Pythian Sisters Hold District Meeting in City

Attended by a large crowd, the Pythian Sisters' district convention held here Thursday was one of the most successful ever held in this district. Mrs. Estella Johnson was district deputy grand chief, with Mrs. Lena Peters as secretary.

Reception and registration was held from 1 to 1:30 p. m., after which the session was called to order. The address of welcome was given by Mrs. Ella Barney, most excellent chief of the hostess temple, and the response was made by Mrs. Hazel Hollenbeck, past grand chief.

Reports of the temples of the district were given, and temple work was exemplified as follows: Officers' march, Fern Temple of Yamhill; balloting, Dianicia Temple of McMinnville; installation of officers, Lakeview of Gaston; draping of charter, Vernonia Temple, and memorial service by Phoenicia Temple of Hillsboro.

G. Russell Morgan sang several solos, accompanied by Mrs. Jessie Sewell.

Mrs. Ella Roper of Grants Pass conducted the school of instruction on the different phases of the work, and the district deputy appointed a law committee to answer question as follows: Mrs. Hazel Hollenbeck, past grand chief; Mrs. Nellie Morris of Portland, grand mistress of records and correspondence; Mrs. Barbara Graves of Portland, and Mrs. Emma McKinney, past grand chiefs. Mrs. Ruth Johnson of McMinnville, Mrs. Mattie Joos of North Plains, Mrs. Rose Flett of Yamhill, and Mrs. Florence Holroyd of Forest Grove acted on the resolutions committee.

Delphi Temple extended an invitation to hold the district convention in Forest Grove next year and recommended Mrs. J. P. McGlasson as district deputy. The invitation was accepted.

The banquet was served at the Methodist church at 6:30 by ladies of the church, with Mrs. Emma McKinney acting as toastmaster. Responding to toasts were Mrs. Cora M. Davis of Portland, past supreme chief; Mrs. Ella Roper, grand chief, and other grand and past grand officers present, as well as representatives from all temples present.

The evening session opened with singing of Pythian Sister songs led by Mrs. Ada Qualls with Mrs. Sewell as accompanist. Knights' initiation was exemplified by the officers of North Plains Temple and ladies' initiation by the Forest Grove officers, with the Hillsboro temple degree staff doing the floor work for both initiations.

Mrs. Ella Roper, grand chief, made an address, and also presented certificates of proficiency to some of the officers exemplifying the initiations. Those receiving certificates were Mesdames Florence Holroyd, M. E. C., Lucile Franklin, E. S., Edna Bond, E. J., Eula Shearer, manager, and Velma Weber, P. C., all of Delphi Temple of Forest Grove; Mrs. Mabel Hahn, M. E. C., Miss Eugenia Cypher, E. S., Mrs. Cora Reynolds, E. J., and Mrs. Sadie Hollenbeck, manager, of Friendship Temple of North Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sewell, who have been staff leader and pianist for a number of years, were honored by the temple with gifts. Mrs. Estella Johnson making the presentation. Mrs. Johnson was also presented with a lovely bouquet of roses, Mrs. Barney making the presentation.

A humorous skit, "Grand Opera in Fifteen Minutes," was presented under direction of Mrs. Maud Stannard.

Members attended from Vernonia, Yamhill, Gaston, McMinnville, Forest Grove, North Plains, and Hillsboro of this district, and from the four Portland temples, St. Helens, The Dalles, Oregon City, Independence, and Bend. Grand officers present included Mrs. Roper, grand chief; Miss Margaret Phillips of St. Johns, G. M.; Mrs. Nellie Morris of Portland, G. M. of R. and C.; Mrs. Queen Wood of Independence, G. P.; Mrs. Elsie Thompson of Oregon City, G. G.; Mrs. Hazel Hollenbeck, past grand chief; and Mrs. Harriett Welshons, grand press correspondent. Other visiting dignitaries present were Mrs. Cora M. Davis, past supreme chief; Mrs. Rose Farrington, supreme representative, both of Portland; Mrs. Leo Ballagh of St. Helens, Mrs. Mabel Williams of Yamhill, Mrs. Rae Bater, past grand chiefs; Mrs. Minnie Schott of Portland, past supreme representative, and Mrs. Marie Smith of Bend, past grand guard.

Convention officers were Mrs. Johnson, district deputy grand chief; Mrs. Pearl Taylor of Yamhil, past chief; Mrs. Lucile Franklin of Forest Grove, excellent senior; Mrs. Mary Robinson of McMinnville, excellent junior; Mrs. Eva Hearing of Vernonia, manager; Mrs. Lena Peters, mistress of records and correspondence, and Mrs. Tillie Oakes, mistress of finance, both of Hillsboro; Mrs. Ada Qualls of North Plains, protector, and Mrs. Mildred Koberstein of Gaston, guard.

Convention committees were as follows: Reception, Mesdames Barney, Dora Nelson, Jessie Sewell, and Emma McKinney; flowers, Mrs. Lena Peters and Mrs. Adah Moore; decorations, Mrs. Laura Morgan; refreshments, Mesdames Etta Cook, Ella Wohler, Lottie Gifford and Agnes Brown; dinner, Mrs. Henrietta Emmott and Mrs. Hattie Crandall.
