A PROMINENT MAN GONE.

Hon. George R. Helm departed this life at 11 A. M. Sunday, October 29th, 1876, after a lingering illness of many long weary months. The larger portion of deceased's life had been spent in Oregon, right here in Linn county, and he had been honored by the people of the county, on three occasions, we believe, by an election to the State Legislature. In 1868, we believe, he was elected County Clerk, and the same year was united in marriage to Miss Francis Avery, daughter of the late Hon. J. C. Avery, of Benton county. After retiring from the office of Clerk he was again elected to the Legislature, and in 1872 was one of the Democratic candidates for Presidential Elector for the State of Oregon. Deceased had been a prominent candidate for Congress, and on the score of faithful service was more deserving and had greater claims on the party than any Democrat in the State. Deceased was born January 14th, 1843, and was therefore thirty-three years old at the time of his death. He leaves a wife and a bright little boy to mourn the loss of a kind husband and indulgent father. He was buried by the Masonic fraternity on Tuesday afternoon, a large concourse following the remains to the house of the voiceless dead. Peace to his ashes.

DEMOCRATIC FAILURE.—Another Democratic failure was witnessed in this city last Saturday. Gen. Jo. Lane was brought out of his seclusion, and paraded through the rain and mud of Saturday to the Court House, where he, assisted by Burnett, undertook to entertain a small audience. Burnett led off in a little talk, the only noticeable remark in which was that: "the only power on earth which prevents the Chinese from voting is the Republican party"—in other words, the Chinaman will never be permitted to vote until the Democracy are placed in power once more. Uncle Jo. Lane then ambled to the front, and in a long and tedious harrangue claimed that he had always been a Union man—never a secessionist, notwithstanding his record. He claimed that he had been offered a Major Generalcy in the Confederate army; he also claimed a similar position had been offered him in the Union army. But he refused both tenders, and came back to Oregon to engage in the occupation of feeding and caring for stock—and during the entire rebellion, this man who had been so greatly honored, had received so much at the hands of his country, never thought it worth his while to raise even his voice in defence of that country when in its direst peril! But then we have devoted more space to the old man than he deserves. The Democracy brought him out as a last resort, hoping to create a little cheap enthusiasm. But, alas, he is an overwhelming failure, and all the money and time used in decorating this relic of Bourbonism has only proven beneficial to the Republican party.

The Republicans seem likely to derive help from an unexpected quarter in the pending campaign. The struggle of Tammany vs. Tammany for the city government promises to be paramount. The defeat of either local faction by the other is political destruction; so each seems disposed to sacrifice national to municipal success. John Kelly doubtless is true to his pledge, but a panic seems impending in which no leadership can control fugitives. Unless some truce is arranged, this conflict promises to reduce the Democratic majority for Tilden in New York city quite one half.

South America.

The rebellion continues in the United States of Colombia. An army of 30,000 men, it is reported, is intended to be raised to suppress it. Fighting has been progressing in Tolimas, where General Delgado defeated the rebels under their chief, Cassabianca. This leader retreated into Antiofa, and the rebel forces at Manizeles, in that State, with whom he formed a junction, are now said to amount to 18,000. Gen. Delgado, of the national army, has joined Gen. Tryillo in the State of Cancia, and their united forces number 9,000. The rebels hold Pastool. No movement has yet been made by the national troops in that direction. General Sanchez, with 15,000 men, guards Popoyan. From that place the capital is safe from a coup de main on the part of the rebels. President Para is expected to enter into Mevillion soon with 15,000 men, and there were some prospects of an end of the rebellion.
