Farm & Garden.

A few days ago cowslips were found growing in a meadow in Albany, Vt.

There are forty-five different kinds of wood growing on one farm in Glover, Vt.

It cost thirty-one New York milkmen $1080 in fines for watering their milk a short time ago.

Oats grown on clay land make the best meal, keep the longest and bring the highest price.

Australia has a larger acreage of wheat than Great Britian, while our acreage is twelve times as large.

Most of the fine imported Italian olive oil used for making salads is squeezed out of cotton seeds in our Southern States.

Some dairymen estimate that buttermilk is worth ¼ to ⅓ more and others 2 times as much, as skim milk.

Now is the time to build and paint your farm gates so that they will be ready for immediate use when the proper season arrives.

A tablespoonful of carbolic acid in two gallons of water is said to prove as destructive to the currant worm and rose bug as hellebore.

Nutmeg trees bear for seventy or eighty years, having ripe fruit upon them at all seasons. A fine tree in Jamaica has ever 4000 nutmegs on it every year.

One dollar's worth of food when the cow is dry is worth $1.50 after she comes in. An animal in poor condition can not digest as much food as one in good condition.

When a farmer neglects or refuses co-operating with his brother farmers he strikes a blow at the advancement of his class and becomes his own worst enemy.

Prof. Riley says that the heat and drought of the past Summer have killed off the Hessian fly, and that immunity from its attacks may be expected for some years to come.

Do not forget to blanket your horses when standing in the street this cold weather. Horses recently clipped and blanketed in the stable should not be allowed to stand in the street uncovered.

A black walnut grove, that was planted by a Wisconsin farmer about twenty years ago on some waste land recently sold for $7,000. The trees are now from sixteen to twenty inches through.

Carbonate of ammonia is nearly as volatile as liquid ammonia. Sulphate of ammonia is not volatile, but easily soluble. Muriate of ammonia, sal ammoniac of commerce, is less soluble than the sulphate.

The garden should be manured and plowed in Winter so as to give time for the fresh manure to be changed into plant food and to kill the eggs of insects. It is a prime necessity to a good crop of garden vegetables.

The crop report for Michigan, published by the secretary of the state, compiled from reports made during the present month, indicates that wheat has been sown on 1,834,529 acres. The condition is better than it was last year at this time.

Frank P. Abbott of Stetson, Me., a short time ago killed two pigs 7½ months old that weighed 340 and 355½ pounds. He killed another at the same time 13 months old that weighed 492½ pounds. The latter was kept last Winter and Summer on raw potatoes and apples.

Wheat contains about 69 per cent. of heat-producing, and 11 per cent. of flesh-forming, elements. Indian corn, about 70 per cent. of heat-producing starch and oil, and 9 per cent. of flesh-formers. Beans and peas, about 52 per cent. of heat-producing oil and starch, and 25 per cent. of flesh-formers.

To those contemplating the drainage of land, it is a good time to haul the tiles and place them beside the ditches already dug, or where they are to be dug, during the Winter. At events they should be ordered early and hauled to the farm, so that there will be no delay when Spring arrives.

Selling milk at less than two cents per quart and buying grain at from $30 to $40 per ton is not a very good outlook for farmers living where taxes are high and the land mortgaged. It requires pretty good cows to make milk enough, at two cents per quart, to pay for the grain they consume, if they are fed liberally through the whole year.

This much should be settled with all farmers, that they raise all they can with the least possible expense, which they never can do by slighting their work. Fields should never be half-cultivated to save the expense of doing it well; and a small quantity premises better paying results.

The various trades and occupations depend in a greater or less degree upon the farmer for success in their different callings, and where will you find the professional man, the merchant, artisan or mechanic who can say he does not measure his success or failure, in a greater or a less degree, by the prosperity or adversity of the farming community?

$1500 per year can be easily made at home working for E. G. Rideout & Co., 10 Barclay St., New York. Send for their catalogue and full particulars
