Would state warrants on a fund that doesn't exist be as good as duplicate vouchers? These vouchers show exactly what the claim is for, and what rate is paid for services or supplies, and the legislature that must eventually pay them can tell just what the state received for them, whereas a warrant represents nothing except a demand for money from a fund that never existed. Furthermore, how can the state compel a party to accept such a warrant, which is not sure of being paid? How could persons who hold vouchers six months old get interest for that time on a warrant issued for that claim?

If a man is put into a county office by a gang, the ring roots his bills. When he gets in he must be paid back. To pay back he must steal from the people. Is it any different in state or national matters?

The Shakers have made a discovery which is destined to accomplish much good. Realizing that three-fourths of all our sufferings arise from stomach troubles, that the country is literally filled with people who cannot eat and digest food, without subsequently suffering pain and distress, and that many are starving, wasting to mere skeletons, because their food does them no good, they have devoted much study and though to the subject, and the result is this discovery of their Digestive Cordial.

A little book can be obtained from your druggist that will point out the way of relief at once. An investigation will cost nothing and will result in much good.

Children all hate to take Castor Oil, but not Laxol, which is palatable.

Sleep

Induced by the use of coca, opiate or narcotic compounds is bad, decidedly bad. They undermine health and shatter the constitution and the patient is steadily growing into a worse condition—often resulting in the terrible slavery and misery of the morphine and opium habit. Sleep induced by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla does not perhaps come as quickly, but it comes more surely and more permanently through nature's great restoring and rejuvenating channel—purified, vitalized and enriched blood. This feeds the nerves with life-giving energy and builds up the system and constitution from the very foundation of all health and life—the blood—pure, rich, red blood.

Something About Salmon Brown.

From C's. letter in the Oregon State Journal:

Talk as you please all men are, to a certain extent, hero-worshipers. We all love to talk about or hear about our heroes. We all have our favorites. Hero-hero-worshiper as I am I went over the other day and shook the large, brawny, honest, patriotic hand of Salmon Brown, a son of the immortal John Brown, at his home in Salem, and stood for an hour a delighted listener to his accounts of the fights and terrible times in Kansas in the fifties, and all the more because I love the immortal spirit of the father than any particular interest in his narrative. Salmon Brown has as fine a face and eye as I have ever looked into. As brave as the mightiest lion that ever was seen and as honest as Jesse the Nazarene. A large man like his father and brothers, with great big strong looking arms, one of which is not strong on account of a slavery bullet hole through it. Salmon Brown looks very much like his famous father. His big, full, long beard, which has been sandy, is now whitening to gray, but his clear, honest, snapping, blue-gray eyes have lost none of their courage and show, I fancy, much of the heroism of their illustrious ancestor. He is a man past sixty now and when I called upon him he was hoeing in the garden; great large beads of perspiration were trickling down from his forehead and that part of his face and cheeks not covered with his great whiskers was red and healthful looking. He stopped hoeing a few minutes, leaned forward on the hoe handle, and told about how his father and brothers and himself fought the pro-slavery people in Kansas before the war; how in one of these border fights the slavery people captured one of the Brown brothers, lashed him by the arms between two saddle horses and dragged him in a gallop nine miles, how when finally released this same brother served as a loyal Union soldier during the entire war. Salmon Brown has been in California most of the time since the war engaged in the sheep raising business and was rich in sheep and other property when the hard times set in and he "broke up," as the saying goes, and came to Oregon. He is now, as our esteemed gold standard friends would say, "crazy on the financial question," and might like a few more of us be classed as a Free-Silver Protectionist. He voted twice for Lincoln and has voted for every Republican president since Lincoln, except the present one. Although he disliked Bryan's free trade proclivities he voted for him because he says he thought Bryan more nearly represented the plain common people. There is one important point about the Brown family which ought not to be overlooked. They are fifth, sixth or forty-eleventh cousins of Ex-President Grover Cleveland, a fact of which Salmon Brown says he is very much ashamed. The two immortals, John Brown and Grover Cleveland, are linually descended from a common ancestor. But enough of this rambling gossip. I am glad to know Salmon Brown and think that I can better appreciate these lines:

"John Brown's body lies a mouldering in the grave.
But his soul goes marching on."

STATE NEWS.

Seven contracts have been let by the county Pub this week to E. K. Gilbert, of Fall City, for building bridges.

Miss Anabel Kelly, of Pleasant Hill, Lane county, accidentally took rough medicine for a dose of liniment that contained aconite. Only prompt measures saved her life.

Joaquin Miller, the well known poet, is enroute to Dawson City, the center of the Klondyke mining district, as a special correspondent of the San Francisco Examiner.

The corner stone of the new St. Peter's church in The Dalles will be laid next Sunday at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Right Rev. Archbishop W. Gilmo H. Gross will perform the the ceremony.

E. Sutter, who is putting up a large sawmill at Dallas and has three flood flumes in the La Creole river for running logs, has been enjoined by Mrs. M. E. Hallock from using one of the flumes that is built on her property.

A sleek scoundrel is working the school districts of some portions of the state, says the Huntington Herald. He claims to be selling a handsome new edition of Webster's dictionary. His price is very low, and in every order he demands an advance payment. It is needless to say that he is never heard from thereafter.

Three men were out in Astoria at 11 o'clock Monday night witnessed a strange sight, says the Astorian. There suddenly appeared in the east an illuminated or phosphorescent cloud, shaped like a man's hand. It rapidly grew in size, until it spread over the whole sky, and almost simultaneously a cold wind sprang up. Fishermen on the river noticed the occurrence and spoke of it.

D. G. Barrett, a Cutter employed in the Eugene Tannery, got his apron caught in a shaft and before the machinery could be stopped he was wound around the shaft and kept in that position for 20 minutes before he could be cut loose. His left leg was broken and he was otherwise badly bruised and cut. He will recover, though he had a narrow escape.

According to the report of the treasurer of Jackson county, he has on hand $8801.30 belonging to the various funds as follows: County fund, $2,294.66; school, $5,057.34; indigent soldiers, $123.54; special, $39.80; road, $40.32; institute, $41.75; surplus from tax sales, $77.22; school district No 1, $62.16; 5, $297.42; 6, $31.69; 25, 14.40; 29, $25.73; 36, $3.47; 49, $222.42; 57, $74.29; 58, $178.74; 60, $2.87; 70, $125.54; 71, 1.34; city of Jacksonville, $33.50; Medford, $305.57; Ashland, $273.96.

Eternal Vigilance.

Is the price of perfect health. Watch carefully the first symptoms of impure blood. Cure boils pimples, humors and scrofula by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Drive away the pains and aches of rheumatism, malaria and stomach troubles, steady your nerves and overcome that tired feeling by taking the same great medicine.

Hood's Pills are the best family cathartic and liver tonic. Gentle, reliable, sure.

Fruit shipment from The Dalles began auspiciously at least. The Dalles Commission Co's short return just received from Cleveland, Ohio, from the sale of a car-load of peach plums that averaged $1 per box. This is one of three cars of peach plums sent to different Northwestern points, returns from which are not yet in. This company is already shipping melons to Portland and Spokane, also tomatoes. They estimate that about 40 full cars of plums and prunes will go from this point, also 7 or 8 cars of peaches.—T. M.

"You Don't Become a Slave to their Use!"

The above words have been truthfully spoken concerning Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets by one who has had abundant opportunity to observe their more favorable action as compared with that of other pills.

Most pills and medicines in use for constipation, in the long run, "make a bad matter worse." Unlike such agents, Dr. Pierce's Pellets exert such a tonic or strengthening effect upon the membranes of the stomach and bowels, as to produce lasting benefit. Their use can, therefore, be gradually discontinued. With most pills the longer they are taken, the more dependent upon their use the patient becomes. Not so with the "Pellets." Their secondary effect is to keep the bowels open and regular, not to further constipate. Hence, their great popularity with sufferers from habitual constipation.

The Pellets cure costiveness, or constipation, biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, sour stomach, loss of appetite, coated tongue, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. One little "Pellet" is a laxative, two are mildly cathartic.

They are tiny, sugar-coated granules; any child will readily take them. Sold by all dealers.

CURED OF PARALYSIS

Carlos F. Shepard, a Member of the Indianapolis Board of Trade, is About Once More.

A Case of Weighty Interest to Anyone Suffering With Nervous Complaints, for the Patient was Cured by "Feeding" the Nerves. This is a New Term in Medicine.

From the News, Indianapolis, Ind.

One of the best known men about the Indianapolis Board of Trade is Carlos F. Shepard, who for several years has been connected with the house of H. E. Kinney, grain broker. Mr. Shepard is a Huff, hearty, old gentleman of medium height, gray-headed and with a mustache like a French veteran. He is a man of very decided views on all subjects and is especially outspoken in politics and medicine. Notwithstanding his firmness in his convictions and the vigor with which he maintains them he is a man of many friends for manly men, even though sometimes stubborn in their opinions, have the force of character that win admiration and friendship.

Six or four months ago when the news came to his old associates on the Board of Trade that Mr. Shepard had received a stroke of paralysis and that the probabilities were that his days of usefulness were over, and that perhaps, his hours were numbered, the deepest sympathy went out to the smitten man and his family. It seemed to all his friends almost impossible that this rugged old man, always so vivacious, hearty and cheerful, always a picture of health for could have been so suddenly laid low. But it was true and many weeks passed before his well-known form and kindly face returned to its former business haunts. His re-appearance was made the occasion of a hearty welcome and the story of his illness and recovery is well worth the telling.

"I was taken sick," said Mr. Shepard, "on the 17th of August, 1895. As I had all along been of the opinion that I was made of iron, you may well believe that it was hard for me to entertain the thought that I was to be laid up for more than a day or two. I am 59 years old, and for 40 years up to the time of this attack, I had not had a day's sickness. The doctors who diagnosed my case saw at once that it was something serious. They at first said that it was lumbago then acute rheumatism. They finally came to the conclusion they did not know what was the matter with me. I experienced no pain, my head was clear, my appetite good, but I lost the use of myself from my hips down. This was a hard stroke to an active man who has always had an easy going pair of legs. My brother-in-law, who is a physician, came from a neighboring city to see me. He pronounced my affliction to be locomotor ataxia. I am of the opinion that he diagnosed the case correctly for I was absolutely paralyzed from the hips down.

"Before he came, however, a day or so before I had begun taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. This was on the 20th day of last October. I read an article in the Indianapolis News and saw testimonials describing cases cured that were similar to mine. It struck me that the remedy could not do me any harm and I began to take the pills.

"Before I began taking them I could not stir a peg, but had to be carried from place to place. I had not got far into the first box when I felt that deliverance from my enforced inaction had come. Before I finished the second box I was able to walk alone with the aid of a cane. Albert home I do not use a cane now but when I come out on the slippery pavements I feel that I need a little support to make my footing sure.

"I am still using Williams' Pink Pills, but I have reduced the dose to one after each meal. It seems that I have been able to throw some discredit on the predictions of my doctors thanks to the pills. They said I could never walk again but here I am, and I think the credit must be given to the pills. It is said the pills are stimulating, but I cannot say that they give me any sensations that I am aware of. They merely cure and that is quite enough for me.

"Since I have been out I have been a walking advertisement for Williams' Pink Pills. I suppose I have recommended them to at least a hundred persons. What? You want to print all this? Why, my dear sir, I never gave a recommendation to any proprietary medicine before in my life. Perhaps it may not be a bad thing to do so this time if it will help any sufferer to regain health and bodily activity."

Carlos F. Shepard has been a resident of Indianapolis for over twenty years. He lives at No. 729 East Ohio Street. He has always been an active, enterprising man and his many friends will rejoice that he has literally been put upon his feet again. He is not only well-known locally but to grain shippers all over Indiana and Illinois.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are an unfailing remedy for all diseases arising from a poor and watery condition of the blood, such as pale and sallow complexion, general muscular weakness, loss of appetite, depression of spirits, lack of ambition, anæmia, chlorosis or green sickness, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath on slight exertion, coldness of hands or feet, swelling of the feet and limbs, pain in the back, nervous headache, dizziness, loss of memory, feebleness of will, ringing in the ears, early decay, all forms of female weakness, leucorrhœa, early or irregular periods, suppression of menses, hysteria, paralysis, locomotor ataxia, rheumatism, sciatica, all diseases depending on vitiated humors in the blood, causing scrofula, swelled glands, fever sores, rickets, hip-joint disease, hunchback, acquired deformities, decayed bones, chronic erysipelas, catarrh, consumption of the bowels and lungs, and also for invigorating the blood and system when broken down by overwork, worry, disease, excesses and indiscretions of living, recovery from acute diseases, such as fevers, etc., loss of vital powers, spermatorrhœa, early decay, premature old age. These pills are not a purgative medicine. They contain nothing that could injure the most delicate system. They act directly on the blood, supplying to the blood its life-giving qualities by assuring it to absorb oxygen, that great supporter of all organic life. In this way the blood, becoming "built up" and being supplied with its lacking constituents, becomes rich and red, nourishes the various organs, stimulating them to activity in the performance of their functions, and thus to eliminate diseases from the system.

These Pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapper at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, and are never sold in bulk. They may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company. The price at which these pills are sold makes a course of treatment inexpensive as compared with other remedies.
