Former Pastor At Grove Dies

Dr. Jesse W. Bunch, who served as pastor of the Forest Grove Methodist church for six years, died in a Portland hospital Sunday afternoon. Death came within two hours after he was reassigned as pastor of the church at Tillamook. He had been ill only about a month.

Dr. Bunch joined the Oregon annual conference in 1936, coming from the presidency of the Intermountain Union college at Helena, Mont. He was ordained in 1914 and began his ministry in Rock Island, Ill. Following an appointment in South Bend, Ind., he was sent to Montana, where he served churches in Fort Benton, Roundup and First church at Missoula before becoming district superintendent for six years.

Besides Forest Grove, he also served the churches at Corvallis and Tillamook in Oregon.

He is survived by his wife; a son, the Rev. Dodds B. Bunch, pastor of the Laurel Methodist church, Oakland, Cal.; daughter, Mrs. Ardis Gustafson, Portland, and three grandsons.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon in the Forest Grove Undertaking company chapel.

All local, social and fraternal news should be turned in at the Argus for publication in that week not later than Tuesday and earlier if possible. tf

Sprague New Head Oregon Publishers

Charles A. Sprague, publisher of the Oregon Statesman at Salem and former governor of Oregon, was elected president of the Oregon Newspaper Publishers' association at the annual meeting at Gearhart last week. He succeeds T. B. Purcell of the Gresham Outlook.

O. G. Crawford of the Heppner Gazette-Times was named vice-president, and Frank Jenkins, Klamath Falls Herald and News, treasurer. J. W. Forrester, Jr., Coos Bay Harbor at North Bend, was elected as a new member of the board of directors, and William Tugman, Eugene Register-Guard, was named to represent the association on the Eric W. Allen Memorial fund board of trustees.

Attending from Washington county were Mr. and Mrs. W. Verne McKinney of the Hillsboro Argus and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McGilvra of the Forest Grove News-Times.

Temperature Soars To 94 in Hillsboro

Hottest day of the year in Hillsboro was last Wednesday, June 19, when the temperature soared to 94, according to A. W. Moore, local observer.

The maximum temperature dropped six degrees the next day, another six on Friday, and on Saturday and Sunday was only 67.

The thing that really makes men equal is that we all can change.

Hillsboro Has New Business

Two former Oregon State College football luminaries, Elmer Kolberg and Ade (Tar) Schwammel, and H. A. Dryer opened business in Hillsboro Friday under the name of H. A. Dryer Co., selling all-purpose Quonset buildings.

As agent for Titan Metals Products corporation of Portland the firm offers a wide variety for farmers with nuts of three sizes which have such uses as chicken houses, barns, granaries and machine sheds. The new business is located at present at 232 E. Main street east of the J. C. Penney company store.

New School Site Proposal Defeated

WEST UNION—The recommendation to reconsider the site for the proposed new building was voted down 61 to 40 at the meeting of school district No. 1 at West Union school June 17. A special levy to purchase the site on the Leppin property was approved, and the budget was also okayed by a vote of 98 to 2. Jack Jossi was elected to succeed Conrad Dick as director for a three-year term.

Kleinpell Sentenced

Taril Bernard Kleinpell, San Francisco, Cal., charged with larceny, was sentenced to the state penitentiary for a period of not to exceed three years by Circuit Judge R. Frank Peters in circuit court June 21. Kleinpell had entered a plea of guilty and waived time for sentence. Melvin G. Hieber, deputy district attorney, represented the state in the case.

Kleinpell was arrested by Sgt. Walter Hadfield of the state police on a charge involving theft of an automobile June 14.

Ken Voges Leaves

Pvt. Kenneth Voges, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Voges, left Friday for Camp Kilmer, N. J., on Northwest Airlines. Voges re-enlisted in January for three years. He will now be stationed with the military police in Europe.

Service News

Army Recruiting Deadline Given

Lt. Col. William M. Cohoon, commanding officer of the Oregon district army recruiting service, has announced that all army recruiting stations will remain open until midnight on June 30 for the purpose of permitting all ex-servicemen who desire to re-enlist in their discharge grade and have not exceeded the three months deadline to re-enlist in the highest grade either permanent or temporary held at the time of their discharge.

Those men who have been released for a period greater than 90 days will have an opportunity to re-enlist in a grade commensurate with their training and experience provided they do so before midnight June 30, 1946.

After June 30 any person who enlists will not be guaranteed the family allowances during the entire period of their enlistment. The nearest recruiting station for this area which will remain open on that date is located at 614 S. W. 11th avenue, Portland 5, Oregon.

Poultry-Culling Demonstrations Set

Two poultry-culling demonstrations will be held in Washington county on July 2, the first at 10 a. m. at the Glen Epler farm located approximately half a mile west of the Forest Grove-Gaston highway about two miles south of Forest Grove. The second will be held at the W. A. Thayer poultry farm a quarter of a mile east of Reedville at 1:30 p. m., reports Palmer S. Torvend, county agent.

The culling will be conducted by N. L. Bennion, extension poultryman of Oregon State college, and anyone who is interested is invited to attend.

T3 Ann Clark Visits

T/3 Ann Clark leaves today (Thursday) to return to Camp Kilmer, N. J., after an 18-day visit with her husband, Lee Clark, and daughter and son, Evelyn and Lester. Mrs. Clark, who has served with the WACs since September, 1943, is in the overseas replacement division at Camp Kilmer, and reports that 350 of the 600 women called for have been sent overseas.
