ROBBED OREGON PEOPLE

Formed Society of Descendants From a Dutch Baron

Washington, Feb. 27.—Fabulous fortunes in Holland is the glittering bait used by sharpers to rob a large number of unsuspecting persons in Oregon. The state department is authority for the statement that the Oregonians have been even more gullible than the ordinary run of "come-ons."

So many suckers were found that they formed the Oregon Society of United Descendants of Baron Theebald Metzger von Weithom. Attorneys were secured to prosecute their claims and David J. Hill, United States minister to The Hague, was requested to assist them. Minister Hill thought that the victims were so widespread that he again called the attention of the state department to the swindle.

As early as 1878, according to state department officials, inquiries regarding imaginary estates in Holland became so great that the United States minister made a report setting forth the fraudulent character of the publications soliciting subscriptions in money from parties living in the United States. Since then there have been the "Anneke-Jans," the "Cronkheit," the "Van Cot," the "Van Dusen," the "Webber," the "Brant" and the "Metzger." These fictitious "estates," which are supposed to represent millions, actually represent nothing.

"These estates do not exist," says Minister Hill. "They are myths, will-o'-the-wisps, fakes. The 'Bank of Holland,' in which the 'unclaimed millions' are alleged to be deposited does not exist. Careful investigation induces the belief that these estates originated in the brain of some rascal speculator or speculators, who, imposing on human credulity, found many victims and fleeced them most profitably. If these estates ever had a bona fide existence they came clearly within the purview of the statute of limitations passed by the Dutch parliament in 1852, by which all unclaimed inheritance escheated after a lapse of five years to the state. Every dollar spent in reference to these estates is so much money wasted."

School News

High School.

The scholars assembled as usual Monday morning. Mr. Marlatte made several announcements, and every one got down to work without any delay.

The laboratories are now supplied with gas for experimental work. The pipes have just been laid and the connection made. It was necessary to drill through the massive concrete foundation in order to lay them.

Glenn Miles read a paper on "Andrew Jackson" to the American history class. This is the last of the series of papers that have been prepared by the class.

The Clarion will be out late this month on account of having to wait for cuts. It will be a memorial number to the late Howard Catlin.

The medievial history class heard a paper on "Richelieu" yesterday that took the entire period.

The Demosthenes society had its regular meeting yesterday in the society room. The attendance was better than it has been for a long time, a number having to stand, there not being enough chairs in the room. The meeting was devoted to the study of Shakespeare and the "Merchant of Venice," in preparation for seeing Hanford. The roll call was answered with quotations, and it was amusing, as well as instructive. Quotations ranged all the way from "The empty vessle makes the loudest sound" to "Hamlet's soliloquy." There were none unprepared, everyone responded promptly with some good quotation. After the regular order of business the society heard impromptu speeches on Shakespeare by Perry Reigleman, Prof. Smith and Horace Sykes. Rea Utter, the president, read a paper on the "Biography of Shakespeare." After the literary part of the program the society enjoyed several selections on the piano by Maurice Roberts and Joy Turner. The last was a reading of a synopsis of "The Merchant of Venice," by Orpha Bell. The society agreed to postpone the meeting with the Diaogoness from March 2d to the 9th, so as to give more time for preparation. The society adjourned after a meeting of one hour and a quarter.

Gale Parrish, who has been on a trip with her father recently, has returned to school.

The high school orchestra met for the first time yesterday evening and organized.

Alonzo Perkins performed the experiment for the botany class yesterday, which consisted of attaching a glass tube to the stalk of a geranium to determine the root pressure of the plant.

Piles Cured Quickly at Home

Why Suffer Agony Any Longer When You Can Get a Quick, Sure Cure For Your Piles by Simply Sending Your Name and Address.

Trial Package is Absolutely Free, in Plain Wrapper to Everyone Who Writes.

Surgeons themselves consider a permanent cure of piles by a surgical operation as very doubtful, and resort to it only when the patient has become desperate from long continued pain and agony. But the operation itself is every bit as excruciating and nerve-racking as the disease. Besides, it is humiliating and expensive, and rarely a success.

The wonderful Pyramid Pile Cure makes an operation unnecessary. You cure yourself with perfect ease, in your own home, and for little expense.

Pyramid Pile Cure gives you instant relief. It immediately heals all sores and ulcers, reduces congestion and inflammation, and takes away all pain, itching and irritation. Just a little of the treatment is usually sufficient to give a permanent cure.

Pyramid Pile Cure is prepared in the form of suppositories so they can be applied directly to the parts without inconvenience, or interrupting your work in any way.

We are sending a trial treatment free of charge, to every one who sends name and address. We do this to prove what we say about this wonderful remedy is true.

After you have tried the sample treatment, and are satisfied, you can get a full-sized treatment of Pyramid Pile Cure at your druggist's for 50 cents. If he hasn't it, send us the money and we will send you the treatment at once, by mail, in plain sealed package.

Send your name and address at once for a trial of this marvelous quick sure cure. Address Pyramid Drug Co., 13207 Pyramid Building, Marshall, Mich.

ENFORCE MARINE LAWS

Washington, Feb. 27.—The earnest efforts of the members of congress from the Pacific coast, coupled with the dreadful lesson taught by the Valencia disaster, will bring about the authorization of at least one first class revenue cutter for use about Puget Sound, during the present session of congress, and will, in time, bring about the building of an adequate fleet. Just at present the Republican leaders are shouting "Economy" so loudly that they cannot hear the needs of the country spoken in an ordinary tone of voice, and the coast may deem itself lucky to get at least one new ship to guard the dangerous rocks of Washington.

In a report just made by Congressman Cushman of Washington from the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, which has charge of the bill authorizing the revenue cutter, he says, "This vessel is needed to replace the revenue cutter Grant, now performing service in that district—a vessel that is not now suitable on account of age and the effects of continuous service to properly perform duties devolving upon a vessel stationed in those waters. The numerous gales prevailing in this vicinity and the large amount of shipping constantly passing along this coast to and from the important ports situated on Puget Sound render it necessary that a first class efficient vessel should be available to render immediate assistance when required. There are about 1100 documented vessels of the United States in the district of Puget Sound, a large number being steamers, and these require constant supervision and inspection in the enforcement of the navigation and customs laws. The vessel proposed will be a strong factor in contributing enforcement of these laws."
