The Democratic Times.

Official Paper for Jackson, Josephine & Lake

FRIDAY.. MARCH 18, 1887.

THE people have the best of reasons to be satisfied with the Democratic administration. It is economical and it is honest.

THE bill annexing Happy Camp to Siskiyou county, Cal., has been approved by the Governor, and that place is now one of the principal villages of Siskiyou, after many years' effort.

A LARGE portion of the surplus in the treasury can be best restored to the people by building a navy and coast defenses, while a reduction of the tariff should swallow the balance.

THE inter-state commerce law will go into effect April 6th. No more passes will be issued by railroad companies after March 31st. We will give the full text of the law in the next issue of the TIMES.

THE failure of the Irish jury to convict John Dillon and his associates will probably force the Salisbury government to ask for some new form of coercive legislation, since Irish juries naturally will not convict a man of agrarian agitation.

IT is stated that Claude Thayer, son of Judge Thayer, will be appointed clerk of the supreme court. We are personally acquainted with Claude and know that he is well fitted for that important position, being a good lawyer and possessed of fine clerical ability. He will make a first-class clerk.

IT is stated at the Interior department at Washington that there have been secured in Oregon affidavits in the swamp-land matter strong enough to justify the indictment of a representative in congress. Affidavits charge him with being conspiratory in securing false certificates on lands selected by Agent Ankeny.

PUBLIC PRINTER BENEDICT discharged forty-three employes of the government printing office, including thirty-three compositors, proof readers and copy holders, and five book-binders, and five girl assistants. The reason assigned for the dismissals was that reduction of expenses was necessary. More Democratic economy.

AT a meeting of citizens of Portland it was decided to appoint a committee of one from each county, and five from Portland, to solicit subscriptions to a fund for continuing the work of the State board of immigration. It will require $3000 a year for bare expenses. Within five minutes $1000 was subscribed by five Portland merchants.

A SAN FRANCISCO dispatch of the 15th says: L. S. Clements, chief engineer of the Pacific Improvement Co., has gone to eastern Oregon to make the preliminary surveys, it is presumed, for the Southern Pacific line through there. It has been definitely settled there that the base of these surveys shall be Edgewood, not Klamath river, as originally intended.

THE Governor has declined to authorize a firm in Lake county to represent the State in a certain swamp-land suit. The party using claims under a purchase from Hon. Owen, whose title depends on one of the certificates declared void by the recent legislature. The Governor will refuse to acknowledge the validity of these certificates in any manner.

THE newspapers of the State are already falling into line for or against the prohibition amendment; the daily papers generally against. The Oregonian and Statesman both argue against it because, as they claim, prohibition will not prohibit. The Portland World and Democrat and the TIMES will oppose it on that ground, and because prohibition is not good Democratic doctrine.

WE are glad to learn that a change will take place soon in the management of the insane asylum. The following names are before the Governor for the office of superintendent of the insane asylum: Dr. Harry Lane of Portland; Dr. J. L. Hill of Albany; Dr. A. I. Nicklin of Portland; Dr. W. V. Rhinehart of Summerville; Dr. F. A. Bailey of Hillsboro; also several others.

IT is said that the resignation of Dr. Josephi, as superintendent of the Oregon state insane asylum, has been tendered to the board of commissioners, to take effect July 1st, and that it will be accepted upon the conditions named. The astute Doctor, knowing that his official existence is short, has taken this means to prolong it as much as possible. His resignation or removal should take place at once.

THE chorus of approval with which the President's veto of the dependent pension bill has been received suggests the inquiry, "Whom and what does congress represent?" Certainly not the public sentiment which finds expression in the majority of reputable newspapers, and evidently not the sound, commonsense of the American people which had been appealed to with apparent effect by the President's veto message.

To abolish the mail route between Ashland and the counties of Klamath and Lake in southeastern Oregon and to attach those counties to the postal system of California, as now proposed, would be an outrage. To adopt the Klamath canyon route would be to remove southeastern Oregon further from a railroad connection and make mails a day later than now. In Oregon we are growing weary of the mail-route economy of this administration.—Oregonian.

IF now transpires that there is enough money left over from the last appropriations to complete the three cruisers, and to continue other government work. The President's pocket veto of the river and harbor bill will therefore not do any considerable injury. It also turns out that the river and harbor bill was unconstitutional in providing appropriations for small state creeks that have no relation to inter-state commerce. Altogether the President's course on that pocket veto is beginning to redound to his credit.

THE results of what is called the protective policy are now plain enough. It has built up the cotton fields and the wheat fields of India. It has driven our pork and our butter out of Europe. It is persuading France to exclude our corn and wheat and other agricultural products. It is persuading us to spend millions upon armaments, and to follow the other nations of the earth in the policy of jealousy, hatred and war. In return for all these evils what has it given us? A few sickly manufactories that cannot stand alone, and a million working people on the strike. Verily this is the protection which the "wolf gave to the lamb."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

OWING to a washout by the Yellowstone river, which has been very high, no mails arrived from the east for several days. The damage has been repaired.

CHARLES LUX, one of the largest cattle-dealers and land-owners on the Pacific coast, died at San Francisco on the 15th inst. He was a member of the firm of Lux & Miller.

IT is said that on good authority Rev. Matthew C. Julien, pastor of the Trinitarian church of New York city, will receive from Plymouth church, Brooklyn, an invitation to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Henry Ward Beecher.

THE issue of standard silver dollars from the mints during the week ending March 12th was $447,252. The issue during the corresponding period of last year was $411,783. Shipments of fractional silver coin since March 1st amount to $133,838.

THE greatest curiosity ever seen in congress arrived in Washington a short time before it adjourned. It was a Democratic member from Rhode Island. He was elected to fill a vacancy and had but a week to serve. Charles H. Page (that is his name) should be put on ice to keep.

THE Russian embassy in London has received dispatches confirming the reports of the discovery of a plot to assassinate the czar and the arrest of the ring-leaders. These dispatches say that no actual attempt was made to kill the czar, as the plot had been discovered before he left the palace.

SENATOR SIGLIN is reported by the Oregonian to have made this witticism during his visit back east: He was sporting his title of "general," conferred on him by Governor Pennoyer, when some one asked him what department of the army he had served in. "Have you read the history of your country?" inquired Siglin severely.

THE managers of the O. & C. R. R. made a change in the running divisions of the road that is wise and timely. Formerly the running division for the passenger trains was from Portland to Roseburg, with three engineers, with a lay-off every third day. They have now divided it into two divisions, and put on four engineers, running from Portland to Junction and from Junction to Roseburg.

THE Oregonian is a ghoul. It feeds with ghoulish glee on the memories of the great deceased Americans in a way that shows the unalloyed delight such meat affords it. So it was in the case of Hendricks. So it was in the case of McClellan. So it is with Beecher. Is that the reason the editor resides in the suburbs just beyond Lone Fir? And does he prowl therein at midnight? asks the Democrat.

ONE important measure which was neglected at the late session of the legislature, says the Register, was that providing for the inauguration and maintenance of a reform school. There are said to be many young boys in different parts of the State lying in prison, awaiting trials that may send them to the penitentiary, and some are in the latter institution already. They are too young to be placed there, and a reform school should have been instituted for their correction, and to hinder their being transformed into hardened criminals, as the placing of them in the penitentiary will undoubtedly effect.

REPRESENTATIVE HERMANN has left Washington for Baltimore; Boston and Canada, and thence for Oregon. In calling to pay his parting respects to President Cleveland he took occasion to speak of the disappointment of the people of the northwest over the failure of the river and harbor bill to become a law. The President replied, in substance, that in his opinion there is as much money on hand as can profitably be expended during the coming summer; that congress has grown extravagant in the matter of appropriations for the improvement of rivers and harbors, and that for those and other reasons he felt it to be his duty not to sign the bill.

W. W. SAUNDERS, the murderer of Charles Campbell, was brought from Salem to Albany by Sheriff Minto for trial on the 14th. On the convening of court at 1 o'clock the attorneys for Saunders filed a motion for a change of venue, on the grounds of existing prejudice in Linn county. The prisoner was brought into court by Sheriff Smith, and was dressed as usual, scrupulously neat. He wore a dark, fashionably cut suit, with white hat and a pair of gold-rimmed eye-glasses upon his vest. Within the bar sat his affianced, Miss Minnie Allison, and Mrs. R. S. Strahan. Counsel for the State asked permission of the court to file counter affidavits to the motion for a change of venue. The motion was argued on Tuesday and granted by Judge Boise. His trial will therefore take place at the June term of the circuit court for Marion county.

THE recent wet weather, though retarding temporarily work on the California & Oregon railroad, has not by any means put a stop to the work of construction thereon. Even through heavy snow storms, which raged with peculiar violence, there was not a man of the construction force laid off. Graders are now ten miles above Montague, and track has been laid on seven and a half miles of this route. One day last week ten and a half miles of the heaviest steel railing was sent up to the front, so that there is no lack in this particular. Grades and steep cuts render this road peculiarly susceptible to slides, particularly in the early stages of the road's existence. When this road is in thorough working order it is the opinion of railroad men that it will be possible to keep it clear throughout the entire year, with the expenditure of very little trouble.

THE REPUBLICANS MUST GO.

The repeal of the tenure-of-office act has caused a scramble for the remaining collectorships and postmasterships throughout the country which remain over from past administrations. Among the offices which are most sought after is the Portland collectorship. Senator Dolph said he had no idea who would be the successful candidate. He only knew that a hard fight was being waged over it, and that all the Democratic leaders of Oregon were bending their energies to secure the place. Appointment Clerk Higgins, of the treasury department, states that last week the President again sent for the application papers in the case of the collector of customs at Portland, and that he also sent to the department to see if any other papers had since been filed. The removals made by the President within the past few days, taken together with certain proceedings in different government departments, lead one to infer that the removal of most of the remaining Republican office-holders will only be a matter of time. In the postoffice department the officials are having prepared by states printed lists of all Republicans yet in, whose offices are presidential. Oregon has not yet been reached, but the books show that in the State there are six Republican postmasters and in Washington territory three. Terms of the receivers of the land offices at Oregon city and The Dalles have expired within the past few days. Their successors are expected to be named soon. Attorney-General Garland has stated that there is no present intention at least of removing United States Marshal Kelly from his position.

KLAMATH COUNTY ITEMS.

Snow and ice are again of the past.

Grass is growing nicely and will soon be in good condition for stock.

Wallace Baldwin has been elected director of Linkville school district.

Linkville is securing considerable of the trade of northeastern California.

J. W. Manning and son have returned from their trip to Rogue river valley.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Graves of Linkville on the 6th inst.

Rev. E. McLean has returned to his home in Colorado, after a pleasant visit here.

The snow has disappeared from most parts of this county, to the gratification of all.

J. W. Hamaker of Linkville has been admitted to practice in the U. S. court at Portland.

The county commissioners' court was in session last week, but transacted little business of importance.

Contracts have been let for keeping the county poor for a year and to build a bridge across Lost river.

Farmers are busy and a much larger acreage will be sown in grain this season than at any former time.

O. H. Johnson, the well-known painter, has returned to Linkville after an absence of several weeks.

A. F. Rowton, brother-in-law of Representative McLean, is in this section and may permanently locate.

Chase & Cliff are running their stages regularly between Linkville and Montague, Cal., which is quite a convenience.

Taxes are being paid very slowly this season—much more so than usual. Money is scarcer, which is a good reason.

Work has been commenced on the big Klamath ditch, which will be enlarged considerably by its proprietors this season.

Linkville will soon have another boarding-house, the building formerly occupied by Moore & Cliff being fitted up for one.

Geo. Conn started from Linkville for San Francisco and the eastern States two weeks ago, to buy machinery for his grist-mill at Paisley, Lake county.

Mails do not seem to arrive regularly over the Ashland route, owing to the horrible condition of the road. The mail contractors are doing their best, however.

Thos. Martin having removed from Linkville district, there is a vacancy in the board of school directors, which will be filled at a special election to be held to-morrow.

The bids for furnishing Fort Klamath with fresh beef and mutton for the ensuing year were opened yesterday, but who the successful bidder was is not known as yet.

Hon. Robt. McLean is making it tropical for those who have been making charges against him. His legislative career was honorable and beneficial to his constituents.

The Linkville minstrel troupe, better known as the "Owls," gave a performance last night, which was well patronized and passed off smoothly. Some of the performers did quite well.

Who is going to secure the government contracts? Competition has cut the profits down to nothing, but still there are always a number who seem to like to furnish Uncle Sam with supplies at a losing figure.

Stock have done very well in Klamath county during the past winter, and the loss will be but little greater than usual. By dear experience our stockraisers have learned that it is best to be well provided with feed, to meet any emergency.

The heavy coat of snow which covered this region last month will ensure more hay and better feed than we have had for sometime past. It also benefited our farming population, as it ensures a greater amount of moisture to the soil and consequently better crops.

No action has yet been taken by Commissioner Sparks on bids sent to Washington two or three months ago by Surveyor-General Taylor for the survey of the eastern boundary of the Klamath Indian reservation. As soon as a reply is received from the Indian agent at the reservation, who was instructed to consult the Indians with regard to the survey, the contract will be let.

A CHANGE PROPOSED.

From what can be gathered from the officials at the postoffice department it would seem that the mail route from Ashland, Or., to Linkville will within a few days be either discontinued or service thereon be decreased, and that a new route will be established from Linkville down the Klamath river to a point in California where the river is intersected by a stage line or railroad. The officials are now considering whether to make terms with the present contractor of the Ashland route for carrying the mail on the new route, or whether to ask for bids for the latter and let contracts to the lowest bidder. It is said that, owing to snow and roughness of the road, the contractor for the Ashland route is losing about $3000 a year. Several remonstrances have been received against the proposed change, and Col. Bennett, commanding officer at Fort Klamath, protests against it until, at least, the O. & C. railroad is extended south to the Klamath river; besides, mail matter in which the people are mostly interested comes from Portland, and not from San Francisco, and if the change is ordered their mail will arrive one or two days later than at present. The department has telegraphed to a postal inspector to examine the case.

EADS' TEHUANTEPEC SCHEME.

Since the death of Capt. Eads was announced there has been considerable speculation as to whether the great ship-railway, of which he was the projector, will be completed. Pittsburg parties interested express the opinion that the project will be carried out. The engineers in charge are Colonels Andrews and Corkell and are thoroughly competent to complete the work, and all that is needed is charters from the United States and the Mexican government. Sufficient stock has been subscribed to almost complete the work, independent of the appropriations which have heretofore been requested. The bill before the last congress did not ask for an appropriation, but simply asked that the charter be granted. The Mexican government will be requested to grant the company a charter, and the stockholders are confident the request will be promptly honored, and the great Tehuantepec canal project will be completed.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Latest advices from the scene of the accident on the Boston & Providence R. R. indicate that thirty-two persons were killed and forty injured. Among these are many women. Conductor Tilden was among the killed. The accident occurred on the Dedham branch of the Boston & Providence railroad, between Forest Hill and Rosindale, at what is known as Bussey Park bridge. The 7 o'clock train from Dedham, consisting of seven cars and a baggage car, under the charge of Conductor Tilden, broke through the bridge. The engine and three cars went over safely, but five others fell through the bridge to the road bereath, a distance of thirty feet. The last car, which was the smoker, turned completely over and struck on the top of the others, all being crushed almost out of shape. The cause of the accident is said to have been the breaking of the bridge.

The Greatest Study of Mankind is Man.

The greatest study of mankind is man,
And who e'er his wondrous frame doth scan,
Ponder and devises to cure an ill,
Whether by device, fruit or pill,
An equal benefactor is he; and we haste,
The inventor of a cathartic of delicious taste,
To do him honor.

Who remembers not how the distressed mother,
Her child's relative tries to smother,
That she insist not the horrid dose be taken,
The remembrance e'en now does nausen awaken.
And fond father,
To be witness of his child's torture, would rather
Pay high price,
If money could purchase Cathartic nice.

We have it now; and great Dr. Pratt's name,
Appears upon the scroll of Esculapian fame;
For after long study what would suit,
Has hit upon delicious fruit
To cure our ills.

Away at once with druggie's and pills;
For whether it be indigestion, liver complaint or Constipation,
Or any disease to which flesh is heir,
He here with pride does boldly declare,
And on the assertion will wager big,
That it can be cured by a HAMBURG FIG!

At druggists, 25 cents a box. J. J. Mack & Co proprietors, San Francisco, Cal.

That erstwhile "knight of the whip," H. D. Martin of Galesville, will commence running a stage from this place to Green mountain next week. Mr Martin is an obliging gentleman and understands his business thoroughly, and we bespeak for him a large share of public patronage.

Chas I. Walker of the Canyon creek hydraulic mine came in on Sunday. He was accompanied by his foreman, Oscar Ranford. The gentlemen report favorably of these important placer mines after a splendid run. Universal Combination Fence!

Fence Your Barns,
Fence Your Orchards,
Fence Your Lawns,
FENCE AND CROSS-FENCE FARMS AND RANCHES
With a Lawn Fence!

Stronger than a Barb Fence,
Neater than a Board Fence,
Cheaper than a Rail Fence,
And more Durable than Any.
THE BEST OF ALL FENCES!!

☞ Five double strands of No. 12 Galvanized Bessemer Steel Wire, with forty four-foot pickets to the rod, and every picket reaching across all five of the double strands of wire, and so tightly that it would take a yoke of oxen to pull a picket out. Each wire has the support of the other nine and each picket is supported by all the wires.

Barbed Wire is barbarous. Board Fences need constant attention after having been up but a short time, the boards warp, split and shrink, water gets in between the boards and posts and soon destroys the fence. Rails are getting expensive and scarce, and the ground they take up is becoming of more value than to raise weeds to seed the farm.

$1.00 A ROD, OR $300.00 A MILE,
For a Fence that will turn a Bull or Pig!

Sixty to eighty rods can be hauled at a load and two men can put up 600 rods a day after the posts are set. To move the fence pull out the staples and roll up the fence like a bolt of carpet in a store.

H. B. REED,

The agent for the machines for manufacturing this fence, is here and has a machine at the depot at Medford and will set it up at some point in Jackson county yet to be determined upon, and thus add another industry to Rogue river valley.

Wire is now on the road here and pickets contracted for. Set your posts firmly in the ground at, say a rod apart, and be ready for a fence.

The fence will be delivered in rolls of about five rods at the above prices at Jacksonville, or any railroad station in Jackson county, on all orders received by the 7th of April. All orders filed as per date of receipt.

THOROUGH SATISFACTION GUARANTEED or no sale. If you don't like the fence when you see it your order will be canceled.

Rabbit-tight or chicken fences made to order at a slight advance of the above prices. A rabbit-tight fence is also hog-tight. Yard fences of dressed pickets—painted if desired—for town and country lawns. Machines also for sale for other districts. Address

My Plymouth Rocks are most favorably known all over the North Pacific coast. The heaviest and best marked strain on the coast and not excelled anywhere.
