Red Cross Roll Call In Full Swing Here

Red Cross membership roll call is in full swing all over the county, according to H. A. Kuratli, chairman of the roll call solicitation. "With the grave world conditions today, it is hoped that the county donations this year will be doubled," said the chairman. W. M. Kent, chairman for Hillsboro, asks co-operation of everybody in rolling up a good membership. Hillsboro's contributions last year approximated $870, and it is hoped that it will greatly exceed that amount this year.

A. L. Schaefer of San Francisco, Pacific coast branch manager, sends the following message:

The degree of Red Cross preparedness is contingent upon the results of the roll call which we believe will be three times as important as any previous year.

Chapters and the national organization must be prepared, through roll call funds, to—

1. Carry on the day-by-day or "regular" Red Cross services which have become an integral part of community life throughout the nation.

2. Assume definite responsibilities under the national defense program, and

3. Continue every aid to Britian, China and Finland through the Red Cross War Relief program.

Missionary Rally Largely Attended

Over 40 members and friends of the local Christian church attended the pot-luck dinner and missionary rally held in the basement of the church Monday afternoon. Missionary team was composed of Mrs. W. O. Livingstone, district superintendent of the State Missionary society, and Walter G. Menzies, missionary 40 years in India. Program included solo by Mrs. L. C. Kramien, a brief address by Mrs. Livingstone, and the principal feature, the missionary's interesting recital of achievments during his family's experiences the past 40 years in India.

Mr. Menzies showed how the missionaries had been successful in reducing the baby death rate in India by educating the Indian mothers to see that they were killing their babies by feeding them opium to keep them quiet; how the farmers were shown that by proper care of the soil, good seed and rotating of crops they could produce more rice and grain per acre each year; how by vaccination and sanitaition and killing of rates they had aided in stamping out smallpox, dreaded plagues and diseases that killed people by thousands yearly in the villages; how Christianity is superior to all religions and transforming the lives of Indians of all casts.

"Through My Window . . ."

(By Tom Reed)

I was watching a papa cat-bird chirping and showing off how clever he was in keeping his balance on a slender branch of the Japanese Quince and looking teasingly down at my pet kitten Smokey, who returned his teasing stare for a hungry one. And I seemed to hear some woman say: "Humph! Just like a man showing off when danger threatens."

Last summer while sitting by the radio looking out, I noticed a number of green and red ruby throated humming birds sipping honey from the flowers of the Glads, Petunias and the flowering quince bush. After sipping honey for a while, they would zoom straight up into the air and then come straight down in a power dive, you would swear they would hit the ground, but no, just in time they would level off and light on the telephone wire leading into the house.

* * *

A thought came to me. I bet the fellow that invented the dive bomber must have gotten the idea from watching the humming birds perform.

Ever see a mamma chipmunk carry her little munks one at a time up a steep place? No; Well, a mamma chipmunk has an apartment up in our attic and by using the Virginia Creeper growing up the side of the house as her stair case she would bring her brood of four down one at a time for their daily airing. After about an hour's play she would tote'em back up. Each munk would put it's front paws around the mamma's neck and she would take a hold with her teeth the loose skin on the munk's tummy and would cautiously back down the creeper to the ground. She repeated this performance until each little munk was safetly on the ground. The return trip was somewhat harder for mamma chipmunk because after each return trip she would lay on the roof of the house puffing for air like a winded football player. Mamma chipmunk went through this ceremony every day until the munks could scamper down by themselves.

Mrs. W. Alexander Injured in Auto Wreck November 5

After years of driving without an accident, including several trips east, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Alexander of Ocean Lake, formerly of Hillsboro, were struck by a truck in Portland, injuring the passengers and almost demolishing the car.

The accident happened on election day, while the Alexanders were returning home from a trip east, where they had taken delivery on a new Studebaker. Mrs. William Alexander was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital with a bad shoulder, three broken ribs and severe shock. Mrs. Ross Alexander, who was also taken to the hospital with body bruises, has recovered sufficiently to be taken home. The men, who were riding in the front seat, escaped with minor injuries. The whole end of the new car was wrecked.

The Alexanders are well known in this county, having lived in Hillsboro where W. S. was in the automobile business, and the Ross Alexanders near Cornelius, for years before going to the coast.

REPAIR or REMODEL

BUILDINGS NOW!

Winter with its cold, wet days is here!

Did the recent cold snap indicate that your farm buildings provide insufficient protection for stock and storage?

Now is the time to repair or remodel. You'll find it far better and less expensive to act now rather than wait until winter has taken its toll.

Better buildings mean healthier stock, heavier production and adequate protection for storage.
