One Bob Bests Another Sunday

Bob Richardson and Bob Cat, both of the Shady Brook district, tangled Sunday. Bob Richardson won but not until he was given the scare of his life.

Richardson was on the prowl for a bob cat Sunday morning on his farm, accompanied by five eager young hounds belonging to R. F. Adams who live on the Mason Hill road. The hounds treed a young cat and Richardson fired his 22 caliber rifle, hitting the predator in the stomach.

About that time Richardson got his scare. The frightened bobcat came down out of the tree—but fast—and the hunter who had suddenly become the hunted got out of the way while the hounds drove the cat up another tree. This time Richardson killed the animal with a shot to the head.

Richardson is having the animal stuffed. The bobcat measured 40 inches long.
