SCHOOL BONDS DEFEATED

The election at the school house, Tuesday, resulted in a defeat of the proposal to bond the school district for $45,000, for the purpose of a site and new school building, the negative vote being 102, and the affirmative, 86, the measure being defeated by the narrow margin of 16 votes. Supt. M. C. Case was leading the opposition to the bonding measure and did some hard work to compass its defeat.

R. B. Collins, Andrew Jack and J. B. Wilkes acted as judges, and C. E. Deichman was selected for clerk.

The Connell tract received 24 votes as a site; the Grecar tract, 34 votes, a majority of expression; and the Rhoades tract was given 5, and the Boscow tract 2.

More than likely when the tax levy meeting comes up there will be another vote for and against a new school building, and it is thought that it will carry the third time there is a chance for an expression.

WILL CASE NOW ON

The contest case involving the last will and testament of the late John Simpson, of South Tualatin, is on in probate court today. John M. Wall and L. K. Adams are defending the case for Franklin H. Simpson, to whom the father left the property, and the Tongue Bros. are prosecuting the contest. The property involed is worth several thousand dollars, and is a farm over in South Tualatin.

Judge Campbell heard the evidence in the contempt of court case charged against Jas. Wilson, the last of the week. The divorced wife testified that Wilson interfered with her at two different times, which, of course, was denied with emphasis by the defendant. The time when Wilson and the cousin of the ex-bride had the altercation Wilson alleges he was sent for by the woman's brother-in-law, and the witness who went with Wilson to meet them testified that Wilson was not the aggressor. The case is under advisement and the contending attorneys will file briefs with the court.

Contractor Hotchkiss, who has been putting up houses at Wheeler, put up a bond to answer the charge of purloining some cherries from the orchard of E. W. Dant, of Reedville. The defense alleges Hotchiss was told to enter the place by a man supposed to have been in authority, while Mr. Dant claims the boughs of his trees were ruthlessly broken by Hotchkiss. The case will be tried later.

Evangelists Barnett and Shaffer closed their meeting at the Christian Church, the first of the week and departed for other fields. As a result of their meetings Pastor Vallandiham reports 46 additions to the church, 30 of whom were adults, and ten of them men. The church unanimously requested the evangelists to return for another series of meetings in Hillsboro.

David Corwin has received word of the death of Rupert Wooster, who was Mr. Corwin's partner, over 20 years ago. Corwin & Woostor built the brick now occupied by the Delta, and they were in the butcher business together. His wife and several children survives.

J. M. and J. C. Grecar and families will leave in a few weeks to spend a few weeks, and perhaps, the winter, at Tuscon, Arizona. If they are not satisfied in the Arizona city they will leave for Southern California, and remain there until Spring.

The post office has received notice that the owners want the structure, and this means that it must go elsewhere. The department is already asking for bids to furnish room, and it will be but a matter of a few weeks until Uncle Sam will hold forth in some other structure.

It will not be along until there will be a call for a mass meeting to take up the matter of the annual street fair. Hillsboro is not going to lose a year, after the remarkable showing we have had the past few seasons—not if we must hold it on the roof of the court house.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Brogden, of Tacoma, accompanied by their daughter, Virginia, were guests of Mr. Brogden's parents, Wm. Brogden and wife, of Sewell station, and departed for an extended trip East, Saturday.

Jack Wood, of Portland, now in the hotel business, was out to the ranch, near Roy.

We Select All the Wheat that goes into BEAVER STATE FLOUR. Any inferior grain is rejected. This is one of the reasons for the superiority of the flour. Another reason is the conditions that surround its manufacture. Human hands never touch the wheat after it reaches our mill, and expert millers watch carefully every step in the manufacture. The result is the most perfect flour for all purposes and we want you to try it today
