CHARLES B. MOORES,
Register.

MONDAY.

DURING 1899.

Albany progressed steadily and reliably, but not boomingly, we are glad to report. We are not after booms and bubbles. At the beginning of the new year nearly every house in Albany is occupied. In fact there is a demand for suitable residences.

There was some building of a substantial character. Practically a new court house has been erected at a cost of nearly $20,000, an ornament to the county seat of the best county in the state. A fine new A. O. U. W. hall has been built. Mr. Gradwohl and Mr. Pfeiffer have erected brick blocks for business purposes. Dr. G. W. Grey, Mr. Chris. Howland others have erected fine residences that are a credit to the city, and our established institutions have generally improved their property.

The Magnolia Mills Co. added many thousand dollars worth of machinery to ther mill, which was also improved. The Water works have been enlarged in capacity. The Woolen Mills have during the year increased the bussiness of the company in a marked manner. Albany's two chair factories have done a thriving business. The creamery has kept up its splendid reputation, sending out an output to the capacity of the outfit of a high grade character. The Pacific Mattress works have had a steady business. The Albany Nurseries have sent their trees and plants to all parts of the coast, their business constantly increasing, and other local institutions report advancement. The merchants of the city report a good trade, though not sensational, and even the newspapers are thriving

The prospects for the coming year are excellent, and among the best is the prospect of a big mill by the Curtis Lumber Co.

Rainfall During 1899.

In view of the fact that Oregon is sometimes called Webfoot the report of the rainfall at this city during 1899 as kept by Mr. French is of considerable interest. It is as follows in inches:

January	5.57
February	5.19
March	5.75
April	2.98
May	2.56
June	.64
July	.03
August	3.20
September	1.30
October	3.17
November	8.79
December	7.45
Total	46.63

THE OREGONIAN ANNUAL which appeared today is one of the most elaborate special editions ever issued on the coast. It is great in every feature, covering in a marked manner the industries of this wonderful part of the United States. The pictorial supplement illustrates in an artistic manner the entire Northwest country and is replete with suggestive pictures of this country. Sent east this edition will speak in a telling manner for Oregon, and as well for the enterprise of the publishers, who have spared no expense to make it a credit to themselves and the state.

A new list of subscribers to the telephone system in this city has been issued. It contains 158 names; being a large increase. The system is well managed in Albany and is being generally appreciated by the public. It is a good thing and deserves the support of people who believe in modern up-to date conveniences.

On account of several expected changes in the boundaries of the voting precincts voters are requested not to register before the 15th of the month, when it is thought everything will be ready.

On January 12 the Albany indoor base ball team and the College basket ball team will play with the O. A. C. teams at Corvallis.

Albany Won.

The Albany indoor base ball team defeated the Y. M. C. A. team of Salem Saturday evening 19 to 15. The Statesman's account of the game is as follows:

The first match game of the season of indoor base ball was played last evening at the Y. M. C. A gymnasium to a fair sized audience. The usual difficulties among the players over the decisions of the umpire were absent and a good clean game was played. The Association team was not up to its usual form and the unavoidable absence of two good members of the team resulted in a victory for the visitors by a score of 19 to 15. Under the conditions a defeat was expected, but a return game will be played at Albany within ten days, and the Salem boys will be in shape to play with their usual speed.

Salem Selected.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Willamette Valley Choral Union at the College last Saturday afternoon Salem was selected as the place for the May festival, it being impossible to hold it in Albany on account of our not having an opera house. Prof. Seeley was elected festival director and H. S. Gilean, H. W. Swafford, of Salem, president and vice president to fill vacancies.

It was decided to produce two works, Haydn's Creation and Mendessohln's St. Paul. The choruses will be from Eugene, Corvallis, Albany and Salem which intends to furnish 150 singers, and will begin rehearsing next week for the great event. The soloists will be from the cities mentioned and Portland.

J. A. Wilson, deputy U. S. marshal, was in the city yesterday.

Miss Lillie Crawford is spending New Years with Miss Cecil Rampy of Harrisburg.

J. M. Ralston has moved into his new office in Cusick block, one of the neatest in the valley.

The condition of Mrs. Judge Powell is gradually growing worse with prospects of her living only a few hours.

Miss Itha Cheedle, who has been teaching school near the Dalles is in the city on a visit with friends.

Mr. Harry Upham, a
