THE OREGON SENTINEL

AMERICAN GRAVES.

If anything were needed to make Americans love their country more than they have, it would be found in the fact that so many of the honored and beloved dead have gone to be a part and parcel of our consecrated soil. We are a new people, born in new times; but we are growing rapidly, fearfully older within the past four years. Even the last week seems to have added a century to our existence, and given us an experience which makes us seem as if we had lived ages in days. There is always a new tie to a new country in which the dead whom we have honored and loved are buried.

The settlers of a hitherto unknown or uninhabited land become attached to it so soon as the aspect and the comforts and joys of a home begin to surround them. While they live in tents or in bark sheds they feel like wanderers, and are ready to go wherever temptation leads or necessity seems to drive them. When the permanent fireside is establish and the roof-tree firmly set, they begin to love the land around them, and this love increases from year to year, as memories begin to be part of the crop raised on the new location. But when one family dies, and is buried in the ground, then the marriage of the very soils of the earth is complete, and the union of affection becomes strong. The heart clings to the earth of which the lost one has become a part. And as family after family settles in the new land, and graves are heaped upon the hillsides and plains, this union of the people to the soil grows very close, and increases in steadfast proportion as generation after generation passes to dust.—California Leader.

HAYWOOD has entirely recovered his health. He is strong and sings as of old. They sing at Phoenix on Wednesday eve.

Born.

—In Jacksonville, Monday, July 24th, to the wife of M. A. Brentano, a daughter.

—In Jacksonville, Wednesday, July 26th, to the wife of John Bilger, a son.

Died.

—July 30, Truman Hobart, son of John and Rachel Wheeler, of Jackson county, Oregon, aged two years—two days less.

But withers in the rising day;
Thus lovely was this infant's dawn,
Thus swiftly fled its life away.

I have purchased the right for the manufacture and sale of the above named machines in this county.

The machine is for sale and can be seen at my shop, on California Street, one door above Drum's Livery Stable. Give me a call. C. F. WILSON.

Wringers will be furnished as soon as they arrive.
