Lewis Fighting Order of Court In Coal Strike

John L. Lewis Wednesday challenged the right of a federal court to try him for contempt of court in the soft coal strike, citing a congressional act restricting the use of injunctions in labor disputes. Joseph Padway, general counsel for the American Federation of Labor, appearing in Lewis' behalf for first time, promptly cited the Norris-LaGuardia act in opening arguments for dismissal of the case.

A 10-day extension of the temporary restraining order which directed Lewis to call off the United Mine Workers' strike was ordered Wednesday by Judge Goldsborough.

At issue was whether Lewis should be punished for permitting his 400,000 soft coal miners to quit work November 20, despite a court order.

Federal Judge Goldsborough told Lewis' United Mine Workers Wednesday there made "a very great mistake" in walking out before the courts ruled on a contract dispute with the government.

Unemployment in coal-dependent industries soared past the 70,000 mark Tuesday as the government pressed for speed in its legal battle against Lewis.

Officials acted to ration coal to schools and government buildings throughout the nation Monday night as John L. Lewis told a federal court in Washington, D. C. that he stands on his contract termination notice and was ordered to trial for contempt.

The "dangerously short" coal supple for Washington state compelled the issuance of orders Monday which will soon close moving picture theatres in four cities, several office buildings in Yakima and some schools in three cities.

Substitute Heat Promised

Spokesmen for three pipeline companies told the house surplus property committee their companies were prepared to move natural gas through the Big and Little inch lines to the east in from two to four weeks.

Families Return

Families evacuated by threat of floods in the Eugene area returned to their homes in the lowlands Wednesday as the crest of a rain-swollen Willamette river swept through the middle valley a few feet below flood stage, except at Harrisburg. Wednesday some highways and many fields were inundated as the river left its banks in the flat valley area between Eugene and Salem Tuesday night.

St. Paul Teachers Strike

Union teachers striking for higher salaries closed the schools of St. Paul, Minn., Monday and the school board, looking to the legislature for the necessary funds, was told "no blank checks."

Dispute Halts Ship Loading

Lumber loading upon three ships in the Portland area was halted Monday and Tuesday, almost before it had been started with the resumption of work, owing to a new dispute between the CIO checkers union and waterfront employers over the "marking off" of lumber in ships' holds.

Americans Rescued

Two daring Swiss pilots, making eight shuttle trips in ski-equipped planes, Sunday plucked a dozen hungry but happy Americans off the Alpine glacier where they had been marooned five days after their plane made a forced landing.

Work Against U. S.

Louis F. Budenz, former Communist editor, testified before a house committee Friday that Russian secret police probably are operating in America as part of a Soviet conspiracy against the people and safety of the United States." Budenz, who renounced Communism and the editorship of the Daily Worker to rejoin the Catholic church, said that "military conflict" could flow from the conspiracy he described.

Argue Troop Listing

Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov accepted a United States proposal for a full accounting of allied troops on former enemy territories but shied away temporarily from a United States demand that the Russians make a complete report on all red forces, at home and abroad.

Romania Formally Accused

The state department formally accused Romania Tuesday of violating a pledge of free and unfettered balloting by permitting election "manipulations" and "terrorism."

Draft Return Probable

Sagging recruitment figures make it increasingly probable that the army will have to resume inductions after January 1.

Return to Work

Last maritime union approves return to work on Pacific coast.

Indians Upheld

Four tribes of Oregon Indians who went on the legal warpath are entitled to payment for 2,770,000 acres of land taken from them without compensation in 1855, the U. S. supreme court ruled Monday.

Projects Restored

President Truman has approved a $55,000,000 increase in funds for flood control works and a $15,000,000 increase for the rivers and harbors program. This will include the Willamette valley project.

Buying Power Holds

Four years of wartime stabilization left weekly earnings and consumer prices in about the same relationship as when the program began, preliminary and official figures revealed in Washington Thursday.

Murray Re-elected

Philip Murray was re-elected to his seventh year as president of the CIO.

THE OLD HOME TOWN By STANLEY

High Farm Output Asked for Again In Oregon Goals

Another year of high output from Oregon farms and ranches is called for in the state production goals for 1947, reports E. Harvey Miller, chairman of the state PMA committee. Total crop acres recommended for 1947 are about the same as this year, but sharp adjustments are asked for some crops.

The needs for meeting a strong domestic demand, for building reserves of some commodities and for sending some foods still badly needed to war-devastated countries have resulted in the call for a high 1947 output, Miller pointed out. This means that farmers are asked to defer for another year the return to peacetime patterns of production.

Final state goals which have been approved to date were listed as follows:

Spring pigs, 25,000 sows to farrow, nine per cent increase from the 23,000 in 1946.

Rye, 38,000 acres, same as 1946.

Sugar beets, 22,000 acres, up 10 per cent from this year's record 20,000.

Dry peas, 22,000 acres (8000 smooth, 14,000 wrinkled), same as this year.

Austrian peas, 25,000 acres, up 72 per cent from this year's 14,500 acres.

Crimson clover, 2800 acres, down 13 per cent from the 2300 acres harvested in 1946.

Hairy vetch, 55,000 acres, up 45 per cent from this year's 38,000 acres.

Common and Willamette vetch, 96,000 acres, down 21 per cent from this year's 109,000 acres.

Common ryegrass, 80,000 acres, down 18 per cent from this year's 98,000 acres.

Wheat, 1,000,000 acres, down eight per cent from this year's 1,085,000 acres.

Potatoes, 45,400 acres, down 12 per cent from this year's 52,000 acres.

Some of the final goals for fall seeded crops differ in the percentage change from 1946 from the goals announced earlier before planting time. This represents revisions in 1946 production figures, as suggested acreages for 1947 remain unchanged, Miller explained.

Suggested state goals submitted by the department of agriculture for other crops and commodities will be considered by the Oregon USDA council within the next few weeks, the PMA chairman said. These include dairy, livestock and poultry goals, barley, oats, hay, and hay and pasture crop seeds.

Less than one per cent of veterans who have entered in education or job training programs under the G. I. bill have exhausted their entitlement.

No Price Increase Contemplated by Ford

The Ford Motor company does not contemplate any increase in the prices of Ford cars and trucks, according to word received by the MacKenzie Motor company. Statement by the company, in part, is as following:

"We do not contemplate any increase in the prices of Ford Motor Company cars and trucks.

"We realize that many serious inequalities existed in former OPA prices on repair parts, and that some of our suppliers, as well as ourselves, were forced by OPA ceilings to sell at a considerable loss, involving unnecessary hardship. It is our intention to adjust, where necessary, the prices of certain repair parts in order to correct this situation.

"Most of you are aware of the huge losses that will be incurred by the Ford Motor Company in this year's operations. There is plenty of justification for our raising prices at this time in order to give the company a fair and reasonable profit on its sales. However, we feel that it is vitally necessary, during this critical period of adjustment, that all industry co-operate to avoid precipitous or unjustified increases in prices."
