HERPICIDE

BEAUTY IS NEVER COMPLETE without a thick, luxuriant head of soft, glossy hair, which is in truth "woman's crowning glory." The faithful use of Newbro's Herpicide never fails to produce hair of this character, for, by destroying the deadly germs that feed upon the oil of the hair root, it makes dandruff, falling hair and all scalp diseases impossible. It then promotes a new and thick growth to replace the old thin, brittle hair.

One bottle will verify these statements.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Humbert's Assassin On Trial.

MILAN, Italy, Aug. 29.—The trial of Bressi, the assassin of King Humbert, begins here today. It is not likley though that the proceedings will last over one sitting. The case is a clear one and no difficulty is anticipated in conviction.

When the Hair Falls Out accompanied by mucous patches in the mouth, eruptions on the skin, sore throat, copper colored splotches, swollen glands, aching muscles and bones, the disease is making rapid headway, and far worse symptoms will follow unless the blood is promptly and effectually cleansed of this violent destructive poison.

S. S. S. is the only safe and infallible cure for this disease, the only antidote for this specific poison. It cures the worst cases thoroughly and permanently.

My Condition Could Have Been No Worse. In the fall of 189 I contracted Blood Poison. I tried three doctors, but their treatment did me no good; I was getting worse all the time; my hair came out, ulcers appeared in my throat and mouth, my body was almost covered with copper colored splotches and offensive sores. I suffered severely from rheumatic pains in my shoulders and arms. My condition could have been no worse; only those afflicted as I was can understand my sufferings. I had about lost all hope of ever being well again when I decided to try S. S. S., but must confess I had little faith left in any medicine. After taking the third bottle I noticed a change in my condition. This was truly encouraging, and I determined to give S. S. S. a thorough trial. From that time on the improvement was rapid; S. S. S. seemed to hive the disease completely under control; the sores and ulcers healed and I was soon free from all signs of the disorder; I have been strong and healthy ever since.

A LITTLE LIGHT

On How the Republican Party Gets Campaign Contributions.

Baltimore Sun.

According to a dispatch from Chicago the late Collis P. Huntington, for various causes and considerations moving him, had pledged to the Republican Campaign Committee the good, round sum of $1,000,000. Of this comfortable contribution Mr. Huntington, it is said, had promised to give one-fourth personally, and he undertook to raise the rest. It is also understood that the death of Mr. Huntington is a serious financial blow to the imperial junta, as this unfulfilled promise, not being in the form of a promissory note, cannot be filed as a claim against the estate.

While the courts might refuse to enforce this claim upon the ground that the consideration is not such a one as the law recognizes, still Mr. Hanna no doubt considers it valid and binding in politics, a domain in which, according to another high Republican authority, he Decalogue has no place. This consideration, according to current rumor, was the "holding up" by the senate of the Nicaraguan Canal bill, which had passed the house by a large majority. The bill is still on the senate files, but the situation is all "balled up," to use a current slang phrase, by the action of the Nicaraguan government in repealing the concessions which the United States expected to secure. Whether Huntington and his friends in the administration had anything to do with that repeal does not appear. The only thing certain about the whole matter is that the construction of the canal would largely decrease the power of extortion exercised by the transcontinental railways, free the throats of the people of California from the grasp of a giant monopoly, and so decrease the money value of Mr. Huntington's railroad by many millions of dollars. A million dollars is a big sum of money, but it is a mere bagatelle compared with the value of the monopoly shared by Mr. Huntington's roads with one or two others.

This rumored arrangement between the Republican committee and Mr. Huntington illustrates the modern practice of applying trust methods to lobbying, enacting or defeating bills, as the case might be. In the olden times, and even at the dresent time in some of the states which are slow to adopt new things, it was the practice of an individual or a corporation—say a railroad corporation—that desired the enactment or defeat of a bill to deal with individual members or numerous individual lobbyists. Now the same result is accomplished in a far more respectable and more facile manner. There is usually a boss in command of a legislative assembly, and the applicant for favors goes to that eminent imperialist and makes his request, offering a contribution to the campaign fund. Then the boss orders the congress or legislature, as the case may be, to pass or defeat the bill. Some such influence touched the Republican National Convention, and it contains no pledge to construct the Nicaraguan canal, although it was the general understanding that such a pledge would be made. But the draft of the platform was changed into vaguely favoring "an isthmian canal."

What becomes of these big contributions to campaign funds is a matter of speculation. All of the money does not go to the purchase of votes nor to the legitimate expenses of the campaign. Some pockets are likely lined with a good part of it.

Big Benefit to John L.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—A grand testimonial to John L. Salivan, ex-champion prize fighter, will be held at Madison Square Garden this evening. The affair promises to be the most elaborate of its kind ever known. Sporting men in all walks of life are in it, and the idea of gaining for the "big fellow" a sum which will keep him in comfort for the remainder of his days seems likely.

Among the prominent boxers who will attend and appear in the ring are McGovern, Fitzsimmons, Gans, Corbett, McCoy, Sharkey, Choynski, McFadden, O'Brien, Erne, Ruhlin, Wolcott, Maher O'Donell, Dixon, and West. The wind up will be a three-round bout between John L., the old champion, and Jim Jeffries, the present champion. A large house is assured.

Pythians Celebrate.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 29.—A feature of the biennial celebration of Knights of Pythias will be a monster barbacue held here to-night. Preparations have been completed to feed some 25,000 persons. It will be a regular Kentucky affair, and a "down south" camp meeting will be given in connection with it.
