STATE VETERINARY HERE YESTERDAY

Makes Washington County a Professional Visit

AFTER TUBERCULOSIS IN CATTLE

Washington Herds Exceptionally Healthy

Dr. C. J. Korinek, the new State veterinary, was in Washington county two days, of the present week, making professional tests for tuberculosis in dairy herds. Up to Wednesday night, when he concluded his investigations, he found cases of the dread disease in Washington milch cows. Dr. Korinek is an Australian by birth, and is said to be a fine veterinary, though quite young in age. He is now at Salem. In talking, last night to an Argus reporter, the doctor said that dairymen and other stock owners, are too apt to suspicion tuberculosis, when a cow is sick, when such indisposition may be due to a variety of other causes. He said the herds he had examined in this county are in a particularly healthy condition, which shows that dairymen and others take good care of their stock, and that they get nourishing and substantial food. Dr. Korinek was anxious to stay to the Hillsboro fair, but regretted that his duties called him elsewhere.

Last year's business shows that we sold 22 per cent. of all the pianos on the Pacific Coast. Commencing Friday evening, October 4th, we will give a free concert every evening from 8 to 9 o'clock. Everybody is cordially invited to come and hear the wonderful Pianola play the old Master's pieces, or accompany the violin. Sale and concerts held at McCormick's store in this city.

McNUTT—STEAHR

At the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Steahr, of Forest Grove, Oct. 2, 1907, by the Rev. Hiram Gould, Miss Emma Steahr and Herbert D. McNutt, of Bend, Coos County, Oregon, were united in marriage. The newly wedded couple will go to the groom's home in a couple of weeks, where he is employed in a large cattle establishment. The groom is a son of Elmer McNutt of Forest Grove.

Semi-Annual Reunion.

Washington County Veteran Association will hold its semi-annual reunion at Hillsboro, Or., on Friday, Oct. 17, 1907. All soldiers and their families are urged to attend. By order of the President. R. W. McNutt; Horace G. Wright, Secretary.

Farley Brown and family, of Portland, have moved into the Wilson house.

Don't go hungry while at the fair, but call at the Home Restaurant, and get a meal prepared by mother cooks. Main street, between Third and Fourth streets, Hillsboro.

The Argus has been urged by prominent citizens, several of them promoters of the fair, to place our venerable office towel on exhibition in the art department, but through motives of modesty, we have not yielded to their entreaties. Very, very many people have grown up and died without once seeing a printing office towel. Our office towel has passed the infantile stage of growth, and is able with slight assistance to stand alone. It has not learned to prattle dear little nothings, but when it comes to odoriferous manifestation, we will back it in a contest with any office towel in the state—colored offices excepted. Those of our patrons who chance to feel interested, during the Carnival, may view the towel free of charge.

I am now prepared to show you the Chas. Stevens & Bros. samples of new Fall and Winter styles in Ladies' and Misses' dress suits, shirt waist suits, and dress skirts, made to your special order, and of your own selection of goods. Fall and Winter coats also carried. I carry a standard line of corsets and underskirts. I will be glad to bring my goods to your house upon request. Independent phone, No. 264. Mrs. M. E Caudle.

George Biersdorf, who lives north of Hillsboro, harvested only a portion of his hop crop this year, the mold interfering. He, however, made a record of 2400 pounds of dried hops to the acre, which shows the fine crop that grew this year. 1,000 pounds of dried hops to the acre is considered an average yield.

We have thoroughly overhauled our feed chopper and other machinery, and are now ready to handle the new crop. Chopping days, Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays. We sell mill feed at lowest prices and pay best prices for hay and grain.—C. B. Buchanan & Co., Cornelius.

Jim Lamkin, of this city, has on exhibition at the Fair, what is left of the little cannon which boomed forth a salute, and then blew up, on the day upon which news was received in Hillsboro, of Dewey's famous victory at Manila Bay.

The Knight Packing Co., at Cornelius, is now accepting apples, at their cider mill, for pressing on shares, Tuesdays of each week. Buying apples every day.—Phone, Independent, No. 725. Highest cash price paid for apples.

Mrs. Stella Bellew and son, of Pittsburg, Pa., were in town Sunday, guests of Mrs. S. D. Powell, who is a sister of Mrs. Bellew. They were accompanied by Mrs. Umphlette, her mother, of Amity.

Jonathan Paisley, of Dubuque, Iowa, is the guest of his brother, Sam Paisley, of Buxton, and the brothers were in the city today. Mr. Paisley lives on the old homestead in Iowa. He is accompanied by his wife and child. He thinks Oregon is all right.

For Sale: Fifty acres cleared land in the vicinity of Hillsboro, on rural mail and milk route; near telephone line. Fine location; good building site.—Inquire of Argus.

L. E. Gotham has enlarged his harness shop on Main Street, and equipped it with a high-grade harness machine, and is prepared to do work on short notice. The best tanned oak leather used.

For carpet and rug weaving, write I. T. Mills, Banks. Prices: Carpet weaving, 12½ cents per yard; warp furnished for 12½ cents. Rugs according to size.

Sam Moon, of Centerville, is a hustler. He rode all day Monday in the rain, boosting for the stock part of the Fair. When Sam puts his shoulder to the wheel, things move.

Miss Elisabeth Smith is prepared to receive pupils, in music, for the Fall term. Residence, First street, between Fir and Oak. Phone, Pacific States, 487.

The Christian Endeavor of the Congregational Church will hold a Hallowe'en social, in the church parlors, on the evening of Friday, October 25. Everybody cordially invited. Admission 10 cents.

Strayed from the Cate hop yard Sept. 10, 1907, a bay mare, weight about 970 lbs; roached mane—no other brands or marks. Reward for mare's return, to C. W. Emrick's farm, 4 miles northeast of Hillsboro. Henry Emerick.

We have just got in a lot of stumping powder. Also full line of rubbers and shoes. Come and see us.—Anderson & Son, Reedville.

As a mark of respect to the memory of the late George A. Morgan, County Court adjourned last Monday, and with the entire number of Court House officials, attended the funeral services of the deceased.

Revival services will be inaugurated at the Christian Church next Sunday, Elder A. A. Beery, in charge.

R. W. McNutt, of Cornelius, an old time acquaintance of the editor, called Tuesday. And the years rest gracefully upon him.

Chas. Witt will bring you fine cabbages at 50 cents a dozen. Leave orders at Wehrung's store.

For sale, or will trade for a farm, a controlling interest in the Climax mill.—J. M. Greear.

B. P. Cornelius and Dr. F. A. Bailey. The city has a holiday appearance, and large crowds are coming in from various county points, which indicate that the Fair will be a success. DELSMAN—OVERROEDER

Henry Delsman and Elizabeth Overroeder were united in marriage yesterday, October 2, 1907, at 9:30 a. m., by Rev. Father Bucholzer, of the Catholic Church, at this place. The ceremony was the usual elaborate ritual of the church for such occasions, and was solemn and impressive. After the ceremony, the guests drove to the residence of the bride's parents, one and a half miles north of Reedville, where a big dinner was spread, at which more than 120 invited guests participated. The afternoon was spent in dancing and merrymaking, after the style of the old fashioned German wedding festivities, and was highly enjoyed by all. Many beautiful and costly presents were received by the happy couple. The groom is a prosperous farmer, near Hillsboro, and both are popular. Among Hillsboro guests were Rev. Father Bucholzer, E. I. Kuratli and wife, James Miltenberger and wife, Mr. Rahn and wife, who went to Reedville, while a number of Hillsboro people were present at the wedding.

Calvin Bailey was born July 26, 1830, in Clearfield County, Penn., died September 26, at his residence near Blooming, south of Cornelius, aged 76 years. February 19, 1854 he was married to Savira Ellinger. In the Spring of 1884 Mr. Bailey came to Oregon and located with his family at Blooming, where he has resided ever since. Mrs. Bailey died June 15, 1899, and was laid to rest in Cornelius cemetery.

Mr. Bailey was a man of strong convictions, and was honored and respected by all who knew him. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. S. J. Lindsay, in the Methodist Episcopal Church, Cornelius, of which Mr. Bailey was a faithful member for many years.

Eight children, a total number of eleven born to them, survive, as follows: Mrs. Geo. Johnson, South Tualatin; Mrs. Henry Wilson, Forest Grove; Lawrence Bailey, Portland; Mrs. Edward Schulmerich, Hillsboro; Mrs. Harry Baker, Gaston; Mrs Henry Pearson and Mrs. Irvin Crowther, Oakland, Cal., and Daniel Bailey, of Blooming. Rudolph Michalec, mention of whose illness was made in another column, died suddenly, Tuesday morning last, at Pendleton, where he had gone but a few days previous, with his wife, in the hope of improving his health. Mrs. Anderson, of this place, received a wire Wednesday, from Mrs. Michalec, announcing her husband's death. Mr. Michalec leaves three sisters in Hillsboro, to-wit: Mrs. Thomas Gheen, Mrs Samuel Stephens and Mrs. Ludema Anderson. Rudolf Michalec was born in Austria, May 10, 1855, and came to America Feb. 18, 1868. He was married in 1892 to Miss Celia James, of Sheridan.

The racing program will be carried out at the Fair grounds, west of town, at 1 o'clock, Saturday. The first thing on the program will be a pacing match, in which Midget, Portia Knight and Oliver J. will participate. There will also be one, and possibly two, saddle pony races, and if the weather will permit, Burke Tongue's splendid pacer will give an exhibition go, which will be well worth seeing. LATER—The speed committee desire us to say that there will be 2 running races, 1 pony, and 2 buggy races. Those wishing to enter horses for the races, should apply to C. W. Redmond.

She shows the very newest and best ideas of the season, and is well equipped with materials and styles to suit any customer. You are cordially invited to visit her Millinery Parlor, where you will receive the most careful attention.

C. W. James of Cornelius tells the big squash story of the season, and vouches for the truth of it. From two volunteer vines, this season, there were produced 46 merchantable Hubbard squashes, having an aggregate weight of 560 lbs. Some of the squashes weighed as high as 18 pounds each. The squashes were raised on the old Kenyon Crandall place, near Cornelius, a part of which is now owned by Mr. James. Charley thinks he has all competitors badly beaten.

October comes and shakes leaves down;
There's every evidence of Fall,
Yet every season we're in town,
And will be glad to have you call
To see our place—if not to buy—
We will not try to make you weary
At Palmateer's Confectionery.
L. J. Palmateer, Prop.

The Carnival committee has secured the new building erected by Dr. Linklater, just north of the Argus office, which is being used for displays of fruit, vegetables, grain, etc., with a liberal reservation for fine art, fancy needlework, pioneer relics, etc. The display is creditable in the extreme.

The Milne warehouse has been leased by Geo. A. Brown, and he is ready to receive hay, grain and hops for storage at reasonable prices. All storage business will receive prompt attention.—Geo. A. Brown, Lessee.

Joseph H. Robinson, of Farmington, is attending the Fair today. Beside a nice exhibit of fruit at the Fair, he showed the editor some old coins, one a ten cent piece, minted in 1835, a $5 piece of 1845. He also has two ten cent pieces of 1892, which he thinks are valuable.
