ANENT PROHIBITION

Word reaches the city that a certain prohibition campaign manager is publicly calling the Argus editor a coward because the latter refused to run a paid advertisement which contained some very hysterical language. As a matter of fact the matter was not libelous, but it was very ridiculous, and it was refused. The Argus does not stand for prohibition, and never has. This is a matter of opinion, well-founded. It thought to get through the campaign without touching upon this question, but it seems impossible. The Argus is opposed to prohibition, and here are some of its reasons:

Oregon is a new state, considering its vast resources, which are yet to be developed; Washington County is a new county, considering its wild lands yet to be reduced. Its citizenship is mixed so far as nationality is concerned, but among its thousands of voters there are a majority who take their glass of beer—and in so doing they in no sense belittle their citizenship, nor desecrate their state. The German and Swiss, the Norwegian and the Swede, and here and there an American born, in Washington County, believe in personal liberty, and are against a proposed prohibitory law that does not prohibit. It is well understood that the German and Swiss, in particular, are among our best citizens. Ninety-nine out of a hundred take their glass of beer as a matter of course, and it is not against their morals. They are the best of citizenry; they universally pay their bills; clothe and educate their children; and always fill the part of progressiveness. As parents, they are commendable—the German or Swiss fathers or mothers are noted for the care of their own, and for rearing their children in industry and rectitude.

The man who abuses drink, as a rule, is an extremist who would make a failure out of manhood in any walk of life, and under any conditions—and even that man can be stopped if any one shall be kind enough to notify the liquor dealer.

Put Oregon in the prohibition class and the man who is potent in clearing up our timber would go elsewhere. He would not care to come to a state teeming with sumptuary laws, and where a suspicious neighbor could make it unpleasant for him if they should disagree over the drinking of a glass of beer, or some wine, shipped in, perhaps, by some friend, and he would be adverse to going into a community that would show a citizenship replete with suspicion and court costs along these lines.

The temperate man will not vote prohibition. He will profit by the experience of Maine, that is now turning away from prohibitory measures; by the experience of Iowa, and by the testimony of almost all—save the "reformer" who wishes to act a guide for all, and who insists you are a "coward," or a "demon" unless you agree with him—who have gone through prohibition in Kansas, and vote against statewide prohibition.

Morris Rogaway was host at a skating party Wednesday evening, at the Hartrampf rink. Those present were: Morris Rogaway and Lieut. Spencer, of Vancouver, Kingsley Lytle, Franz Pauli, Ronald Vaught, Roy Schroeder, and the Misses Bessie Shomburg, Lucy Weatherred, Mary Sewell, Mattie Wilson, Mary Heidel and Maud Griffiths.

Chas. Eames, who has been over to Waldport, Lincoln County, for several months, returned home Tuesday evening, and is at his domicile at Oak Park, ready for the Winter season hunting for fur. He says he is glad to get back to the old quarters, although he had a good time over on the coast.

Angus McCloud, of Mountaindale, was in the city yesterday afternoon.

POULTRYMEN TO MEET

The poultrymen of this vicinity are requested to meet at the office of Bagley & Hare, with the Washington County Poultry and Pet Stock Association, on Saturday evening, October 29, 1910, to take up matters of importance, and to discuss the time and place for holding a poultry show in Hillsboro, this Winter, and see to the procuring of a licensed judge. All poultrymen are invited. The meeting will be called at 7:30.

T. P. Goodin, Sec.

FRUIT MEETING

About thirty fruit growers of the county met last Saturday afternoon and perfected a permanent organization with Ferd Groner as president and B. N. Sproat, of Reedville, as secretary and treasurer. Hillsboro was voted as the permanent place of meeting and there will be sessions each last Saturday in the month, at 1:30 p. m., commencing with next month.

It was estimated that those present at Saturday's meeting had a combined output of 9,000 boxes annually, and Mr Newell thought that for the present it would be well to not form a growers' union—leaving that to come when there was a greater output. At the November session there will be an expert apple packer here to get an exhibit ready for the apple show, and S. J. Galloway will select the varieties to send in.

EMMOTT—SHEURER

A pretty home wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Sheurer, First Street, Hillsboro, Ore., Tuesday, October 25, 1910, when their daughter, Annie M., was united in marriage to Cornelius H. Emmott, Rev. Blackwell, of the Methodist Church, officiating. Both are popular young people residing in this city. The bride was formerly employed at the Gross' store, while the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Emmott, and for some time has been employed at the Emmott store.

They departed Tuesday evening for a wedding trip to Seattle and Tacoma, after which they will take up their residence in Hillsboro.

They have a large circle of friends in this city who wish them every happiness.

The fire started in the basement and had such headway that it was impossible to get the blaze under control. The structure had been remodeled to some extent, and was in a good state of preservation. Kenyon Crandall, of Hillsboro, worked on the building in 1853.

Dr. J. E. Adkins writes that he will be in his Hillsboro dental palors on Saturday, October 29, and will be pleased to meet his patrons. He leaves Ione for home tomorrow.

J. B. Schaefer, of Linton, has been elected mayor of that little city. The incumbent is well known in Hillsboro and on the North Plains.

At the Hallowe'en party Monday night, try toasting marshmallows—lots of fun, if U have the right kind. U can get the right kind at the Den of Sweets.

W. B. Peterson, in charge of the Witch Hazel Ray hopyard, was in town Tuesday morning.

COUNTY WELL REPRESENTED

Washington County is fairly well represented at the Federation of Woman's Clubs for the state of Oregon, in session this week at The Dalles. Those present from the Grove are: Miss Minnie Myers, Mrs. J. A. Thornburgh and Mrs. Chas. Hines. Hillsboro's famous Coffee Club is represented by Mrs. Geo. Schulmerich and Miss Madge Imbrie. Mrs. J. A. Imbrie was elected as a delegate, but being unable to attend, Miss Madge was sent as alternate.

Mrs. Schulmerich, who is a woman who enjoys out-of-door athletics. She handles an automobile as well as an experienced chauffeur, and occasionally takes a trip to Arlington, Ore., with her husband, to hunt wild geese, and her marksmanship has already brought down several of this delicacy. Mrs. Schulmerich leaves The Dalles, Friday, and joins her husband at Arlington, where he is engaged in hunting.

Miss Imbrie writes her parents that she was delayed, and was forced to spend the best part of the night in the train, near Cascade Locks, and says: "This being a club woman has its drawbacks."

SAVING TIME by TELEPHONE

When a man feels the necessity of being in two places at the same time, he goes to the nearest telephone and sends his voice.

It is not exactly the same thing, but when a man talks hundreds of miles in opposite directions from the same Bell Telephone, it is about as good.

In the daily use of the telephone a man travels all over town by wire in a few minutes. It is just as easy to travel all over the state and other states by means of the universal Long Distance Bell System.
