salem?

A. 15,000.

Q. Which is the best part of Oregon?

The Willamette valley.

Q. What are lands worth per acre in Marion county?

A. In the foot hills and 15 to 20 miles east of Salem, from $5 to $30 per acre owing mostly to improvements.

On Howell prairie to 5 to 10 miles from Salem, and in the Waldo Hills from $15 to $85 per acre, and on Salem prairie from $50 to $100 per acre, while small suburban tracts can be had at from $125 to $500 per acre owing to situation and improvements.

Howell and Salem prairies are the Illinois and Ohio spots of the country. While Waldo Hills and the red hills favor Kentucky and Pennsylvania.

Q. Is there any malaria in the valley?

A. Very little. In the early settlement it prevailed to some extent in some localities, but has now almost entirely disappeared.

A. A great many people living on the Puget Sound, assert it is a bad country for fever and ague. The assertion is absolutely untrue. There is no healthier country under the sun, than the Willamette Valley, and its climate is peculiarly adapted to women and children, who have clear ruddy complexions that could not exist in a miasmatic country.
