"August Flower"

What is It For? This is the query perpetually on your little boy's lips. And he is no worse than the bigger, older, bother-headed boys. Life is an interrogation point. "What is it for?" we continually cry from the cradle to the grave. So with this little introductory sermon we turn and ask: "What is AUGUST FLOWER FOR?" As easily answered as asked: It is for Dyspepsia. It is a special remedy for the Stomach and Liver. Nothing more than this; but this lustrful. We believe August Flower cures Dyspepsia. We know it will. We have reasons for knowing it. Twenty years ago it started in a small country town. To-day it has an honored place in every city and country store, possesses one of the largest manufacturing plants in the country and sells everywhere. Why is this? The reason is as simple as a child's thought. It is honest, does one thing, and does it right along—it cures Dyspepsia. 6

THE SACRED THREE IN BIBLICAL HISTORY.

Number three is the first odd number, and occurs in all religious writings with striking frequency. God is triune, the Father, the Son and Holy Ghost. There are some who find a trinity throughout nature, as St. Patrick did in the shamrock. The triune plan of creation is seen in the earth, sea and air; the sun, moon and stars; the fish, birds and beasts; in the animal, mineral and vegetable kingdoms; in future, past and present time.

There have been three dispensations of truth—the patriarchal, the Jewish and the Christian. Adam and Noah each had three sons. There were three great patriarchs—Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. The commandments were delivered on the third day. The length of Solomon's temple was three times its breadth. Elijah stretched himself three times upon the widow's child before bringing him to life. David bowed three times before Jonathan. Jonah was in the whale's interior three days.

Three wise men came from the east to adore the infant Saviour, bringing with them three offerings. The child was found after three days in the temple. Three apostles were with the Saviour at the transfiguration and three in the Garden of Gethsemane. Peter was asked three times "Lovest thou me?" and denied his master three times. Our Lord found the disciples sleeping three times in the garden. He was nailed to the cross with three nails, hung on the cross three hours and rose again on the third day.—Chicago Herald.

A MOB CHASES A WOMAN.

Thirty or forty years ago a New Orleans mob uprose in behalf of a negro slave and undertook to avenge his cruel treatment. Not only this; they pursued and would have hanged the owner of the unfortunate slave. That owner was a beautiful woman, immensely wealthy and the giver of sumptuous entertainments. The story is one of the most thrilling in the history of the city.

It was whispered that the lady in the case ill treated certain of her slaves, kept them chained in a dungeon and subjected them to starvation. She was, however, a woman of great wealth and influence, and managed to quiet these rumors. A fire occurred on her estate. Whether started by some of the slaves or not is not recalled. When citizens flocked to the place and began to tear down the burning building the awful evidence of the maltreated slaves met their eyes. One of the poor creatures was chained.

The fury of the mob was fearful. They besieged the palace of the beautiful woman, who, with unparalleled boldness, ordered her coachman to drive to her door, and dressed in her most brilliant costume, and with as much composure as if she were taking her usual evening drive, stepped in and directed the coachman to whip up his horses. The mob followed, but she distanced them. She managed to make one of the ships in the harbor and escaped to Paris.—Richmond State.

ONE OLD SHOE.

We have been shown a curious shoe, owned by N. B. Bunker, of Newburyport. It was found in an old house recently demolished, which was built in 1700. The upper is of calfskin, and closed with wax threads. The sole and heel are of one piece, and made of wood. The upper is fastened to the sole with common iron tacks, the edge of the sole being mortised the thickness of the upper leather to receive it. Across the toe the tacks are brass. On the under edge of the sole from the instep is a band of iron like a miniature horseshoe, channeled to receive the nails. The heel may have been similarly shod, but if so it has been worn off, and the wooden heel is well rounded by wear. The shoe is fastened by an iron clasp, which in its day was somewhat ornamental. It is one of the curiosities of footwear, and we would like to know its history.—Lynn (Mass.) Item.

A SHORT TALKER.

Frederick William III, King of Prussia, and great-grandpater of the present emperor, was extremely averse to long speeches, and talked, whenever it was possible, in infinitives only. While taking the waters of Teplitz he heard of a Hungarian magnate who never made long speeches. "Must be decent fellow. Like to know him," muttered the king, and when a day or two afterward the Hungarian met him on his walk the king stepped up to him, and the laconic following conversation took place: "Bathe?" "Take waters." "Soldier?" "Magnate." "Indeed?" "Policeman?" "King." "Congratulate." And they each went on their way well satisfied.—Pall Mall Gazette.

THREE IN THE BIBLE AND IN BASEBALL.

The number three runs all through the story of the Bible. There are three theological virtues—faith, hope and charity. The triangle is of the utmost important in mathematics. In every syllogism there are three parts. That three is a lucky number is a common saying. Franklin says that three removes are as bad as a fire. In our great national game the rule is "three strikes and out."—Chicago Herald.

AFTER THE HONEYMOON.

Anxious Mother—Why, my dear, what's the matter?

Married Daughter—Boo, hoo! My hus—husband doesn't lov—love me any more."

"Mercy on us! How do you know?"

"He's—he's stopped kicking my (boo, hoo!) Fi — Fi — Fido."—New York Weekly.

A letter from Durango, Mexico, says that Sunday, July 5, while the Methodists were laying the cornerstone of a new church, a riot occurred between the citizens of that faith and the Catholics. The Rev. Gilmore, who officiated, said: "My friends, for the sake of that gentle Christian, in whom we all believe, let us proceed in peace." Scarcely had he finished when he was knocked senseless by a stone, which struck him on the head. Policemen dispersed the crowd before further injury was done. The letter further says American residents of Durango have called on their government for protection, and that the more ignorant among the Catholic residents declare services shall never be held in the new church.

Middletown, O., has a midnight marriage sensation, following an elopement, in which Dr. Charles V. Hardlasky, formerly of Portland, Or., and the Dayton, O., National Military Soldiers' home, and pretty 16 year old Marie Louise Michle are the principals. The fugitive couple arrived in Middletown at ten minutes before midnight Wednesday night, and roused Squire Hedding from a sound sleep. They told the sleepy squire, with much agitation on the part of the young man, and tears on the part of the young lady, that they wanted to be married at once. They had a license from the Lebanon, O., courts. The squire married them on the spot. Dr. Hardlasky graduated two years ago at Cincinnati's prominent medical school, standing second in his class. After graduation he was appointed on the corps of physicians of the Soldiers' home at Dayton, which place he held for one year. During this time he became acquainted with Miss Michle, who is a daughter of Captain Michle, the quartermaster of the home. Owing to the youth of the daughter the captain objected to the attentions of Dr. Hardlasky, who, after severing his connection with the hospital, went to his father, a prominent business man of Portland, Or. Last Thursday he returned to Dayton. Making his presence known to his selected, they managed to meet. They finally went to Middletown, where they have friends residing. They then planned and carried out the marriage. Captain Michle has not yet forgiven them.

1,500 MILES.

But She Got It.—A Sample of Letters Daily Received.

Only those who have tried it can know what it is that prompts one to send 1,500 miles for it to get it again. Here is another of many such instances:—

DEAR SIRS: I send $5, for which please return a half dozen of your vegetable sarsaparilla. I have moved here from Placer City, Cal. I took three bottles before leaving, hence I send all the way back to California for more. It was just before I left Placer City, about a year ago, that I began to feel very miserable. My skin was very yellow, and I was all pains and aches, especially under my shoulders and in my head. The doctor said it was my liver, and gave me some medicine which relieved me somewhat. One of my neighbors happened in and told me she had started to take Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, and advised me to try it. I did, and with such good effect that I now feel like a new being. I have persuaded one of my neighbors here to take it, so part of this is for her and part for myself.

MRS. GEO. DELBRIDGE,
Butte City, Montana.

The dealer, who has not tried it, has no idea what the vegetable juices in this remedy will do for disordered systems.

WHY DID HE GO?

A St. Louis Merchant's Trip to the Postoffice, and the Result.

California's last sensation is beginning to take hold of St. Louis. J. V. S. Barrett, the commission merchant of 122 and 124 North Commercial Street, was one of the first to test Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla in sick headaches. Its effect was such a gratifying surprise that he went over to the postoffice and told his friend, Thos. P. Culkin, asst of the registry division, who was also worried with headaches. The following letter details his friend's experience also:—

POSTOFFICE, ST. LOUIS, Feb. 20, 1890.

J. V. S. BARRETT, Esq.:—

DEAR SIR: You ask me, Did I act on your advice? I did, and have to thank you. For years I have suffered from indigestion and headaches. Taking your advice, I purchased a bottle of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. Before I had finished it I could eat almost anything with impunity, and have been since nearly troubled with a headache of any kind, for which I give the credit to your advisement of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla.

Yours, etc.,

THOS. P. CULKIN,
Asst Registry Division, Postoffice.
