History of Jacksonville Lodge No. 10, I. O. O. F. of Oregon.

READ AT JACKSONVILLE ON THE 66th ANNIVERSARY OF THE INSTITUTION OF ODD FELLOWSHIP IN THE UNITED STATES.

Ladies and Gentlemen, Sisters and Brothers and Friends of the Order:—The programme for your entertainment this evening, as adopted by the committee of arrangements, provides for a brief history of Jacksonville Lodge No. 10, I. O. O. F., by one of its members, and I have been selected as the historian.—But I cannot give anything like a full history of the lodge in the time that has been allotted to me this evening; I can only touch upon a few important points.

Pursuant to a call for a meeting of Odd Fellows of Jackson county, Oregon, held at Jacksonville, on the 30th day of June 1860, to take into consideration the advisability of instituting a lodge of Odd Fellows here in Jacksonville. The following named brothers responded to the call, and were present on that occasion. W. C. Ransom, Vacaville lodge No. 83, California; John R. Helman, Yreka, lodge No. 19, California; Wm. W. Kentnor, Yreka lodge No. 19, California; Eber Emery, Yreka lodge No. 19, California; Isaac N. Knight, Mt. Shasta lodge No. 70, California; Patrick Feheley, North Star lodge No. 61, California; Newman Fisher, Philiterian lodge No. 8, Oregon; Wm. Taylor, Covenant lodge No. 54, Ohio; James Kilgore, Teppo lodge No. 48, Ohio; Thomas Pyle, Valley lodge No. 36, Ohio; A. M. Berry, Delphi lodge No. 28, Indiana; John Bilger, Walhalla lodge No. 10, New York; Bruce Luther, Canaseraga lodge No. 123, New York; O. D. Hoxie, Hope lodge No. 4, Rhode Island. 14 in all.

W. C. Ransom was called to the chair, and Thomas Pyle was elected secretary, when on motion a committee of three were appointed to draft a petition to the Grand Lodge for a dispensation or charter. After a short time the committee made their report, accompanied by a petition for a charter, which report was adopted.

On the 18th day of August, 1860, Jacksonville lodge No. 10, I. O. O. F., of Oregon, came into existence with the following Charter members: Jesse Robinson, James Kilgore, Eber Emery, Wm. C. Ransom, Patrick Feheley, and Isaac N. Knight. Eber Emery at this time is the only remaining Charter member.

The lodge was instituted by Samuel E. May the then Grand Master of this State, assisted by a number of visiting brothers from other jurisdictions. The lodge being instituted in ample form was left alone to work out its own salvation. The first officers of the lodge were Jesse Robinson, N. G.; W. C. Ransom, V. G.; James Kilgore, Secretary, and Eber Emery, Treasurer. The lodge was thus organized and in good working order, as the results accomplished since abundantly testify, and Saturday night of each week was fixed as the regular night of meeting.

I find by reference to the records, that the receipts of the first month were $175 00, and there was paid to the Grand Master $157 00 for fees and mileage for instituting the lodge and $20 00 was paid for charter. At the first regular meeting of the lodge a committee consisting of three brothers were appointed to draft a code of by-laws for the government of the lodge—said committee made their report October 29th 1860, accompanied with a code of by-laws—which were adopted.

The lodge at that time labored under the disadvantages of not having a suitable building in which to meet for the transaction of lodge business. At a special meeting held August 20th, 1860, a committee was appointed to procure a hall for the use of the lodge. The committee reported September 10th 1860, that the Masonic hall could be procured for $30 00 per month, furnished with lights and fuel, or $25.00 per month without lights and fuel. The committee was instructed to procure the hall with lights and fuel, which they did, we then had a temporary home for a time, making our expenses $30 00 per month besides the ordinary expenses of the lodge, and liabilities for sick benefits—afterwards the hall was rented for $25 00 per month or $300 00 yearly.

It appears from the records that Yreka lodge No. 19, of Yreka, California, kindly loaned to the lodge a set of officers' regalia's and that afterwards our lodge bought the same.

On the first meeting in January 1861, the lodge adopted a design for a seal, as follows:—"All Seeing Eye" emblazoned in light, "Three Links" and the "Bible." The seal is now the one in use by the lodge. On the last meeting in May 1862, nearly two years after its organization, the lodge paid the first weeks sick benefits of $14.00. And in August 1863 one weeks sick benefits of $14.00 was granted. The lodge, during the first three years paid only three weeks sick benefits of $14.00 each, which enabled the lodge to accumulate some funds in the treasury. On the 19th of December 1863, the lodge purchased a part of our burial ground in the Jacksonville cemetery, and afterwards purchased the remainder, so that now we have a place improved and adorned, where deceased Odd Fellows and their families can be decently buried, when life's fitful dream is o'er. The price for each block of ground was established at the sum of $10 00—excepting one block reserved as an Arbor, near the center of the burial plot, and another block set apart by order of the lodge in which to inter deceased members of other lodges. On the 9th of September 1865, the lodge authorized its trustees to purchase the building we now own and occupy. The price paid originally was $3050.00; afterwards paid for a dower right in building, 500.00; paid Wm. Gass for additional lot for back yard, $227.00; total, $3,777.00; paid at time of purchase from lodge fund $800.00; leaving an indebtedness of $2,977.00, for which the trustees gave their joint note secured by a mortgage on the building and the lots connected therewith. Shortly after this time the lodge was frequently called upon to pay sick benefits, and for other benevolent enterprises, to meet these demands, pay interest on our indebtedness, and for repairs made in and about the building, besides the ordinary expense of the lodge, kept the treasury very nearly drained, so that for several years we were unable to reduce our indebtedness but to a limited extent. Our creditors wanted the money due them. Matters began to look blue. The lodge held several meetings to devise ways and means to meet the difficulty, during one of these meetings a happy thought occurred to one of the brothers present, and that was, to bond the debt, the suggestion was promptly acted upon, the debt was bonded, stock was issued, the brothers of the lodge bought every dollar of it, and I am happy to be able to say that the last of the stock was redeemed and paid years ago,—when the debt was all paid, and we had a home of our own, and all paid for, a heavy load was taken off our shoulders, and we had a rejoicing time over the event. On the 17th day of March 1873 the lodge was incorporated. The officers of said corporation are composed of its Trustees, who are elected annually, and as expressed in said article. "The business of said corporation shall be to preserve and protect the property of said lodge, diffuse the principles of charity, and advance the interests of Odd Fellowship."

From the organization of the lodge until October 1st, 1871, the annual dues to the lodge was $20.00 and after that date, the by-laws were amended so that the annual dues were reduced to $12.00 and sick benefits were graded to correspond to the amount of dues paid. I find after a thorough and careful examination of the records, that the lodge has paid out since its organization. For expenses, the sum of $14,907.17; sick and funeral benefits, and other benevolent enterprises, the sum of $14,127.62; on building, repairs on hall and furniture, $7,353.00; cemetery grounds, and repairs thereon, $578.37; total, $37,066.16. Assests. Brick building and lodge furniture valued at $4,500.00; cemetery grounds $500.00; regalia, etc. $250.00; money on hand and owing to us $2,239.40; total assests, $7,489.40.

It will thus be seen that we have paid out on an average since the organization of the lodge over $125 00 per month, or over $4.00 per day—
