Bond Program Feature CC Luncheon Next Tuesday; Alcoa Men Presented

A war bond program in connection with the opening of the 7th war loan drive will be given at the chamber of commerce luncheon Tuesday. H. L. MacKenzie, co-chairman of the county war finance committee, is making arrangements.

Representatives of the Alcoa Mining company, mining subsidiary of the Aluminum company of America, told of drilling operations of the company at the luncheon meeting Tuesday. Ernest Messer, resident engineer, said company representatives were civic-minded and wished to co-operate for the betterment of the community.

Messer explained that present operations include drilling in the north part of the county, engineering and chemical analysis to determine whether the material sought is of a quality and in a quantity to make it profitable on a commercial basis. He expressed the hope that it would prove satisfactory, as they all like it here. A laboratory is being set up here in the old Gates pipe plant building on South Third avenue. It was explained that the company was attracted here by a mineral survey released by the state last year.

A. M. Jannsen of the Jannsen Drilling company, who was program chairman, said that four drilling machines are now in the Dixie Mountain area and two more will be put into operation soon.

Company representatives introduced were Earl Gillenwater, field superintendent in charge of drilling, K. E. McDonald and Vance Weatherton, field engineers, and Maurice Bennett, district purchasing agent.

McAlister Radio Service and Valley Heating & Sheet Metal company were announced by Secretary Ed L. Moore as being new members.

officers and area chairmen were pleased with the outcome of the recent drive and stated that county residents had every reason to be proud. Success of the campaign was made possible only by the co-operation and generosity of the public and untiring efforts of campaign workers, he said.

Special appreciation of the county was expressed to the following:

The public who cooperated so patriotically in making the drive a success.

The over 400 area and community chairmen, and solicitors, who freely gave of their time and efforts, with a fine cooperation and determination to attain their goal, which they certainly did in a wonderful manner.

The motion picture theatres of the county who furnished appropriate films and permitted the Red Cross to make collections afterwards.

The speaker's bureau, R. W. Weil, chairman, for furnishing speakers for theatre collections and at other public meetings.

The Motor Corps, Mrs. R. W. Weil, chairman, who made the collections at theatres, distributed supplies and sundry other assistance.

The public utilities; oil and gas companies; corporations and business and professional men and women which gave in the higher brackets.

The churches, Sunday schools, fraternal orders, clubs, civic orders, sewing societies, and women's clubs, for their assistance and contributions. Many of the above in the rural districts gave in cash and entertainments for raising funds.

The chapter secretary, Mrs. Ella Schulmerich, who devoted over a month of her time at chapter headquarters assisting with the campaign.

Multnomah county campaign committee, with whom the local chapter made an agreement to the effect that, in consideration of a large portion of Washington county workers in the Multnomah county defense work, having to contribute there, that this area was to receive $4000. Multnomah county reached its goal.

All others who helped us in various ways with the campaign.

The newspapers of the county who very freely furnished space in their columns to advertise and report the drive, which materially assisted the success we achieved.

East Jackson from North Sixth avenue to North Seventh avenue. City Attorney Paul Patterson was instructed to draw up the necessary sidewalk ordinances.

A resolution of sympathy on the death of the late Mayor Hugh S. Rogers was passed and a copy ordered sent to the family.

Need for a better working arrangement with the county in connection with rural fire calls was brought out in a report by City Manager J. W. Barney, who recommended a charge of $40 for the first hour and $10 for each hour or part thereafter. In order to provide an adequate service, Barney asserted that it was necessary to have one more full time fireman. He pointed out that a sufficient tax had been levied against the rural property involved to enable the county to pay a reasonable fee for rural calls. The council finance committee has been instructed to meet with the county court and work out an arrangement that will more nearly meet the cost to city taxpayers for rural fire service.

Questions of an oil lease at the municipal airport was left in the hands of Barney, Patterson and Councilman J. L. Searcy.

Due to Mayor and Mrs. Griffith leaving Saturday to accompany the body of his mother back to Minnesota for burial, the new council, presided at Tuesday night meeting.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Black Market Versus Brighter Meals

I guess our town doesn't like rationing any better than other folks. But when a fellow went from door to door the other day, peddling butter, cheese, and bacon without points, he didn't find a single taker.

Ed Carey's missus, Sarah, summed it up. "I'd just be ashamed to have that butter on my table," Sarah says. "I'd a heap rather have my family and guests put up with what I can serve honestly, than give 'em a treat from the Black Market."

These days, most people are agreed that a simple menu of unrationed foods and substitutes is a badge of honor . . . no apologies required!

And from where I sit, housewives can brighten limited meals with cheerful table decorations, sparkling cider or tangy ice-cold beer, or side dishes of home-made preserves and fruits and nuts. Those little touches can be mighty helpful to the appetite.
