Willamette Goes Into Lead in Eastern Sunset

Willamette went into the undisputed leadership of the second half of the eastern division of the Sunset league Sunday when it nosed out Sherwood 5 to 4, while Hillsboro "Smoke-Eaters" were having one of those days that seems to come once in awhile to every ball team. Locals lost to Newberg 16 to 12.

In a free-hitting game of extra hits, Newberg edged out the Hillsboro boys 16 to 12 here Sunday. Newberg scored three in the first inning to be off to an early lead when Hillsboro made three costly errors. The "Smoke-Eaters" put over three in the second inning on hits by Batchelar, Zeigler, Baker and Oakes. Newberg went ahead in the third but Hillsboro put over two on hits by Joos, Davis, Zeigler and a Newberg error. Newberg added one more the following frame but the "Smoke-Eaters" big bats cracked out doubles by Houk, Joos and Batchelar to put across two more to make it 7 to 4 for the locals. Newberg counted one in the fifth and sixth to take the lead 11 to 7. Rosky was replaced by Leverett at this point as the Newberg sluggers had found him for 10 hits while the Hillsboro team was committing a multitude of errors.

Hillsboro made a bid for the game in the eighth when Rosky was safe on an error. Leverett doubled and Houck was hit by a pitched ball to fill the bases. Joos connected for his third hit of the day, a triple to centerfield to clear the bases and make the score 11 to 10. Davis laid down a well placed bunt to score Joos with the tying run on a perfect squeeze play.

The Newberg boys just wouldn't stay beaten as Yeaker doubled. Rene was safe on an error, Elliott hit, Kendall singled and Meyer put one over the fence to put over five runs. Hillsboro could score but once in their half of the ninth and the final score stood 16 to 12, after the score had been tied three times and the lead changing four times.

Hillsboro's defeat put them down to second place but they still have a chance at the second half as Willamette, the lone undefeated team, must still play Hillsboro, a postponed game.

Hillsboro will entrain to Garden Home Sunday to tackle the only team that defeated the "Smoke-Eaters" the first half. Hillsboro was without the services of Chuck Hoag and Don Shattuck Sunday, which left a big hole to fill in the Hillsboro infield and which partly accounted for the poor showing made against Newberg.

Sunday's games are as follows: Hillsboro at Garden Home; Aloha at Sherwood; Orenco at Willamette; Newberg at Tualatin.

MY LADY FROM MALING'S

She's not the girl of the Alice Blue gown,
There's far too many of her in town—
Her dress, yes it's blue, the wrap-around kind,
That makes some men glad they were not born blind,
For it's sometimes hard to cover the knees,
When a zenith zephyr becomes a breeze.

She may be buxom, or skinny, or fat,
She's plain or pretty, or far from that,
She may be neat as the proverbial pin,
Or the way she looks be quite a sin.

She may be polite, or her manners most sad,
But on the average she's not so bad;
Whatever you're hunting you're sure to find,
It's always that way with human kind.

She works at the cannery—it's really no cinch;
She gets paid by the hour, but she pays by the inch,
For she works here all day, then cares for the home,
With not very much pleasure nor time to roam.

She may vow that she won't, that this is the last,
But she forgets it as soon as the season is past,
And next year finds her waiting to see
What her chances to work are going to be—
So hail to the gal with the wrap-around gown,
She's really quite popular in Hillsboro town.

—CASSIE WILSON.

Vinton Reports on G.O.P. Convention

idea that the republicans are going to win this fall. The east, he declared, is expecting a republican landslide.

He described the enthusiasm for Landon manifest before the convention, and told of Senator Borah of Idaho releasing the Oregon delegation from their pledge to him.

"Borah is a big man," Vinton declared. "He is for America first."

Sentiment has taken a big swing away from the administration since last year, Vinton declared, and still is changing, with the people getting more and more tired of reforms. Of Oregon's Senator Steiwer, Vinton declared that the Oregon delegation was proud of him. "If a man had been nominated for president from east of the Mississippi river, Steiwer would have been selected for vice-president," Vinton declared. "But the nomination the sunrise."

of Landon was as inevitable as Landon's nomination, Vinton explained, was the outcome of a natural change in voting power. Once the south dominated political selection, he declared, and later this power was held in the east, but now the shift in population is bringing the balance of power westward. Vinton became dramatic as he described the tremendous reception accorded to Herbert Hoover when he spoke before the convention.

"Of course," Vinton said, "we urged our delegates to give him a good reception when he entered the convention hall which they did, but as he began to speak, the enthusiasm of the delegates increased. Time after time the rising tide of applause, stopped the speaker and nothing could quiet them. From where I sat I could see the face of the former president and tears were in his eyes as the applause swelled and engulfed him.

"Finally, when Hoover had completed his speech and every effort had been made to restore quiet to the throng of 28,000, the meeting was adjourned. They attempted to bring Hoover back from his hotel, but he sent a note to the convention hall expressing his regret and pointing out that within a few minutes he must take a train for New York. Had Hoover wished, he could have been unanimously nominated."

On the way home Vinton and his partner, Eugene March, stopped in Topeka long enough for a visit with nominee Landon. They met him on the front porch of his home, Vinton said, where they were introduced to the Landon family. "They are just a plain, ordinary, American family," Vinton said, "and Landon is just a plain, big American citizen."

Vinton remarked that everywhere he went among delegates, speakers and nominees, he found them more concerned with "preserving American principles than with the accumulation of glory."
