Stricken Down with Heart Disease.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Gentlemen: I feel it my duty, as well as a pleasure, to publish, unsolicited, to the world the benefit received from Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies. I was stricken down with Heart Disease and its complications, a rapid pulse varying from 90 to 140 beats per minute, a choking or burning sensation in the wind pipe, oppression in the chest, much pain in the region of the heart and below lower ribs, pain in the arms, shortness of breath, sleeplessness, weakness and general debility. The arteries in my neck would throb violently, the throbbing of my heart could be heard across a large room and would shake my whole body. I was so nervous that I could not hold my hand steady. I have been under the treatment of eminent physicians, and have taken gallons of Patent Medicine without the least benefit. A friend recommended your remedies. She was cured by Dr. Miles' remedies. I have taken three bottles of your New Heart Cure and two bottles Nervine. My pulse is normal, I have no more violent throbbing of the heart. I am a well man. I sincerely recommend every one with symptoms of Heart Disease to take Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies and be cured.

About two inches of wet snow greeted the eyes of Ashland people on the streets on the morning of the 14th, but had nearly all gone before evening. It has been snowing in Klamath county, too.

Albany Democrat: Two horses were sold today for $10.50 and $2.25 apiece to satisfy a chattel mortgage. They were cayuses and would not bring much, at any time; particularly in winter.

Four traveling musicians arrived here last night and performed in several of the saloons. They tramp the country carrying their own tents, blankets, cooking utensils, besides their musical instruments.

Henry Owen says the cattle thieves have got away with seven head for him. He would not have cared so much if they had informed him of the filching, so that he could have saved the cost of riding over the country for a month looking for the missing brutes.

Presiding Elder Jones must think "Jordan is a hard road to travel." The Grant's Pass Courier of last week says: "Elder Jones returned Monday from a siege of tramping through the mud in Coos county. He was obliged to 'hoof it' for a distance of 50 miles as the stage was drawn off on account of the mud."

Judge Fullerton will hear the motion for the confirmation of the O. P. sale next Tuesday, Dec. 26. It will be hotly contested, and the general opinion is, should be denied. There is a general dissatisfaction with the outlook on account of the lowness of the bid, particularly among employes and those holding O. P. script.

Coos Bay News: House cats are numerous around deserted logging camps and do more in destroying game birds than all other causes combined. Young coveys of pheasants, grouse and quail are rapidly exterminated, and in view of this fact it is no wonder that game birds are getting scarcer. A hunter should never miss an opportunity to shoot a house cat when he finds it running wild in the woods.

The following from Mankato, Kan., beats the record on legislation taking away the people's rights: The city council to increase the funds of the city treasury last evening passed unanimously an ordinance making it a nuisance for any person, man, woman or child, to hereafter sing or whistle "After the Ball" between the hours of 6 and 10 p. m. The offense is punishable with a fine of fifty cents for each performance.

Lagrippe has become epidemic in this country. Few people realize the nature of this deadly malady. It was estimated by the London Lancet that up to and including last winter over five hundred thousand men and women had perished in the British Isles as a result of the epidemic and its sequlae—pneumonia being the most fatal among those attendant maladies. If this estimate is correct—and the Lancet is a very conservative journal—this is one of the most deadly pestilences that has ever preyed upon the race. If the mortality ratio in Great Britian prevailed throughout the globe, it would indicate that some twenty millions of people had perished through this epidemic.

What the Eugene papers have always done for glory it seems that some of the Salem papers charge a round price for. The city republicans are not in a very pleasant frame of mind. It is all over the refusal of Chairman Smith to pay the Journal's bill for whooping'er up for the republican nominees for the council. The Journal published the republican call for meeting and charged them for it $6.75 and $8.50 for publishing the ticket. This made $15.25. Then the Journal had in another bill for $14.75. This was for 73 lines of praise they published and wanted pay for. The astute chairman refused to pay for the puffs stating that the Journal man inserted them as a matter of news and of course he would not pay for them.

STRANGE, EVENTFUL HISTORY.

What an Eastern Paper Says About Mrs. Judge Williams.

During the past year a great deal has been said, written and published regarding the religious peculiarities of Mrs. George H. Williams, of Portland. It would seem that her fame had extended east of the Rocky mountains. A very recent issue of the Kansas City Star has this to say:

A strange, sad story is that which comes from Oregon of the virtual madness of Mrs. George H. Williams, who has been seized by a strange religious mania which induces her to undergo feasts of 40 days in a struggle to attain the condition of communication with the Holy Spirit. Mrs. Williams has had a very strange and eventful history. One of the beautiful daughters of an old river man of Keokuk, Ia., she was unfortunate in her first marriage and went to Oregon, where she employed as her counsel in her divorce case a young lawyer whom she had known in Iowa. The lawyer married his fair client, and, doubtless supported by her ambition, rose to be attorney general of the United States. The attorney-general's wife, a woman of superior beauty and talent, made rivals and enemies, and it will always be believed that it was those enemies who prevented the husband from being confirmed chief justice of the supreme court.

After a brilliant reign and fall from power, such as, perhaps, no other woman ever experienced in Washington, Mrs. Williams disappeared, returning to Oregon. Now she reappears a religious fanatic, the leader, it is said, of a little company of fanatics, putting aside the pomps and vanities and ambitions of the world and seeking with tears and prayers and vigils long to attain to the knowledge of the Holy One, and so come to know the end of the world. There have been in American society but few such transformations as this.

The Minstrels.

Barlow Brother's minstrels, under the management of A. L. Dolson, gave a good entertainment at Rhinehart's opera house last night. The arrangement of the stage in the "first part" was appropriate and effective. The minstrels were all good singers and the orchestra played a fine accompaniment. The jokes were mostly new. "Two Little Girls in Blue," as sung by Howard Powers was most popularly received. Little Percy Williams, the boy boy soprano won the admiration of the audience in his song, "Baby's Letter."

The juggler, Scofield, was a marvel. The contortionist, Scott, was the equal of the best who have performed here. Altogether the evening's amusement was very satisfactory to those who attended.

Daily Guard, Dec. 19.

Four Prisoners.—Four young men were brought to this city, from Mabel precinct on the Mohawk last evening to serve out a fine of $15 each in the county jail. Their names are Ernest Barnes, Edward Barnes, Edward Banta and Sherman Banta. Their offense consisted in carrying concealed firearms to a religious meeting and raising a disturbance. When they were arrested and brought before Justice W. Adams they plead not guilty. They were given a trial and the jury convicted them. Thereupon the justice fined each of them $15 and costs and in default of payment all were remanded to jail. Although hardly men grown they are lacking in anything like refinement of conscience and seemed to enjoy being incarcerated in the beautiful structure as an event which added dignity to their lives.

Died.—Walter Rhinehart, a son of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Rhinehart, died at his home, in Condon, Gilliam county, Monday, December 11, says an exchange. About six months ago he fell from a ladder and received injuries from which he never recovered. About two weeks ago he was prostrated from over-exertion and never recovered. He was born in Lane county, Oregon, March 4, 1865, and came to Gilliam county in 1883. Two years later he married Miss Ella Anderson of Mayville. He leaves a loving wife, two children, a boy and a girl, aged respectively 6 and 8 years to mourn his untimely death. He was a hard-working, industrious young man, and was universally respected by all who knew him.

Albany Democrat: "Good morning, have you been indicted," is the way prominent Portland men greet each other.

We give a synopsis of President Cleveland's Hawaiian message in today's Guard. It should receive the careful consideration of every reader.

A knot is a geographical mile, or two minutes of the earth's surface, or 1-60th of a degree of a great circle. This is 1,153, a little less than 1 1-6 times the statute mile of 5280 feet. So when the Columbia made over 25 knots on a spurt in her trial trip, she steamed at the rate of about 31 miles an hour, or pretty fair railroad speed.

Union Journal: The residence purchased for Mrs. U. S. Grant at San Diego, California, was, until recently, the property of Rev. S. G. Havermale, who was pastor of the M. E. church at Walla Walla about fifteen years ago. He moved from Walla Walla to Spokane, where he took up a homestead that afterwards became the center of the city. He became very rich by the sale of town lots in Spokane, went to San Diego, and struck the boom at its height, invested and lost. The house sold Mrs. Grant cost $92,000, and is one of the finest residences in Southern California.

It would be difficult to convince the average man, especially the Missouri pioneer, that fir is a stronger wood than oak, but such has been proved by actual tests that were made by a fair and impartial committee appointed for that purpose. The timbers used were each 2x4 inches and four feet long, both ends solidly braced and the weight applied in the middle of the span. Yellow fir stood a strain of 3,062 pounds, common Oregon oak 2,922 pounds. Fine grained yellow fir from near the butt 3,635 pounds, and best Michigan oak snapped with a strain of only 2,428 pounds. These tests were made by the Northern Pacific Railroad Company at Tacoma, Wash.

THE PORTLAND RING.

Salem Journal, Rep.: From the present outlook, unless the jury is bribed, in the cases now before the federal court, the chances are that a very corrupt political ring which have dominated politics in Oregon for some time past, will be broken up. Whether all go to states prison or not, their influence in Portland, in state and federal politics will be annihilated, their hold on the party machinery will be gone and their power for evil will be destroyed.

While some of the gentlemen will probably not be convicted of any crime, they can hardly clear themselves of complicity in the smuggling combine that for enormous pecuniary gain has flooded this state with thousands of coolies in direct violation of law.

One of the best and most respected citizens of Douglas county recently talked tariff to a Roseburg Review representative. "I have made all I have in wool growing," said he, "and I'm for free trade in wool. The higher they have made the tariff the lower the price has gone, and I believe it would be higher if it were on the free list. If I am mistaken and it falls still lower, I am willing to quit the business and try something else. I believe in protecting everybody or nobody, and as no means has yet been found to protect the wheat grower by tariff legislation, I am willing to stand on an equal footing with him. The farmers are the backbone of the country and our protective policy has ruined their market, and taxed them on nearly every necessity of life until many of them are on the verge of bankruptcy. When the farmer is impoverished every branch of business and every industry feels the effect of it, and that is what is the matter with the country now."

The Dalles Times-Mountaineer, Rep., says: The Portland Oregonian has said nothing editorially regarding the frauds that have been brought to light with respect to smuggling opium and the illegal landing of Chinese in that city. With the mammoth nine story building standing as a monument of its success as an exponent of the best interests of the Northwest, it should have sufficient independence to speak out boldly, and not be afraid to use plain and aggressive language in the expression of its opinion. It occupies an anomalous position to the press of the Northwest—sufficient capital to make it independent of any clique or faction. But, perhaps, it has no opinion on this subject, and it is simply waiting for the developing process—great bodies necessarily move slowly.

The latest scheme for dividing Ireland need not be objected to by the Irish people. It is a proposal to create a ship canal from Dublin to Galway bay. The result would be shortening the passage across the Atlantic by nearly a day, making Dublin a first class seaport and greatly increasing the prosperity of the territory through which the canal passes. The project originated with the late Marquis and Anglesey, and its present sponsor is Sir Edward Martin an English railway magnate and a close friend of Mr. Gladstone. The canal is estimated to cost $40,000,000, which is about the sum that Manchester has paid for a 40 mile canal connecting that great manufacturing city with the ocean.

Marshfield, Or., Sun: At a recent meeting of the town board $50 was appropriated to purchase dynamite to blow out the "hogs back" in the channel in front of town. Goodall, Perkins & Co., are to also give $50 for that purpose and in all 1000 pounds of dynamite will be secured. Captain Polhemus has agreed to do the work of placing the explosive and setting it off, free of charge and came up from the lower bay Tuesday with the steamer Wright to take soundings in the vicinity of the shoal. The dynamite will be set off by electricity and all of it at once. We hope the experiment will brings forth the desired results, but whether it will or not remains a question from what we have been able to learn on that subject.

The mortgage debt of the state of New York amounts to $268 for every man, woman and child in the population. This is the heaviest debt burden carried by any state in the Union. More than Kansas, where the per capita mortgage debt is $170, and Colorado, where it is $206. Nor is the great per capita charge accounted for and counterbalanced by the difference between a state with vast wealth of landed properties and one of poverty. For in the ratio of debt to actual value of real estate, New York is again at the head, its figures being 28.16 against 28.13 for Kansas, which stands next on the list.

Charles Newell, superintendent of Harney county Oregon, schools, and editor of the Harney Items has sued the Union Pacific Railroad Company for $10,000 damages, alleging bad treatment and ejectment from the train by Conductor Miller.

"The oldest man in Oregon lives at Oregon City," says the Evening Telegram, "and he is a 100 years old. He voted the democratic ticket for forty-five years which accounts for his long life and good health."

A. S. Lee, of Junction, has been appointed administrator of the estate of the late Isaac Cook, and has furnished bonds in the sum of $15,162. The appraisers of the estate are: J. M. Howard, Ed Bailey and G. C. Millett.

T. J. Elliott and Mr. Patterson spoke Saturday evening at the court house in favor of the populists, to an audience of about sixty persons. Elliott at one time could draw an audience here, but the novelty of his actions seems to have worn off.

Rev. I. G. Knott, formerly pastor of the U. B. church in this city, has accepted a like position with the Presbyterian church at Florence, and has entered upon the duties of the same. His family will remain here for the present.

Farmers Journal: A Legion of 13 charter members was organized at Smithfield, Lane county, by Deputy James Calvert on the 12th. He organized Coyote precinct club about same date with John Simpson, president; John McCullock, secretary.

Saturday's Salem Independent: W. M. Murphy, Alex Lambert and Thomas Kirk were in the city today. Wednesday morning they shoved a skiff into the water at Eugene and arrived here about noon. They killed 52 ducks, but got none until they reached Peoria. They proceeded on home, at St. Paul this afternoon.

The Corvallis Daily News is responsible for the following libellous item: In Lane county, Abraham Tiger and Catherine Steer have taken out a marriage license, says an exchange. This is the fourth matrimonial venture of the lady in the case. Her first husband was named Bear, her second Deer, her third, Steer, and now she will soon loom up with a Tiger by her side.

Oakford Mail: To fully substantiate the fact that Rogue river farmers are making a good thing this year by growing hogs let us cite this: Last Monday Jack Anderson drove 66 hogs to Oakford which in weight averaged 300 pounds each. These were sold to the Southern Oregon Packing Company at 5½ cents per pound—and Mr. Anderson went home with over $1000 in his inside pocket as a result of the sale. How does this compare with 40-cent wheat?

Again Indicted.—Tuesday's Portland Daily Telegram has the following: John Ditenburn and Cohen were jointly indicted for buying, receiving and stealing stolen property by the grand jury today. The articles are alleged a watch of the value of $50 and other property of a considerable amount.

Trial of Dr. Meyer.

New York, Dec. 18.—The case of Dr. Henry Meyer, accused of the murder of Ludwig Brandt by poison, will be given to the jury today. The sensation promised in Lawyer Lewis Chanler's speech failed to materialize, and was explained by a person familiar with the facts. He said: "Brandt is not dead. He was traced to New Mexico and there lost. He is afraid to reveal himself, as he is wanted in a dozen cities for as many crimes, hence the defense could not produce him. All that Meyer is guilty of is defrauding the insurance company by getting a body at the morgue and representing it as Brandt's."

THE OREGON PACIFIC.

The Sale Will Not Be Confirmed Unless the Employes are Paid.

Tuesday's Albany Democrat: John Tway, T. J. Butler, A. McKechnie and Mr. Logger and Mr. Swarts, of the Oregon Pacific employes' committee that went to Rosburg with the petition to Judge Fullerton, returned this noon. They report having been courteously treated and given a fair hearing. Judge Fullerton stated emphatically that the sale would not be confirmed unless provision was made for at least the labor debts of the road amounting to about $400,000. That the interests of the employes will protected in every respect. The motion for confirmation will be heard on the 26th, and also the matter of a new receiver will be considered. The committee were assured that in case of a resale of the road their debts would be taken in payment as well as for the required deposit.

An O. P. bulletin announces that running expenses of the road will be reduced $6000 a month. Wouldn't it be a good idea to begin on the salaries of the receiver, superintendent and attorneys or is it a bluff.

An Albany man is said to have $10,000 in script, for which he paid $6000. He is also entitled to protection to at least the extent of his purchase price.

Wayne MacVeagh, of Pennsylvania, ambassador to Italy.

John P. Irish, of California, naval officer at San Francisco.

A Horrible Crime.

Durango, Mex., Dec. 19.—The prefect of the district of Concordia and a party of rural guards are in close pursuit of the three Mexicans who kidnapped Miss Charlotte Newman, a pretty American girl, a few days ago. Miss Newman was on her way by stage from Agua Caliente to her home at Mazatlin. Four men suddenly appeared on the roadside and covered the stagedriver with revolvers, two men dismounted and stepping to the end of the coach, courteously requested the the young lady to come out. The frightened girl recognized the leader, a magnificent looking fellow, as Jose Valdez, her rejected lover, and begged the passengers to save her. Valdez warned them to do nothing, and as they had no firearms, they dared not protest against the actions of the robbers. After urging Miss Newman to come out without avail, Valdez and his companions took her by force, and carrying her to the horses, placed her on one and tied her to the saddle. They then led the horses into the mountains.

WILLIS' INSTRUCTIONS.

A Brief Synopsis of What Our Minister Was to Do.

Washington, Dec. 18.—Part of the document submitted in writing in connection with the president's message and which has not yet been read, contains the instructions issued to Minister Willis. Under date of December 3rd Willis was instructed to say to the queen that the conditions relative to amnesty must be acquiesced in by her or he could do nothing. If the queen should ask what the United States would do in the way of restoring her power, the minister was directed to reply that the president will not authorize the use of the United States troops, either to restore or maintain her upon the throne. Willis was told to inform the queen that the United States could only act under authority of congress. Willis was directed to tell the provisional government that the president will do all he can under executive authority to restore the queen.

THE CONSPIRACY TRIALS.

Lotan and Jordan on the Stand. Both Got No Illegal Fees.

Portland, Dec. 17.—In the Chinese conspiracy trial today, the defense placed Collector Lotan and Thomas Jordan on the stand. They made general and specific denial of all allegations charging them with illegal acts. Whitney Bobe testified that he had sometimes acted as attorney for Blum and Dunbar, in landing Chinese, for which he received the usual attorney fees and no more.

"Buffalo Bill" for Governor.

Omaha, Dec. 18.—"Buffalo Bill," known to civilized life as William F. Cody, has determined to be a candidate for the republican nomination for governor of Nebraska. He is now living in North Platte, Neb., and is said to have behind his candidacy the entire western part of the state, which has never been represented by the executive office. Cody was tendered a great banquet when he returned from Chicago a month ago, and at this banquet, it is said, this scheme was unfolded. There is a sharp contest between the different factions, and if Governor Crounse tries to secure the renomination Cody will have excellent chances of success.
