Mister Lafferty appears to have found the spotlight, and as a shining example of asininity, is a star of the first magnitude. The second district seems to have been unfortunate in the selection of Congressman.

President Taft, in the veto of the Arizona and New Mexico statehood bills, has followed a petty partisan policy that will not help him in the coming campaign. The real crux of the veto probably lays in the fact that the applying states are not blessed with a majority for Mr. Taft's party. Admission would have meant more U. S. Senators opposed to the standpatters.

NANCY S. SEWELL.

Mrs. Nancy S. Sewell, widow of Thomas G. Sewell, died at the home of Mrs. M. Harvey, in Hillsboro, Saturday evening, August 12, 1911. She was born in Chillicothe, Ohio, Feb. 2, 1829, and her maiden name was Odel. Her parents moved to Indiana when she was an infant. She was united in marriage to Mr. Sewell, at Pine Village, Indiana, in 1849, and after a few years they moved to Kansas. Twenty-two years ago, in 1889, they moved to Hillsboro, and settled this side of West Union. The husband died eleven years ago. The following children survive: Mrs. Mary E. Leatherman, Bonnie, Ill.; J. W. Sewell, Snake River, Wash.; C. L. Sewell, Hillsboro, and Mrs. Martha J. Harvey, wife of M. M. Harvey, Hillsboro. Four other children were born to the union, all of whom are deceased; The late A. R. Sewell, Kansas; J. Sewell, Nebraska; Thos. G. Sewell, who died here in 1904; and one child that died in infancy.

Mrs. Sewell belonged to the Free Methodist Church, and was a woman of tender characteristics.

The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, at the Evangelical Church, Rev. W. N. Coffee, of Portland, officiating. Interment was at West Union, by the side of her son.

Card of Thanks

We desire to express our sincere thanks to those who so kindly tendered us aid and sympathy in our recent bereavement, the death and obsequies of our mother, the late Nancy S. Sewell.

GEORGIA MINSTRELS

There are two days that the amusement-loving populace always look forward to with pleasure—circus day and minstrel day.

Circus day has passed and minstrel day is almost here, and this time it is the best of all—Richards & Pringle's Minstrels.

They will appear at the Crescent Theatre, on Saturday, Aug. 19.

The company is headed by those old-time favorites, Clarence Powell and Billy King, together with nearly forty others. As is their custom, the program will be entirely new.

Fred Simpson, known throughout the country as "The Black Pryor," still has charge of the famous Georgia Band. The big street parade will take place promptly at noon. There will be a free band concert in front of the theatre at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

F. M. Crabtree, of Laurel, was in the city last evening. He stated to an Argus reporter that he intended paying $1.25 per hundred for picking this Fall, and expects to open his yard about September 2. Mr. Crabtree is the first to report a raise on the price of picking, and says that he is willing to grant that concession, considering the price of the product.

They're Coming!

The Great Mirth Making Monarchs who Have Entertained all America in Annual Tours—

Richards & Pringles'

Far-Famed Aggregation of Top-Liners, and known the world over as the

Famous Georgia Minstrels

MUST PAY CASH

It is ascertained that many have not applied for the bonding privilege for paying the sewer and paving assessments, contending that they are going to wait and see whether or not the work is accepted.

Mayor Bagley stated this morning that all who have not made application by August 25 must pay cash, and will be deprived of the ten-year payment plan.

FINED $25

Judge Campbell this morning fined James Wilson $25 for contempt of court. It will be remembered that the divorced wife of Wilson was granted an injunction forbidding Wilson form interfering with her. Wilson met the ex-wife one evening before the divorce case was settled, and alleged in court that she had sent for him. He had a rough and tumble with the woman's cousin, and the arrest for violation of the injunction followed.

A. H. GARRISON

A. H. Garrison, well-known here, died at Roseburg, Aug. 15, 1911. He was born in Indiana, Nov 3, 1831, and at the age of two years moved to Missouri. In 1846 he crossed the plains and settled near Amity. He lived there until 1874, when he moved to Hillsboro, settling 5 miles north of town, moving to the city in 1880. He was married to Mary Holcomb in 1857, the wife passing away in 1903. The surviving children are Mrs. W. A. Finney, of Ridgefield, Wash., and C. W. Garrison, of Portland.

Deceased was a member of the Oregon Pioneer Ass'n., and was enlisted in the Oregon Mounted Infantry in the Yakima Indian War, 1856-7.

The remains were shipped to this city, arriving this evening. The funeral will take place at 11 a. m., Saturday, at the Donelson Undertaking parlors, and interment will be in the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

Mr. Garrison was in many respects a gifted man, and he wielded a very facile pen.

Daniel Seour, aged 55 years, died at Forest Grove, Tuesday afternoon, at the family home. He was born in Maine, and arrived at Forest Grove 11 years ago. A widow and three children survive. The funeral was held today, Rev. Father Buck officiating.

C. F. Swearingen, the recent purchaser of the M. Schnur place, fell from an elevation at his home in East Hillsboro, Monday, and sustained a broken elbow. Dr. Tamiesie attended the sufferer.

Henry Holtz, of Portland, was in the city yesterday, returning from a visit to his brother, Loui Holtz. L. J. recently lost a threshing outfit by fire, while the machinery was standing idle.

Six blocks of the sanitary sewer have been accepted, and the paving contractors will begin work next week, it is stated on good authority.

Mrs. C. W. Elkins, of Prineville, was here the past week, the guest of T. P. Goodin and wife, and departed the first of the week for a short stay at the coast.

Frank Rollins, Cliff Long and Byran and Gerald Garrett reached Tillamook, Saturday, on their overland hike, and are now over in the Cloverdale section, hunting for big game and catching salmon trout from the depths of the Nestucca.

George Scrivener, who drifted into Buxton from Seaside, the first of the week, with a well-developed attack of dementia, caused by an overdose of Barley-corn, was examined yesterday by Dr. F. A. Bailey, before Judge Stevenson. The attending physician thought the man was about recovered, and he was allowed to go on parole until it could be seen whether his mental condition would permit of a discharge. Scrivener came to Oregon from Kansas.

G. A. Patterson sued H. A. Halsey on ouster proceedings in Judge Smith's court, Tuesday. Halsey recently rented the Second Street restaurant rooms from Patterson, and Halsey put in evidence a lease, and claimed that $105 which he had expended for improvements, should be applied on the rental price. The jury disagreed, standing three to three, so the case is now where it was when it started. Geo. P. Bagley defended the case and H. T. Bagley prosecuted. The jury: G. O. Frost, John Dennis, Aug. Tews, Frank Kelsey, Bert Mead and Mr. Mosher.
