DAV Day Sunday; Solidarity Urged

As part of a special observance planned for next Sunday, December 4—Disabled American Veterans Day—Washington County Post No. 7 of Disabled American Veterans urges residents of this community to give special thought to the problems of the disabled veteran.

Asking that every disabled veteran join force swith DAV to present a strong united organization of the war-handicapped, M. C. Scheuffele, local commander, said: "We must gird for the future and fight hospital cutbacks. We must fight attacks on civil service preference of disabled veterans. We must present a solid organization working solely for our fellow comrades."

DAV Day was established in 1945 by presidential proclamation. It was originated at the suggestion of DAV to bring to the attention of the nation on the anniversary of Pearl Harbor the great number of men and women disabled and killed in the last war.

For their war-incurred disabilities, 2,200,000 men are receiving compensation from the Veterans administration. Still in government hospitals are 103,000 ex-GIs.

James R. Black Buried Monday

James Robert Black, 60, route 1, resident of the North Plains community for the past 22 years, died at his home November 23. Funeral services were held last Monday at Young's Funeral Home in Hillsboro with burial in the family plot in Arcadia cemetery.

Mr. Black was born December 14, 1888, at Whitehouse, Ohio. He came to Oregon with his family in 1927, and settled in Washington county, where he engaged in beef and stock farming. His wife, Meta, died in June of this year.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Virginia Mae Sams of Cornelius; two sisters, Mrs. Martha Dunn and Mrs. Edna Macomber, Whitehouse, Ohio; and two grandchildren, Douglas T. and Peggy Lou Sams, route 1, Cornelius.

John F. Martyn Services Held

Funeral services for John F. Martyn, route 2, Beaverton, who died November 27, were held at Finley's Mornninglight chapel in Portland Tuesday morning.

Survivors include the widow, Irene; three children, Maryjane and Stanley W. Martyn and Mrs. LaRoy Barna, and a sister, Mrs. Emma Merchant.
