Well, anyway, notwithstanding, Congressman Lafferty need not go hungry for a position, should he leave congress. He can qualify as manager of a matrimonial bureau without any trouble.

The cry to sell property has abated considerably the past few weeks. People are beginning to realize that a sewer system has been needed for some time, and are accepting gracefully. The foul places here and there, found through excavation, has been the possible agency in disclosing the fact that a sewer is a prime necessity—and the only wonder is that we have not had an epidemic of typhoid long ago.

With tomorrow the new law anent public drinking cups goes into effect. Sheriff Hancock has thrown away the dipper in the court house; and the cup at the street intersection—and if one wants to slake a thrist from this on it must be from his own drinking vessel. Small boys follow up the faucet stream and seem to enjoy it—but it appears to catch the adults off guard, for the universal query and exclamation is—"Where is that cup?" "Gee! The county must be hard up for money, these days."

It is but a question of time until there will be a big sub-way built under the Portland Mountain—and when that time comes it will be but a few minutes ride from the city into the heart of Washington County. People here do not appreciate the fact that with a hole through the mountain we will be within twelve or thirteen miles of a city that is destined to reach the half million mark inside of a few years. The moral: buy property now—it will never be cheaper, panic or no panic.

Washington County is this year—as it is every year, for that matter—the garden of the gods of production. Nowhere in the entire world can be found a like acreage producing so much wealth. The grain and hay crops have been superb; the onion crops are top-notchers, and everything planted has yielded its bountiful harvest. Who would not live in Washington County—the section that produces milk, vegetables, grain and hay, to say nothing of fruit—for the largest city on the North Pacific Coast—a city that inside of ten years will beat San Francisco for commercial supremacy.

The crop failure in many sections of the East and Mississippi states will mean an exodus to Oregon next year—and Washington County, one of the best in the state considering its acres, should awaken to the advisability of getting its share of the incoming homeseekers. Hillsboro should put its best foot forward and organize. Organization counts. There is no reason why Washington County should hide its light under a bushel. Hillsboro business men should awaken to the realization that concerted action in publicity will bring results to all. It is safe to say that there is not a city the size of Hillsboro in all the state that has not a live commercial organization receiving the support of the business interest of the entire town. This city should not must not—be an exception.

Mrs. W. Frentzel departed today for an extended visit with her parents in Chicago.

GRADING FOR PAVING STARTED ON MONDAY

Wheel Scrapers are Taking the Streets Down to Grade in Hurry

FORMS TO LAY FOR CURBING

First, North of Main, and Lincoln, First to Second, Graded

Under the direction of Mr. Church, superintendent for the Warren Construction Co., grading started on First, north of Main, Monday morning, and several wheel scrapers have been operating all week. The grade for the west side of the courtyard square, and for Lincoln, on the north, has been practically completed, and Mr. Boyatt, contractor for the curbing, will at once lay the forms and put in the outside cement.

Main, between First and Second, and Second, between Lincoln and Main, are nearly to grade, and one or two days work with the teams will complete the four blocks around the court house.

As it is but a matter of a few days work to lay the curbing, the four blocks will be ready for the pavement in a very short time, and the company will put on a big force of men and hurry the "hot material."

Hay Wanted

I am in the market for 1000 tons oat and vetch hay; also 500 tons clover and 500 tons cheat hay. —Call or address G. W. Simpson, 341 East Washington Street, Portland, Ore. 24-7

MODEL ENTERTAINERS

The Juvenile S. S. Club, or Smart Set, broke the record last Tuesday for entertaining. At the home of Miss Lois Weik, on First and Fir, the twelve members, who are mere children, did their own engineering, and all the work, which was to collect tables and all the material for an ice cream supper, ordered their cream, baked cakes, made candy, and invited about 40 guests, who were delightfully entertained on the lawn, which was decorated with Japanese lanterns, rustic seats and lawn swing. The program consisted of music and games. Their tables were nicely spread with snow white covers and flowers, and ice cream served systematically, with cash girl receivers, as business like as older experienced ones. They realized a nice little profit from their efforts and acquitted themselves very creditably. All had a pleasant time and wish the little girls success at their weekly sewing society.

The following are members: Viola Walch, Pres.; Mamie Follett, Sec.; Marie Schiedel, Tres.; Margaret Follett, Vice Pres.; Esther Heim, Allie Souther, Lois Weik, Velma Tipton, Flossie Schiedel, Affie Reagan, Elizabeth Mann and Florence Garrett.—Contributed.

SOLOMON JACK

Solomon Jack, formerly of Farmington, died at Portland, Saturday, Aug. 26, 1911, from a cerebral hemorrhage. He had been working for the Meier & Frank Co., and was stricken but a few days before death. He was born near Farmington, 50 years ago, and was a son of the late James Jack, pioneer. He leaves the widow and two daughters, Misses Juanita and Edna. His wife's maiden name was Baker, and she was raised in the South Tualatin section.

Mr. Jack at his death owned his place below Farmington, on which he lived many years. Two or three years ago he moved to Portland to educate his daughters. Death came as a surprise as he had always enjoyed fairly good health.

The funeral took place Monday, at the Farmington Church, Rev. Vallandigham preaching the obsequies.

TO CONTRACTORS

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING

Everybody in town yesterday sustained a scare—and there was much ado about nothing. The water and light company put a lot of soda potash in their big filter, with the result that the chemical made the water smell something like the lee-side of a garbage crematory—and all at once the citizenry had visions of impure water, typhus fever, cholera morbus, and all the ills to which the stomach is heir. Mothers put the water on to boil to save the lives of the babies who wanted a drink, and a hundred telephone calls disturbed the equanimity of Mr. Cooper. When he explained that the smell and taste came from the soda potash, which was percolating through the big filter, fears were allayed. Cooper explained to all that the chemical was good for them, and would make a "well" man out of a dyspeptic, and all was again serene. One citizen gave his dog a big drink of water to test it, and the canine became as frisky as a pup—showing that soda potash is an elixir much to be admired.

SUMMONS

In the County Court of the State of Oregon for Washington County

Connell & Company, a Corporation, Plaintiff, vs

Rayland H. Rhodes, and Etta Rhodes, his wife, defendants.

To Rayland H. Rhodes and Etta Rhodes, the above named defendants:

In the name of the State of Oregon, you are hereby commanded and required to be and appear in the above entitled Court and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled Cause, on or before the expiration of six weeks from the date of the first publication of this Summons, to-wit, on or before the 12th day of October, A. D. 1911, the date of the first publication being August 31, 1911, and if you fail so to appear and answer said complaint, the Plaintiff, for want thereof, will apply to the Court for the relief prayed for in its Complaint, to-wit, for judgment against you and each of you, for the sum of One Hundred Four and 80/100 ($104 80) dollars, with interest thereon since October 26, 1910, at the rate of six percent per annum, and for the costs and disbursements of this action, and adjudging and decreeing that the property attached in the above entitled court and cause be sold by the Sheriff of Washington County, Oregon, to satisfy such judgment and for such other and further judgment as may be necessary and proper in the premises.

This summons is served upon you by publication, by order of the Hon. R. O. Stevenson, County Judge of Washington County, Oregon, made and dated herein, the 28th day of October, A. D., 1911, which said order requires that you do appear in answer to said complaint on or before the expiration of six weeks from the date of the first publication, to-wit, on or before October 12, 1911, the first publication being on August 31, 1911.

Thos. H. Tongue, Jr.,
Attorney for Plaintiff.
