Two Seeking Post On School Board

portance to all of us, if elected I will endeavor in the most efficient manner possible to obtain the facilities and organization necessary for our children's education."

Dr. Soderholm said he favors "a building program which would give adequate facilities and a modern school plant for our grade school children." He said he also favors "an adequate recreation program," adding that he favors a covered swimming pool over an outdoor pool to be operated in conjunction with the school system if possible.

Other members of the school board, with dates their position expire are: Mrs. Lena C. Peters 1946; Byron M. Goodman, 1950; A. J. Hartrampf, 1951, and Keith Wilcox, 1952.

Budget to Be Decided

Also to be decided at the Monday election is the district's 1948-4 budget estimate and tax levy. The levy, set last month by the school board and approved by the budget committee, is $151,20. The figure is an increase of $35,224 over the 1946-47 levy, an increase brought about mainly by a $32,980 bond interest and sinking fund, which was added to the budget this year.

The levy exceeds the six per cent limitation by $81,589.19. The total levy of 1946-47 was outside the limitation by $83,175. Last year's levy was $53,462 outside the limitation.

Among principal reasons for the increase in tax levy is the increased cost of personal services and increased budget allowance for capital outlays because of new buildings, street improvements and ground improvements.

Next to the sinking fund, the largest increase in expenses is recorded for teachers and principals. Expenses for teachers, substitutes and principals is given as $121,390 on the new budget. Last year the figure was $101,127.

Plant Expenses Increase

Expense for operation of the plant also shows a substantial increase. Cost for janitors, supplies, fuel, light and power, water and other janitorial supplies is up from $11,775 last year to $16,250 on the new budget. Insurance and sewer rental increases are up from $7960 to $9800.

Capital outlays for new furniture and assessments for betterments in increased from $7372 last year to $15,020 this year. The emergency fund was set at $6110, an increase of $4610 in the past year. The budget also includes $9000 for the special improvement fund for new sites, buildings and equipment, the last year this fund is to be raised.

Total expenditures of the district were estimated at $245,400, of which $203,420 is in the general fund. The remainder is made up by the $32,980 bond interest and sinking fund and the $9000 special improvement fund.

Total receipts were estimated at $107,895, of which $72,845 will come from the basic school support fund. Other estimated receipts include $16,500 from the county school fund, $12,800 from the cafeteria, $2500 from delinquent taxes, $1500 from the state irreducible school fund, $1000 from work books and industrial arts, $500 from elementary tuition, $50 from rentals and $200 from other sources.

Members of the budget committee are: A. W. Hoffman, chairman; William O. Joos, secretary; James Burdett, John Hare and Jack Searcy.

SUPPLIES FOR FLOODED PORTLAND—Army planes have landed at Hillsboro airport with several loads of clothing, bedding, etc., from California. A Volunteer of America truck was on hand Sunday to rush these to the stricken area. Shown assisting with the work were: Lt.-Col. Ida N. Spiess, executive director and state commander of the V. of A.; Acting Captain Earl F. Cooper, in charge of industrial relief; Omar Bridges and Harvey Eads (in the background); Joseph A. Spiess, husband of the colonel; Adjutant Belle Leach, director of social work. This particular shipment came from the Carbillo Home Tenant Council in Southern California.—(Hillsboro Studio photo)

Baby-Sitters, Family Life Training Asked

usually a sign that something is wrong. When he develops into a truant his case is more urgent. Child guidance must be provided immediately in such cases.

Play Areas Necessary

Discussing recreation and leisure-time activity, she urged that cities take over land immediately and develop it into recreation centers and parks. "We must get that land now," she added, "for you can't train people without space and without paying for it."

Criticizing the pinch-penny tactics of most American taxpayers, she said, "It is wrong to refuse to provide things such as recreational areas and recreational programs for children. It is cheaper to pay for these things than it is to go without them."

She urged that "oldsters and youngsters" plan community recreation programs together, and that the entire town cooperate in the venture. She emphasized the need for children having opportunity to express their own ideas with adult guidance, adding that "too many youth centers are smothered to death or mothered to death." It was at this point where she recommended that young mothers take over more leadership in youth movements.

Responsibility Listed

"It's up to Aunt Stella to baby sit for her niece's baby so niece can help guide our youngsters and become a youth leader. Those young mothers can't afford baby sitters so women's clubs can provide baby sitters while the young mothers take over the leadership and guidance of Girl Scouts, recreation centers and other activities. That is the work of women's clubs, parent-teacher organizations, health groups, churches and other organizations."

Expressing a thought new to some of the persons present at the meeting, Miss Scurlock said clubs in this country "too often do too much for children for whom too much is being done already, while others are neglected."

She urged that memberships in clubs and youth activities be better distributed and that more children be made to earn their memberships in clubs. She suggested such methods as cleaning yards, planting trees, clearing parks, helping build city parks and recreation centers and swimming pools and other projects.

Use Boys More

"Children love to work at things together," she pointed out. "We should use them more and pamper them less. Boys love to work as long as they work together."

As a method of strengthening Parent-Teacher organizations, it was recommended that each member take a friend or neighbor who is not a member to a meeting. This was given as the best means of stirring interest in the PTA. Miss Scurlock said parents should belong to their PTA not only for the good of the community and school but also for the sake of the child. She explained that children are proud of the activities of their parents.

Miss Scurlock was introduced by Mrs. F. Abendroth, local director of youth conservation activities of the Coffee club.
