Mrs. Heaton Named to Theta Rho Committee

Mrs. Cora M. Heaton, past president of the Rebekah Assembly of Oregon, returned last week from attending the International Association of Rebekah Assemblies at New York, September 20 to 26, inclusive. Mrs. Heaton was appointed a member of the international committee on Theta Rho Girls' clubs.

Mrs. Heaton gives an account of her trip as follows:

"Left Portland September 12 and traveled through 20 states and several provinces of Canada during my trip. Spent some time at Lake Louise and Banff. In Alberta I heard much of 'social credit,' and the sales tax was in vogue there the same as in a number of our states. Enjoyed the beauty and grandeur of Niagara, both from the American and Canadian sides.

"I spent a week in New York City, where the mornings were spent in business sessions of the Associated Rebekah Assemblies, and the afternoons were spent in sightseeing. One trip was through different boroughs to Jones Beach on the Atlantic ocean. This is the Atlantic City of New York. Visited many places of interest in New York.

"One of the ootstanding events of the Sovereign Grand Lodge session was the Grand Sires' banquet at the Hotel Commodore, attended by more than 600 members of the order and their friends.

"My itinerary was planned to permit of as much daylight traveling as possible. Spent three days in Washington, D. C., and crammed more sight-seeing in that time than I ever dreamed possible. This is indeed the 'City Beautiful.' Wide tree-shaded streets and beautiful buildings, foreign embassies, government buildings, homes and churches. Among the latter is the Washington Cathedral (Episcopal.) When completed this will be one of the finest in the world—larger than Westminster Abbey. Chicago is a very ordinary city, nothing of especial interest except Lakeshore drive.

"Then I came again into the Middle Western states, among the ruins of drouth, dust storms, and grasshopper plagues. In Nebraska, I saw some of the effects of the Republican river flood. Buildings and remains of buildings were strewn along the river bank and on sandbars in mid-stream.

"Three weeks were spent in South-central Nebraska, at Beaver City, where I was born, and which I had not seen since leaving there 30 years ago. Many farmers there are practically bankrupt; farms mortgaged, delinquent taxes, and very little signs of better times. No gardens, no corn, not even leaves on the trees after the horde of grashoppers had departed. Many of the people are wishing to leave, and many are inquiring about Oregon.

"After these thousands of miles of travel through mountains, by lake shores, and along beautiful streams, I can still say: 'Oregon against the world for both scenery and climate'."

Family Reunion Held at Hoags

The Bloyd family held a reunion of all its members at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hoag in Hillsboro October 23, the occasion being the 79th birthday of Mrs. C. R. Bloyd of Coquille. Present were Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Bloyd, Coquille; C. V. Bloyd, Marshfield; Zoa and Lucy Bloyd, Pumpkin Ridge; Mrs. C. S. Townsend, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hoag and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Heinrich and two children Varina and Vincent, Mr. and Mrs. William Ziegler and two children Neva and Billy, all of Hillsboro.

Miss B. Havens Bride of R. W. Richardson

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Havens was the setting for a pretty ceremony Saturday evening, October 31, 1936, when their daughter Betie Gayle became the bride of Ronald W. Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Richardson of Portland. Rev. H. A. Deck read the service in the presence of immediate relatives. The candle-lit rooms were attractively decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and ferns.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of grey crepe with grey accessories and her flowers were a corsage of orchids. Her sister, Miss Dorothy Havens, was her only attendant. J. G. Richardson was best man for his son.

For going away, Mrs. Richardson wore a dark blue suit with grey fox fur trim. Grey hat, shoes and accessories completed the costume.

Mr. Richardson is affiliated with Butler Bros., San Francisco, Cal., and the young couple plan to travel in connection with his work.

Play to be Staged for Homecoming

A great deal of enthusiasm is being shown by the students of Pacific University in regard to the Homecoming play, "The Importance of Being Earnest." Skits and contests are very much in evidence to aid in making the play the success it proved to be in the two former presentations on the campus in 1919 and 1928.

The play will be given on two nights this year, November 13 at 8:30 and November 14 at 7:45. Margaret Morgan is directing the production, which is an amusing three-act comedy by Oscar Wilde.

Tickets will be on sale at Littler's Drug store in Forest Grove Monday.

Celebrates 75th Birthday Date

Mrs. C. E. Wells was hostess for a stag dinner Saturday night, honoring her husband on his 75th birthday anniversary. Guests were his sons, V. H. Wells of Portland, G. W. of Sheridan, C. O. and T. J. of Redmond, I. M. of Medford, Dr. Howard of Seaside, and James of Hillsboro; sons-in-law, H. E. Simpson of Portland and Bryce Nosler of Grants Pass; brother-in-law, R. T. McConnell of Portland, and W. G. Hare of Hillsboro. The daughters assisted their mothers in serving, and also with vocal selections.

Mr. and Mrs. Florian Mills arrived Monday from Belton, Mont., for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bentley, and other relatives and friends. Mr. Mills is an engineer with the federal bureau of public roads and is awaiting his next assignment. He was employed this summer at Glacier National park.

Miss Kathleen McAlear and her friend, Miss Dorothy Burgess of Medford, students at University of Oregon, Eugene, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. E. J. McAlear.

Ralph Foster of Redmond spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Schulmerich. He visited his father, who is in Jones hospital.

J. E. Johnson returned Sunday from two weeks' visit at Garibaldi with his daughter, Mrs. W. A. Walker.

Bud Person, student at Oregon State college, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Person.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Person and daughters spent Sunday at Longview, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Norton of Portland visited at the Sabin home Sunday.

Health Project Carried on by P.-T. A. Groups

November 1 marked the close of the 1936 Summer Round-Up of the children, a major health project of the National Congress of Porents and Teachers.

In Hilsboro, 62 children entering school this year were examined. All the doctors and dentists of Hillsboro gave their services free. A Parent-Teacher committee, headed by Mrs. Charles Douglass, visited the parents and explained the value of checking up on the child's health before he begins his school life. Many children were found whose parents have already recognized this value, and who have regular health examinations for their children by their family doctor. These parents supported and co-operated with the Round-Up committee for the good of all the children in the community. Some children were found who urgently needed corrective care.

Mrs. Dorothy K. Weinstein, the newly appointed school health nurse, is in charge of the follow-up work. Mrs. Weinstein says that out of her years of experience with the health of children she has seen many times that a "child's success in school depends very much upon his physical and mental health."

It was left by the committee that when a child, accompanied by a parent, visited the offices of a family doctor and dentist they had an opportunity for a much more careful health check-up than in group examination.

However, for those who were new in the community, or who did not find time for the doctors' freely offered office visits during the summer, clinics were held in both Peter Boscow and David Hill schools, Tuesday, October 20. Drs. Robb, Huggins, Pitman, Marshall and Pasley were asked to give their time to these clinics. Superintendent Nosler, Mrs. Priest and Miss Jones of the primary grades aided the work.

The National Congress of Parents and Teachers has kept records of the Round-Up since its beginning 12 years ago, and finds that each year the new groups of the school children showed about the same per cent of remediable defects. The reports of last year, 1935, however, show a great improvement and indicate that this movement for the health of little children is having good results all over the United States.

Members of the local committee are Mesdames Charles Douglass, J. W. Barney, George Reule, H. Morrison and H. Haley.

B. and P. Members Visit St. Helens

Members of the Business and Professional Women's club will journey to St. Helens Monday evening where they will join Portland and St. Helens members at a 7 o'clock dinner, followed by a program of music and addresses.

All local members who care to go are urgently requested to notify the president, Elaine Caldwell, by 5 o'clock Friday night so that dinner reservations may be made. A number have offered their cars for transportation, and it is hoped that these and several others may be filled.
