THE OREGON SENTINEL.

From the language of the following correspondence of the Oregonian, we would not infer that the Red Bluff and Owyhee route would draw much travel from the excellent route lately completed from this place to Owyhee. Referring to the much talked of Red Bluff route, he says: "It passes over beautiful sandy plains, through magnificent groves of sage brush, snow-fringed by innumerable pools of alkali, interspersed with magnificent basaltic rock, which serves to give the country that undulating appearance so delightful to the eye." Of the inhabitants of that delightful region, he says, "it is densely populated by tarantulas, centipides, scorpions, and rattlesnakes, which interesting companions, people the country clear down to Red Bluff The distance by this charming route is not known, as it has not been measured, neither is it likely to be, as the individual is yet to be found who is willing to travel it a second time. It is thought, however, that the trip can be made in the course of a single season, provided the parties send their freight by water and travel with empty wagons." The writer of the above says he has been over the Red Bluff route, and thinks his sketch scarcely does it justice.

We are sorry to see a disposition among our Democratic friends to "chuck off" on the old veterans who have labored long and arduously in the service, and never refused to do any thing that would further the ends of their party, and to take up new and untried fledglings. On last Saturday night, Col. W. G. T'Vault, late speaker of the House of Representatives, and present editor of the Oregon Intelligencer, a paper of genuine democratic proclivities, published in this place, took the stand in front of the U. S. Hotel to deliver a great speech which he had been laboring under for weeks; but nary a speech did he get to make, his voice being drowned out by the thunder of vulcan artillery, and the voices of at least two dozen enthusiastic democrats in the streets. When others, young and unexperienced—and some of them new recruits—took the stand, all was silent as the grave; not a whisper was heard to disturb the serenity of the occasion. Alas! whither are we drifting.

The National Intelligencer is an old and vigorous campaigner, and is always ready for an emergency; therefore, it fell to its lot to make a desperate strike at Seward's great speech. Its mode of attack was by a series of brilliant sophisms, wherein it proved that black is white and white is black, or in other words, proved in the most approved style of sophistry, that if McClellan should be so unfortunate as to be elected, that before he could take his seat the present administration will have turned the Government over soul and body to Jeff. Davis; and poor Little Mac will be cheated out of the privilege of making his Inaugural address.

PHŒNIX, October 25th.

Ed. Sentinel:—The Union cause is still living in the hearts of the loyal people of this place, and they are determined to do their whole duty in the coming election. Our club meeting on last Saturday night was well attended by both ladies and gentlemen. Mr. Langell, of your place, gave us a good stirring speech, presenting many new facts from the record. Although Mr. Langell has the reputation of being a good workman, I think the "shoe" he made here rather pinches Copperhead toes.

Yours, O. K.

The Copperheads of this vicinity have completely lost their grip. Their attempt on last Saturday night to surprise the natives was truly ludicrous. A half dozen men in the street, yelping and firing anvils, constituted their active forces. The most of their forces were hors de combat in the saloons and on the corners; and some of their active forces, it is said, were found in the same condition before morning.

PHŒNIX.—The Union men of Phœnix, or Little Africa, as some of the "Cops." delight to call it, are wide-awake to the interest of their county. Their Union Club meets there every Saturday evening; but what makes their meetings the more interesting, is the presence of the ladies who join in the songs of the patriots, thereby giving their aid to the good cause.

John Neuber is constantly watching the market, and when he finds anything new or novel in his line, he never stops to inquire if it will pay, but buys and brings it on for the accommodation of his customers, being fully determined that they shall never have to leave Jacksonville for anything they may desire in the jewelry line. He has just received a very fine stock of porcelain statuary, toys, gift offerings, etc.

RETURNED.—Dr. G. W. Greer, after spending the summer as surgeon to Col. Drew's late expedition on the plains, has returned and resumed the practice of medicine. Dr. Greer's long practice in this vicinity renders comment from us unnecessary. See his card.

His many friends will be pleased to learn that Dr. Overbeck has returned to Jacksonville, and permanently located for the practice of medicine in all its branches. For particulars see card in another column.

Canyonville contributors to Sanitary commission crowded out. Will appear next week.

We are now prepared to supply precincts or counties with Union tickets for the coming election.

When Cornelius Vanderbilt was a young man, his mother gave him $50 of her savings to buy a small sail-boat, and he engaged in the business of transporting market gardening from Staten Island to New York City. When the wind was not favorable, he would work his way over the shoals by pushing the boat along with poles, putting his own shoulder to the pole, and was very sure to get his freight into market in season. This energy always gave him command of fall freights, and he accumulated money. After a while he began to build and run steamboats, and he is now reputed to be worth over nineteen million of dollars, after making the Government a present, as a free gift, of a steamship that cost the sum of $800,000.

It is an undeniable fact that the very persons among the Abolitionists, particularly the purits portion—women as well as men—who make most noise and fuss about the cruelty of masters to their slaves, are themselves the cruelest to bound out servants and apprentices in their own employ.—Review.

It is an undeniable fact that the very persons among the Copperheads, and particularly the Secesh portion, who make most noise and fuss about the niggers, and the rights of the master to the slave, are the very men who never were able to own more than a pig in their lives, and some of them could not have owned that, were it not for a law exempting from execution the means of obtaining a livelihood.

GREAT UNION MEETING AT YREKA.—The Yreka Journal says that no holiday ever held in Siskiyou can be compared in magnitude or attendance with the great jubilee held at Yreka on last Monday. The procession extended over a mile and a half—all for the Union.

Some interesting correspondence will be found on the 1st page of this paper.

Married.

—By Rev. P. M. Starr, at Roseburg, on the 22d inst., Hon. JAMES D. FAY, of Jacksonville, to Miss GERTRUDE APPLEGATE, of Yoncolla.

With the above notice came also the substantial compliments of the pair—a bottle of fine champaigne. Under the influence of its sparkling contents, we propose the following sentiments: May they, like

"Young Clarendon
And his Amelia prove a matchless pair;
With equal virtues, and equal grace
The same distinguished by their sex alone
He's the mild luster of the blooming morn,
And his the radiance of the rising day."
