Woman's Trials.

The bitter trail in a woman's life is to be childless. Who can tell how hard the struggle may have been ere she learnt to resign herself to her lonely lot? The absence of this link to bind marital life together, the absence of this one pledge of mutual affection is a common disappointment. Many unfortunate couples become estranged thereby. Even if they do not drift apart, one may read the whole extent of their disappointment in the eyes of such a childless couple when they rest on the children of others. To them the largest family does not seem too numerous. In many cases of barrenness or childlessness the obstacle to child-bearing is easily removed by the cure of weakness on the part of the woman. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been the means of restoring health and fruitfulness to many a barren woman, to the great joy of the household. In other, but rare cases, the obstruction to the bearing of children has been found to be of a surgical character, and easily removable by painless operative treatment at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., over which Dr. Pierce of the "Favorite Prescription" fame presides. In all cases where children are desired and are absent, an effort should be made to find out the real cause, since it is generally so easily removed by proper treatment.

In all the various weaknesses, displacements, prolapsus, inflammation and ulceration, catarrhal drains and in all cases of nervousness and debility, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the most efficient remedy that can possibly be used. It has to its credit hundreds of thousands of cures—more in fact than any other remedy put up for sale through druggists, specially for woman's use. The ingredients of which the "Favorite Prescription" is composed have received the most positive endorsement from the leading medical writers on Materia Medica of all the several schools of practice. All the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper enclosing the bottle, so that any woman making use of this famous medicine may know exactly what she is taking. Dr. Pierce takes his patients into his full confidence, which he can afford to do as the formula after which the "Favorite Prescription" is made will bear the most careful examination.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best and safest laxative for women.

Williamsport's Centennial.

Williamsport, Pa., March 1.—On March 1, 1806, just one hundred years ago today, the straggling village wherein was the "county seat" of Lycoming, was incorporated by act of the legislature as the borough of Williamsport; by a like enactment sixty years later it became a city. The centennial of the corporate existence of Williamsport will be properly celebrated by the citizens of the old town today. Many people from Lycoming county and other parts of the state are here to take part in the celebration, which will be of a public character. There will be a parade symbolizing the growth and development of the city during the hundred years of its existence, a large meeting with addresses and music, and in the evening a banquet and ball.

The history of Williamsport dates back to the early beginnings of Lycoming county. Soon after the act of assembly creating the new county of Lycoming in the spring of 1795 Michael Ross, owner of the tract called "Virginia," secured the services of William Ellis and Joseph Williams, noted surveyors of the time, to lay out on the north bank of the charming West Branch a town, which he named Williamsport and which he proposed to make the county seat. Ross had two rivals, who also laid out towns in close proximity to the proposed Williamsport and which they named Jaysport and Newberry. Both these towns now form part of Williamsport. There was considerable rivalry between the two towns for a while, as each aspired to become the county seat, but Williamsport finally won the victory.

James Russell built the first house in the new town, corner of East Third and Mulberry streets. It was long famous as the Russell Inn. The first courts were held there and it was a pioneer landmark down to its destruction by the big fire of 1871. Here was born William Russell, the first native of Williamsport. John Moore erected the second building, which was also a public house and called the White Horse Inn. The first brick building was erected by Andrew Tullock in 1799 and it is still standing on Front street, below Market. The first store was opened in 1801 by William Wilson. Andrew D. Hepburn was the second merchant who opened a store in the new town. There was no drug store until Henry Lenhard opened one in 1815. Peter Vanderbilt was the first blacksmith and on August 12, 1799 the first postoffice was established at Williamsport with Samuel Grier as postmaster.

In 1804 the first court house was built on the present site. In 1814 an academy was opened on the building on West Third street, near West street, which is still standing. Samuel Henderson, pastor of the Lycoming Presbyterian church, was the principal and Thomas Grier his assistant. The first newspaper, the Lycoming Gazette, was established in 1801 by William F. Buyers, a young printer from Sunbury. In 1869 it became the Gazette and Bulletin. At the time of the incorporation there were only sixty taxables in the new borough, against 6000 in the present year. The first tax duplicate showed a total taxation of $87.60, against the present sum of $16,299.07. In 1839 the sawmill, known as the Big Watermill, was erected at the foot of Hepburn street and the river dammed and boomed, and this formed the foundation for Williamsport's greatest industry. It soon became the "Sawdust City," and the greatest lumber market east of Chicago. The highwater mark in the lumber business was reached in 1889, when more than 300,000,000 feet of logs were rafted out of the big boom. The flood of 1889 broke the boom and sent the logs down the bay. Since that time the lumber industry has steadily declined until today there are only two mills left in operation.

What Time Proves.

This thing of being sick and looking for a cure is a mighty serious business. People are not given to joking even at the first symptom of the approach of the Grim Destroyer. They do not want to be the subjects of experiment, but want medicine that has had the test of years behind it. A medicine that has been made and used for 20 years gives assurance of its worth, and can be taken with a faith that they have the very best cure the world affords. All this can be said about Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills as a remedy for sick headache, dyspepsia and indigestion. It begins right at the source of the trouble and removes the cause. Sold by all druggists for 25c per box. One pill for a dose.

The Entries Are Closed.

New York, March 1.—The American entries for the baloon race for the Bennett cup, to be held in France this year, are closed and, instead of three contestants, as originally planned, the United States will only be represented by two contestants. Lieut. Frank S. Lahm, U. S. A., and M. Santos Dumont, now in France, both experienced aeronauts, have been selected. Dr Julius P. Thomas an enthusiastic member of the Aero club in America, made a determined effort to boom the third American representative in the race, but his entry was declined by Messrs. Post and Bishop, the members of the committee on American entries. Dr. Thomas offered to have a balloon of 55,000 cubic feet built for the race, and was exceedingly anxious to be selected, but his entry was rejected after careful consideration on the ground that there would not be enough time for Dr. Thomas to get in practice and ready for the race, as he is not an experienced aeronaut.
