ACCOMMODATION INSUFFICIENT

Scores of People From Distant Localities Visit Cannon Beach.

ECOLA, Cannon Beach, Or., Aug. 2.—(Special.)—As the season advances Cannon Beach residents realize more than ever the necessity for larger and better accommodations for visitors. The present season brings scores of people from distant localities, finding here an ideal location for summer recreation.

Cannon Beach includes nine miles of sandy seashore sheltered between the points north and south, reaching far out into the sea, with cottages and tent houses scattered along the bluff under the spruce and pine trees, with attractions of forest and beach sufficiently diverse to suit all temperaments.

A number of Idaho people are enjoying the attractions of Cannon Beach this season. Mrs. F. H. Brandt and daughters, Gretchen and Paula of Boise, Idaho, are located at Ecola Inn. Dr. Brandt spent several days with his family during July.

Mrs. J. E. Burgy and son of Hagerman, Idaho, are also at the inn. Mr. Burgy will join his family later in the season. Mrs. E. S. Sensenig and daughters, Misses Myrtle and Kathryn of Boise, are housed in one of the Cornell cottages for a month. Mrs. T. C. Hollingshead and son, Robert, are located in this locality.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris Fritchman, also of Boise, spent a few days at the Warren. Mrs. Henry Irwin of Payette, Idaho, and Lalla Bedford of Caldwell, Idaho, are guests in Elk Creek Park.

Miss Lura Hendricks of Nelson, Neb.; Frank Smith of Shenandoah, Ia., and Miss Mary Palmer of Delwin, Ia., are late arrivals here.

A merry party consisting of Mrs. J. A. Marlitt and son, Mrs. Clyde Raabe and son, Mrs. Carl Johnson, are enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Walter McWaters at her summer home, Sunset Lodge, one of the most attractive homes of this locality, situated near the entrance to Elk creek, overlooking the ocean.

F. I. Fuller and wife, accompanied by Mrs. Fuller's mother, Mrs. S. J. Parrish, who motored from Portland, spending a few days as guests at Ecola Inn, have recently returned home.

Leonard F. Fuller also motored down in company with W. R. Cornell and family. The party were guests at the Cornell home in Elk Creek Park.

Professor John Bently, instructor of engineering in the forestry department of Cornell university, was the guest of Mr. Fuller and Mr. Cornell on a three days' hike to Neah-kah-nie.

Mrs. J. C. Gripper and family have returned to Portland after a month's stay at the Parks cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woodfield of Astoria have opened their Blue Bird cottage for the season. Mrs. John Kopp and family of Bozeman, Mont., and Mrs. Harriet Boord of Portland are guests at Brownies' Court.

Mrs. L. Allen Lewis and daughter, Miss Clementine, Misses Caroline and Louise Flanders and Mrs. Rodney Glisan have opened their summer homes at Ecola Point for the season. Mrs. Arthur Minott and Robert Minott are guests at the point.

Mr. and Mrs. Holt Aplin and niece, Miss Katherine Patt, are comfortably housed in Mrs. Dakins' cottage.

Miss Margery and Thelma Reed with Miss Edith Williams and Agnes Crowther of Portland are having a grand good time keeping house in the Reed cottage.

Mrs. R. J. Quick and children of Tacoma, Wash., and Miss Essie McCrank are among the late arrivals at Ecola Inn.

Mrs. C. M. Clarke, Miss Beryl Clarke, with Mrs. W. O. Hadley and Miss Elizabeth Hadley and Miss Marie Slusher, all of Hood River, are housed in the Clarke cottage at Elk Creek enjoying the beach attractions for the remainder of the season.

Mrs. G. J. Montgomery, with Mrs. Simpson and daughter Robinette, all of Portland, are occupying Idyl Nook for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Powell and daughter, Mrs. J. R. Ferris, with her little son, are at the Powell home for an indefinite stay. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Britts and son Edward were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Powell for a week recently.

Mrs. Edgar Gearhart and children of Astoria are occupying their cozy cottage near Sylvan Point.

Miss Alma Ekstrom of Astoria, a prominent nurse in reconstruction work, is visiting her family at the White house.

Among recent arrivals are Mrs. Frank Wellington Gilbert of New Haven, Conn.; Miss Antoinette Mears, Mrs. C. L. Reed and daughter Dorothy, Mrs. Theodore Brown, Miss Jennie Rippy, Miss Post, Miss L. Groshen, J. J. Chipman and wife, Mrs. Frank Hak and daughter, Blain M. Smith and family, Harry Stipe and family, Miss Antoinette Wagner and Mrs. Wagner, all of Portland.

Mrs. D. C. Lugnasee and daughter Jane, Mrs. C. F. Ungerman and daughter Barbara of Astoria are spending the season in Tolovana park.

Miss Vivian Johnson is the guest of Miss Florence Gradon at the Gray den.

COTTAGERS LEAD BUSY LIFE

Variety of Interests at Gearhart Claim Time in Strenuous Fashion.

GEARHART, Or., Aug. 2.—(Special.)—There is no lull in the busy lives of cottagers at Gearhart, for the variety of interests claim their time in strenuous fashion. Unless the visitor has an unusual amount of will power, the opportunity for a very quiet life is not appreciable—the busy life of the resort seems to claim every resident. In addition to the beach bathing, walking, crabbing and clamming, there are the golf links, tennis courts, good horses and interesting bridle paths, several scenic motor trips, Seaside and its dance pavilion and shops, the swimming tank and besides all these things, the cottages themselves are designed for house parties, dinners, luncheons and dances and entertaining is again in vogue as before the war.

North Head Lighthouse, At Mouth of Columbia River

By way of diversion, several Gearhart cottagers held a tournament on the golf links last week, arranging their own handicaps and managing the jolly contest. At the close three claimed the trophy and they finally drove for a certain hole, the nearest ball being that of the winner. Mrs. Walter Cook triumphed over Henry Metzger and Arnold Blitz. Those who participated were: Bert Levy, M. Rosenblatt, Henry Metzger, Arnold Blitz, E. J. Jaeger, R. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Fenn, Fred Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cook and Miss Mabel Beck.

Mrs. Coe McKenna, who is summering at Gearhart, has brought her horse, Flashlight, down, and spends much of her time on the bridle paths of the surrounding country.

Miss Alberta Bair was entertained at the home of Mrs. Thomas Kerr in Gearhart last week end.

Among the men who journeyed to the beach for the week end were Al Sullivan, Leonard Greer, George Stanley and Oliver Huston.

Mrs. Nancy Zan Scott is summering at Gearhart.

A paper chase of five miles was the diversion of one morning for several young Gearhart beach visitors. Honors went to Miss Dorothy McBride and Miss Florence Prudhomme.

James Cook came to the seacoast for the week end.

Miss Dorothy Strowbridge returned to the beach recently after a short stay in Portland.

Miss Dorothy Levy of San Francisco is the house guest of Mrs. Lloyd Frank for the balance of the season.

Mrs. Max Hirsch has as her guest Mrs. M. Hirsch.

Several matrons enjoyed a bridge party recently, at which Mrs. Joseph Goodman was hostess.

Mrs. Frank Ransom and son Bobby are visiting Mrs. Sam Slocum at her pretty cottage.

Miss Betty Labbe was hostess at a birthday party Tuesday. A number of the very youngest set participated in the merry affair.

Miss Helen Haseltine was the guest of Miss Martha Whiting, who is spending the season at the coast.

Youngsters seem to take to the water like so many little ducks at Gearhart and the lesson in swimming and diving by Miss Millie Schloth is an important event in the week's routine. Among the children who are studying strokes and dives under Miss Schloth are Tom and Don Kerr, Nancy Honeyman, Louise Labbe, Laura Warren, Arthur Sherwood, Tommy Robertson, Bobby Ransom, Dorothy McBride and little Bertha Grover. Bertha has progressed to backward somersaults and flips and the medium high dive. Other young visitors who frequent the natatorium are Freddy Martin, Mary Louise and Elizabeth Zan, Priscilla House, Flora Jane McBride, Ruth Bruere, Jack Marshall, Virginia and Donald Slocum, Julian Corbett and James Van Schuyver.

A delightful visit at Gearhart is being enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Falk and Mrs. Nathan Falk of Boise, who are with Mrs. Max Hirsch.

Miss Marian Bichel is the house guest of Miss Bertha Goodman.

After a pleasant stay at the seashore, Mrs. Sigmund Frank has returned to Portland. She was the guest of Mrs. Lloyd Frank.

Golfers at Gearhart were interested in the coming of Russel Smith and Ned Ayer, crack players who made the course several times. The presence of Portland's well-known players was an added impetus to the cottage colony.

Mr. and Mrs. John Daly have returned to Gearhart after an interesting motor trip through British Columbia.

R. A. Stewart was a week-end visitor at Gearhart. Henri Labbe also spent the Saturday and Sunday at the resort.

Mrs. Jordan Zan has returned to her Gearhart cottage to remain for the balance of the season.

Dr. Samuel Slocum passed the week end with his family. Dr. George Marshall spent the end of the week at Gearhart.

CLAMBAKE AT BAR VIEW

Hundreds of People From Various Beaches Join in Festivities.

BAR VIEW, Or., Aug. 2.—(Special.)—The Bar View community acted as hosts to all the beaches at a mammoth clambake and dance, Wednesday night. A complimentary supper consisting of delicious cockle clams, baked to a turn in the rock pit, crackers and wienerwursts in inexhaustible quantities was served to the hundreds of people who attended. The guests danced to the excellent music furnished by the Earl Fuller Jazz band until daylight.

A weekly feature of Bar View merrymaking which is rapidly gaining in popularity is the Monday evening excursion to Bay Ocean. Last Monday evening three launches full of young people crossed the bay, enjoyed a swim in the natatorium then repaired to the Bay Ocean hotel for dinner and a delightful evening's dancing.

Bathing in Smith's lake is this year more than ever a popular sport. The large sand dunes protecting the outlet form a natural wind break, allowing the groups which daily disport in the warm water, grateful protection from the cool northwest breeze.

The abundant supplies of driftwood, a rare luxury at beach resorts, invites Bar View vacationists to accept the opportunity for frequent beach bonfires. Many of these parties were held during the past week, at one of which fancy dancing numbers by Mrs. Arnold of Portland elicited much favorable comment.

A crab supper and "500" party given by Mrs. H. Thatcher and Mrs. J. P. Van Overn of Portland Friday evening at Welcome Inn was much enjoyed by the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. C. Klingensmith, Mr. and Mrs. L. Martin, Mr. Seagul, Mr. and Mrs. F. Schulpins, Marguerite Schulpins, all of Portland, and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Blaker of Bar View. The prize for highest score at "500" was won by Mrs. Blaker. So great was the success of the evening that the hostesses gave another similar party a few evenings later at the Cottage Home restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Poppleton and family of Oswego will remain at their cottage until September 15.

Registered at Villa camp are Mr. and Mrs. James Johnston, Alan and Elsie Johnston, Mrs. Hyronemus, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Arneson, Mr. and Mrs. Pringle and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Schellenburg and daughter Genevieve, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Musgrove and family, Mrs. N. W. Russell and daughter Marguerite, Herbert Morden and Talbot Todd, all of Portland.

CLAMS AND CRABS PLENTIFUL

Extremely Low Tide Gives Vacationists Appreciated Opportunity.

TWIN ROCKS, Or., Aug. 2.—(Special.)—The extremely low morning tides just preceding and following the new moon gave vacationists last week much-appreciated opportunities for securing clams and crabs. Even before daylight parties equipped with shovels, rakes and sacks could be seen hurrying afoot and by auto toward the Nehalem river jetty or the flats of Tillamook bay, and all returned with abundant supplies of delicious seashore delicacies.

Motoring leisurely by the Grand Ronde road to the Tillamook beaches, making frequent stops at the various points of interest, a jolly party of Portlanders composed of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cassell, and Mr. and Mrs. George Matthews made a three days' halt at Camp All-In last week. They reported the roads good and fishing in the Trask river excellent. Later the party will return by way of Seaside and Astoria.

An enjoyable bonfire party to which all the children on the beach were invited was given by Mrs. J. B. Middleton Sunday evening. The youngsters romped on the sand to their hearts' content, then gathered around the fire to toast marshmallows.
