Work Will now Proceed.

DENVER, June 5.—The strike at Cripple Creek has been settled. Late this evening the conference between Governor Waite, J J Hagerman and David H. Moffat resulted in an agreement which is satisfactory to all parties. The conference began at 8 o'clock at the request of Governor Waite, and as soon as the party assembled the governor announced that he was authorized to act for the miners, and the consideration was begun. One point caused considerable complication, and that was the time allowed for luncheon. The miners demanded 30 minutes, and that they be allowed pay for the time. The articles of agreement provide that the miners shall work eight hours a day with 30 minutes for lunch; that they be paid at the rate of $3 per day, and that the mine-owners employing men shall not discriminate against either union or nonunion miners. At the conclusion of the conference the governor issued a proclamation calling upon all people in El Paso county who were forcibly holding the property of others, and who were bearing arms in violation of law, to deliver up such property and to lay down their arms. The entire state militia is called upon to go to Cripple Creek and aid the sheriff in restoring order.

Chetlain's Impeachment.

CHICAGO, June 4.—The democrats of Cook county, through their central executive committee, have resolved to call Judge Arthur H. Chetlain down in his proceedings on the criminal bench. Chetlain is the same judge who got up at midnight to grant Eugene Prendergast, the assassin of Carter Harrison, a respite. This action incensed all fair minded people of this city quite as much against the judge as against Prendergast. Added to this episode, Judge Chetlain has, through a partisan grand jury, under taken to play the role of a political boss. Indictments by whole sale have been ground out by this grand jury of ex-republican officeholders and not a single one against a republican, while on the flimsiest pretext prominent democrats stand indicted. No lawyer of standing believes that one of the indictments will hold, and it is doubtful if any of them are put to the test.

So rankly partisan has been Chetlain and his grand jury that at an indignation meeting held by democrats strong resolutions were passed denouncing the partisan course of the judge, and a committee of prominent citizens appointed to collect evidence looking to his impeachment. Governor Altgeld will be urged to call the legislature in special session for this purpose.

Mrs. Lease Cannot Recover.

TOPEKA, Kas., June 6.—Dr. W. H. Roby, who was called to Olathe two days ago to see Mrs. Lease, returned today with the information that she cannot recover. He says she is constantly growing worse. He said; Mrs. Lease, a few evenings ago, thought she was going to die, and she called all of her friends about her and gave the manuscript of her book, which is about to be published, to Governor St. John. She asked him to promise to see that it was published and see that her children received the proceeds from the book. She said she was the breadwinner of the family and lamented that she had to go and leave her helpless children alone in the world.

A Man Who Never Sleeps.

WARSAW, Ill., June 6.—James T. Hightower, loom repairer in the Warsaw Woolen Mill, is a hearty, stout, able-bodied man of nearly 60 years, but for the last 18 years he has never been known to sleep. He goes regularly to bed, and if out a few hours later of evenings than customary he experiences the same sleepy sensation that ordinary mortals do; but no matter how long he remains out, or how many night's in succession, he cannot sleep—he simply rests—and will answer any question put to him promptly at any hour of the night. Local physicians have made a study of his case, but are unable to solve the problem.

A Crisis in Hungary.

LONDON, June 5.—The Times' Vienna dispatch says: "When the emperor's train arrived at Buda-Pesth, Count Appony, Count Scapary, Herr Ugron, a radical leader, and other members of the Hungarian diet were in waiting. The emperor entirely ignored them, although he addressed a few words to the burgomaster and municipal authorities. In well informed quarters the situation is considered serious. The struggle against the encroachments of clericalism in politics and the tendency of the court at Vienna to influence Hungarian affairs, will not finally be disposed of even by the return of Dr. Werkele to office."

Turpin in a New Role.

PARIS, June 5.—Turpin has broken off negotiations with Germany and is making preparations for information of a Belgian company. It is believed public opinion will force the French government to notice the invention.

Poor Jews in Jerusalem.

LONDON, June 5.—The secretary for the relief of the persecuted Jews, sends to the Times a letter describing the work of the society's missionary in Jerusalem. Mr. Montieff, the missionary, found Jews in cellars and caves suffering from hopeless diseases, some being blind, fever-stricken and consumptive, and all glad of a halfpenny charity per week. Most of the 40,000 Jews there are intensely poor.

Negroes at Work.

RIDGEWAY, Pa., June 5.—Hall, Kane & Co. have 170 negroes at work today at the Shawmut and Noble mines. Sixty-three strikers are in jail here for unlawful assembly and violating the injunction.

PREFERS DEATH.—J. R. Todd, who was convicted of mail robbery in southern Oregon when J. F. Watson was United States attorney, in 1893, and sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary at Salem for life, and who is said to be a distant relative of Mrs. Abraham Lincoln, has petitioned the president for a pardon. In his letter to the president, Todd prays that it be ordered that he be executed rather than to remain in the penitentiary the remainder of his life. He claims that he is innocent, and that he was convicted on circumstantial evidence only. The pardon clerk has referred the matter to United States Attorney Murphy for investigation. As Judge Deady is dead, he will have to consult with Mr. Watson and such of the jurors as he can find and ascertain the merits of Todd's plea.

TO CALIFORNIA.—The Roseburg Review has the following about a gentleman well known in Eugene: H. E. Happersett will leave for California in in a short time to accept a position of superintendent of construction on a new railroad now being built there. Mr. Happersett is especially well qualified for such a place as this, having been superintendent of bridges for the Southern Pacific railroad for over 19 years, a position of great importance and responsibility. He is thoroughly versed in all departments of railroad construction, and is, besides, a genial gentleman, who has a host of friends throughout Oregon. The people of Roseburg hope that Mr. Happersett's absence will be but temporary, as we cannot well afford to lose citizens of his stamp.

A STRANGE CASE.

How an Enemy was Foiled.

The following graphic statement will be read with intense interest: "I cannot describe the crawly, creepy sensation that existed in my arms, hands and legs. I had to rub and beat them parts until they were sore, to overcome in a measure the dead feeling that had taken possession of them. In addition, I had a strange weakness in my back and around my waist, together with an indescribable 'gone' feeling in my stomach. Physicians said it was creeping paralysis, from which, according to their universal conclusion, there is no relief. Once it fastens upon a person, they say, it continues its insidious progress until it reaches a vital point and the sufferer dies. Such was my prospect. I had been doctoring a year and a half steadily, but with no partial benefit, when I saw an advertisement of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, procured a bottle and began using it. Marvelous as it may seem, in a few days I had passed every foot of that creeper feeling had left me, and there has not been even the slightest indication of its return. I now feel as well as I ever did, and have gained ten pounds in weight, though I had run down from 170 to 132. Four others have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine on my recommendation, and it has been satisfactory in their cases in every case."—James Kane, La Rue, O.

THE ELECTION.

"We have met the enemy and we are theirs." The republicans yesterday carried the county by a wonderful plurality and possibly a majority. Many things contributed to this result. One of the most important ones was that they had plenty of votes. The prevailing hard times caused many to vote the republican ticket and the populist vote was more largely made up from former democrats than anything else, most of the so-called republican populists having returned to their first love, leaving the deluded democrats "holding an empty sack" as it were. It was ever thus. Republicans elect their state and county tickets without the loss of a man. Generally their tickets were composed of good, clean men and we hope they will give the people a wise and economical administration. Laws that are good for republicans to live under, are likewise beneficial to democrats and even to our populist friends.

Of course the democrats wear a smile, as they always feel natural when they are beaten out of sight. It seems natural to them. Two years from now, when good times have again rolled back, they will be found fighting again in the ranks just as earnestly as ever.

THE HEAVENS IN JUNE.

Contributed to the Seattle Post-Intelligencer by Orrin E. Harmon.

"Venus has crossed the celestial equator, and during the month will move northward about ten degrees. On the last of the month she will rise twenty-eight degrees north of east. She rises at 5:27 a. m. on the first, 2:11 a. m. on the fifteenth, and at 1:58 a. m. on the 30th.

Mars is growing more conspicuous in the morning skies as he nears his western quadrature, which takes place on the 16th. He will then pass the meridian at 6 o'clock in the morning and will culminate about thirty-nine degrees above the horizon. He arises at 1:02 a. m. on the 1st, 12:27 a. m. on the 15th and 11:45 p. m. on the 30th.

Jupiter takes leave of us as evening star on the 3d, when he will be in conjunction with the sun. Neptune also makes conjunction with the sun on the same day. After that time both planets will be morning stars.

With Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Neptune in the morning sky, there will be a grand quartette of heavenly voices should the morning stars sing together as of old.

Saturn shows with great brilliancy near the meridian in the early evening. He passes the meridian at 8 o'clock on the 9th, and on the 21st he begins his eastern journey. After his noted western journey to Spica, that he might make her his bride, it looks strange he should leave her so soon. It may be he has just found out that she is wedded to another.

That wonderful celestial newsfinder, the spectroscope, has determined the fact that Spica has a companion star that revolves about her every four hours. This is pleasant news to the astronomer; but Saturn's sudden departure from the beautiful white star so soon after their wedding indicates that he does not relish the discovery. There is no fee for lawyers in this bigamy case.

On the 15th Arcturus passes the meridian at 8:33 p. m. and Regulus sets at 11.20 p. m.

Australia is greatly bothered just now by an Indian question akin to our Chinese problem. The Chinese immigration evil has been checked by strong restrictive measures and the imposition of a heavy head tax. There is now a great and growing influx of Afghans, Panthans and other Asiatic tribes from the old corners of India, and these people have become a peril and nuisance in many ways.

From the election returns it would seem that there were not democrats enough in the state hardly for one party, let alone two.

OLD TIMES IN CALIFORNIA.

In the old California days, one of the miners having died, and being much respected, it was determined to give him a regular funeral. A digger in the vicinity, who so report said, had once been a powerful preacher in the United States was called upon to officiate, and after "drinks all round" the party proceeded with becoming gravity to the grave, which had been dug at a distance of 100 yards from the camp.

When the spot was reached the officiating minister commenced with an ex-tempore paper, during which all knelt around the grave. So far all was well, but the prayer was unnecessarily long, and at last some of those who knelt began in an abstracted manner to finger the loose earth that had been thrown up for the grave. It was thick with gold, and the excitement was immediately apparent in the kneeling crowd.

Upon this the preacher stopped, and inquiringly said:

"Boys, what's that? Gold!" he continued, "and the richest kind of diggins! The congregation is dismissed."

The poor miner was taken from his auriferous grave and was buried elsewhere while the funeral party, with the parson at their head, lost no time in prospecting the new diggins.

This paper feels a great pleasure this afternoon at the opportunity of announcing that the old established Lane County has re-opened its doors for business. The former proprietors have received numerous congratulations, from men high and influential in financial circles, upon the confidence and esteem in which the bank was held. During the recent stringency which obliged the institution to close its doors no receiver was asked by a single depositor and none appointed. During the nine or ten months of closed doors not a single suit was brought against it. The people thus wisely displaying confidence allowed the firm to close up all business affairs and make settlements with bank depositors without crowding patrons to ruin. Before the re-opening of the bank H. C. Humphrey retired from the firm. The bank will now be conducted by A. G. Hovey & Co. A. G. Hovey, president, has been at the head of the bank ever since it was founded and the good standing of the business is largely due to his position. J. M. Abrams, is now cashier and A. G. Hovey, Jr., assistant cashier.

DR. E. D. MCKENNEY, City Drug store, Eugene, Oregon.

NEAR DEATH'S DOOR FROM Inflammation of the Kidneys

Dear Sirs: I can scarcely realize I was so near death's door, the result of a bad attack of inflammation of the kidneys. My urine was bloody and terrible pains near the spine. I tried several remedies but got no relief. When I was suffering terribly a copy of your Medical Adviser was received by some one in our household. After reading part of it I sent for a bottle of Dr. Grant's Kidney and Liver Cure, and after five doses I felt relieved. I continued taking until I had taken three bottles, and was completely cured.

SEARCHING FOR MONEY.

ROBINSON, Ill., June 4.—Robinson has been stirred by a sensation today over the discovery that there has been a detective, Homer O. Steele, here for the past month attempting to unearth $40,000 in gold said to have been left by the late Dr. David Wilson, who died several months ago, and reported to have left several thousand acres of land and $6,000 in money. Several warrants have been served for the purpose of searching the homes of relatives for the lost $40,000. A nephew who waited on the doctor during his last illness and whose house was the first searched, has been accused of giving poison to his uncle to secure the money, and the probabilities are that the doctor's body will be exhumed for the purpose of a chemical analysis. The house in which he died has been almost dug from its foundation in the attempt to secure the coveted treasure.

Several Held Prisoners of War.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., June 4.—A skirmish took place today between three miners and five deputies thrown out in advance of the main body as pickets. John Davis, a miner, was shot in the arm. A deputy sheriff was seriously injured. Besides taking President Woods, of the Victor Townsite Company, into custody, the miners last night captured Clarence O. Finch, county superintendent of schools, and D. E. Wilkins, a Colorado Springs schoolteacher, and they are held prisoners as hostages for President Calderwood or the other miners who may be arrested. John Shaten, editor of the Herald, the organ of the miners' union, has been arrested by deputies. There is a reign of terror in this city, and women and children are being removed to places of safety. Seventy-eight Fremont miners today joined the forces on Bull Hill. It is reported that 1000 deputies have begun an advance on Bull Hill from the Divide, taking a train for Midland. Messages are refused at the Divide telegraph office. Traveling from here to Divide is forbidden.

Electric Storm at Ellensburg.

ELLENSBURG, Wash., June 4.—An electric storm struck this place about 8 o'clock last night, coming from the south. The clouds looked very turbulent, and caused many to prepare for the blow. After the wind struck town it blew very hard for 5 or 8 minutes, and then gradually subsided. Rain followed, and for the next hour and a half there was a wonderful display of lightning, but scarcely any thunder, show the storm was a long way off. The greatest amount of lightning was seen to the eastward, presumably about the Columbia river. Comparatively little damage was done. A few outhouses were blown down, some trees prostrated and some glass broken. One wall of the new Kleitberg block just up to the joists was blown down. So far as heard no damage was done in the surrounding country to crops and no fatalities are reported. It was the first storm of the kind ever known here and the severest ever experienced.

Violence in the Coalfields.

MARTIN'S FERRY.—June 4.—Violence continues in the coalfields on the Cleveland, Lorraine & Wheeling railroad. Near Fort Cushing last night two box cars were run out on the main track and down the grade one mile. These were struck by an east-bound freight train but no one was hurt. Nearly 200 railroad ties were piled on the track. The strikers propose to stop all coal trains. It looks as if the militia as we cannot cope with them, as many are armed.

Attempt to Blow Up a Bridge.

SULLIVAN, Ind., June 4.—Miners at Shelburn made an attempt to blow up a bridge a mile north of town with dynamite today. The work was not well done, and the damage has been repaired. The militia are in camp here, and will escort the afternoon northbound coal train.

The Drumelton Wrecked.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—The British bark Drumelton, while on her way from Shanghai to Tacoma, was wrecked on the south coast of Japan. No particulars of the disaster had been received up to the time the Sydney sailed and it was not known whether the disaster was attended with loss of life or not.

Do You Know Where It Is?

MRS. W. T. KAYSER,

Lives There and tells in the Following Letter of the Wonderful Benefit Received from using Dr. Grant's Medicines.

ELMIRA, OREGON, April 6th, 1894.
DR. PAUL GRANT, President O. W. R. Mfg. Co., Portland, Oregon.

Sir:—I wish to express my heartfelt thanks to you for the great benefit I received from using your medicines. I have been a constant sufferer for with spinal trouble and the complaints so peculiar to women. I have doctored with several different doctors, and from some of them I received temporary relief, but from none of them have I received the relief I have from using your remedies. The

was particularly beneficial, as it instantly relieves the pain and quiets the nerves, and after using it I can go to sleep and not awaken until break of day. I am very grateful for the relief obtained and will do all I can to encourage the sale of your medicines. I have used one and a half bottles of Congo Oil and two and a half bottles of your Native Discovery for women's diseases, and that is all the medicine I have taken in

Six Months,

and I am in better health than I have been for the past twelve years—weigh more and can work without feeling as though I should every minute, and it is due to your medicines that I feel this well; and I am willing that all who are afflicted should know of the wonderful results from using your medicines.

Respectfully,
MRS. W. T. KAYSER.

The Country is Flooded.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 4.—Four million dollars will hardly cover the present loss by the Fraser river flood, and there is yet no sign of abatement. The waters are still rising, and as the warm weather continues and melts the snow in the Rockies there is no immediate prospect of beginning the work of restoration. One prominent railway official thinks the loss of life will reach 100, though conservative estimates are not so high. Bridges, trestles, tunnels and tracking along the Canadian Pacific have gone, and the company has over 2000 men at the scene of danger working night and day. From Revelstoke to the sea, 300 miles along the railway, is a watery waste. The last point above Vancouver which can now be reached is Ruby Creek, 82 miles distant. Thence all is water. Masqui, Mission, Chilliwack, Hatzic and Langley prairies, and the towns of Centerville, Langley, Chilliwack and Mission are all under water. Not a firm building is left standing. Fully 10,000 cattle have perished. The blockade was broken Saturday for the first time by a steamer from Ruby Creek to Warnock. Passengers on delayed Eastern trains were brought through. Telegraphic and railroad services are completely demoralized.

A Foundling's Fortune.

OMAHA, Neb., June 6.—Francis Ramaciotti, the 7-year-old foundling adopted when 18 months old from the St. Louis foundling hospital by the Ramaciottis, has been declared the legal heir to a $30,000 estate left by his foster mother. The attacks made to break the will of Mrs. Mary E. Ramaciotti by her mother, Mrs. Sarah Sheldon, her three brothers and four sisters have failed. Judge Baxter decided today in the probate court that the will must stand and the child get the estate left him by Mrs. Ramaciotti. This pleases Dr. Ramaciotti, her husband, as he is guardian of the child and will qualify at once to assume control of the estate. Mr. and Mrs. Ramaciotti quarreled frequently. Last summer she chased him on the street with a revolver. She was an English woman. She died last October, leaving all her private fortune to this foundling. Her mother, sisters and brothers fought the will desperately, alleging that she was insane. Doctors testified to the same belief, but many business men and lawyers testified to a contrary belief.

Forest Fires Raging.

WEST SUPERIOR, Wis., June 4.—Forest fires started yesterday about 15 miles from this city on the Northern Pacific railroad. All day great clouds of smoke obscured the sun, and the flames made good progress. The wind changed today, and is driving the flames back. Large tracts of valuable pine will be destroyed. Timber along the Mesaba and Northern is also burning.

Catch of the Sealers.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—The following catches by sealing schooners had been reported at Yokahama up to May 9: Jane Grey 250, Brinda 1500, Sophy Sutherland 950, Carlotta Cox 450, Annie Paint 300, Livie 1100, Hannah Matilda 181, and Louisa Day 781.

Failure of a Wholesale House.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., June 4.—Steel & Walker, the largest wholesale house on the Missouri river, has gone into the hands of trustees. The failure grew out of the recent failure of A. N. Schuster & Co. The liabilities and assets are large.

A Great Electric Light.

SANDY HOOK, N. J., June 5.—The great electric light erected here, that was exhibited in the world's fair, was operated last night. Places as far down as the Jersey coast were visible. Vessels at anchor in the bay showed up almost as plainly as at daylight. It is claimed the light can be thrown as far as Philadelphia.

Gave His Daughter Away.

PARIS, June 4.—Lady Victoria Blackwood, youngest daughter of the British ambassador, Marquis of Dufferin, was married today to Hon. William Leo Plunkett, eldest son of Lord Plunkett, archbishop of Dublin. The father of the bridegroom officiated. Lord Dufferin gave his daughter away.

Investigating Tree Daubing.

CALCUTTA, June 5.—The investigation of tree daubing in the Behr district shows it to some degree is due to cattle rubbing against the trees, and traveling mendicants in some places daubed the trees in order to excite alarm and enable them to obtain alms.

Another Call for Troops.

DENVER, June 4.—Sheriff Hadiford, of Las Animas county, has made a demand upon Governor Waite for troops, saying his forces are inadequate to control the 800 miners who are making threatening demonstrations.

Mrs. John Kilby.

Suffered Pain ELEVEN YEARS.

Dear Sirs: For eleven years I suffered with a bad case of Salt Rheum, or Eczema, and was hardly able to move about. My doctor treated me a long time without doing me any good. A friend requested me to try Dr. Grant's Sarsaparilla and Grape Root. I did so, and today feel very thankful for so doing. I received benefit from the first bottle, and kept on taking it until I had taken over a dozen bottles. The result is today I am perfectly well, and I can not say too much for Dr. Grant's Sarsaparilla.

Tarrytown now Their Home.

NEW YORK, June 6.—George Gould has carried out his threat made some time ago that rather than pay an annual tax of $180,000 on the personal estate of the Gould heirs the various members of the family would shake the dust of New York from their feet and seek residence elsewhere. George J. Gould, Edwin Gould, Howard Gould and Miss Helen Gould have filed affidavits in the office of the Commissioners of Taxes and Assessment to the effect that they are no longer residents of New York City. Miss Anna Gould is not yet of age, but all the other heirs of Jay Gould who have reached their majority are opposed to paying the assessment upon their personal property which has been demanded by the Commissioners of Taxes and Assessment. They have accordingly taken up their abiding place elsewhere than the metropolis.

Jay Gould in his lifetime paid taxes on only $500,000 of personal property. When he died and the estate went into the hands of the Surrogate, a valuation of $70,000,000 was placed upon it, and the Comptroller collected the 5 per cent inheritance tax on that basis. When the Tax Commissioners made up the assessment list in 1893 they placed a valuation of $10,000,000 upon the personal estate of Jay Gould in New York and George Gould, as the head of the family, was asked to pay taxes at that rate. He declined at first to draw a check for $180,000, but after ex-Judge Dillon had carried the case into court and failed to have this valuation scaled down, Mr. Gould paid the money under protest. He said at the time that he regarded the tax as an imposition. He did not believe that the city should assess the estate for any such amount. He was willing, it is said, that the estate should be assessed at a valuation of $3,000,000, and it is very possible that he would have been willing to pay upon an assessed valuation of $5,000,000. But the authorities refused to compromise upon any such basis, and the original valuation of $10,000,000 remained on the books.

Mr. Gould told the commissioners at the time that rather than submit to what he considered an unjust tax he would remove his entire assessable personality from New York City. He began to do this last fall. He transferred his residence, on West Forty-seventh street, just in the rear of the residence of the late Jay Gould, to his wife and disposed of some other property he owned in the neighborhood. Miss Helen Gould has not occupied the residence at the northeast corner of Fifth avenue and Forty-seventh street for seven or eight months. In her affidavit she says she is a resident of Tarrytown, New York. Her brothers, Edwin and Howard Gould, make similar affidavits. They, too, are residents of Tarrytown. George Gould claims residence in New Jersey. He has lived at Lakewood since last October. His residence in this city, like that of his sister, has been closed since that time. George Gould is now in Europe and his sister Helen is also there.

Despite this counter move of the Gould family, the tax commissioners have assessed the Gould personal estate for 1894 at the old valuation—$10,000,000. The tax list was completed early in January. Taxpayers are given until May 31 to secure any changes which they can get the commissioners to agree to. George Gould filed his affidavit in April, a week or two before his departure for England, and the affidavits of the other members of the family were placed on file about the same time. The assessed valuation of $10,000,000 has not, however, been taken off the tax books, and there is some probability that the commissioners will sue the estate and seek to prove that the Gould family still retain their legal residence in this city. President Barker of the board is very reticent on the subject, and this fact is regarded as significant in the connection.

A Cargo of Halibut.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—The schooner Ellwood arrived in port Saturday with the largest cargo of halibut that has been docked in this city in many months. The shipment of 75,000 pounds of fish is from catches made at the new banks off Victoria and Northern islands, where it is said halibut are now found in large numbers. The cargo is consigned to local dealers.

Attempt to Intimidate.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 4.—Eighty strikers arrived in Winfred this morning, and a large number walked there on the railroad track. It is known that an attempt will be made to intimidate the men working there, and Sheriff Hillman will take out a force of deputies by special train.
