Crowd Attends Band Concert

HELVETIA—A record crowd attended the Helvetia community band concert Saturday. The program included several band numbers, Dunaway duet—brother and sister—in cowboy songs, a reading by Carl Voges, accordion solo by Robert Zurcher, accompanied by his brother, Burton, and a play, "Sparks from an old Flame." Cast for the play included Lillie Wagner, Wilfred Grossen, Betty Yungen, Joseph Wenzel, Elmer Grossen, and Charlene Wagner.

One of the band numbers, entitled "Westward Ho," was a dramatization of the western movement, including the "covered wagon," "pony express," and "Indian war cry." Cowboy songs by the Dunaway duet, carried out the theme of the western pageant.

After the program, the Helvetia orchestra played for the dance. In labeling the affair as a social and financial success, Joseph Wenzel, band leader, expressed thanks for himself and his band members to all those who helped make it so. He also announced that his junior band will be presented in concert sometime after Easter.
