TOWN AND COUNTY.

IS HORACE WEBB POSTER?—Horace Greeley's speech at Richmond contained much that was just and eloquent. The concluding portion evinced sincerity and kindness worthy of imitation, and offered counsel wise and pertinent, in some things—but we are greatly surprised that he should refer to the water power at St. Anthony Falls as being superior to any in this country, when in truth, as we know from personal knowledge of both, the power that is to be obtained in Oregon City is very far superior to the falls on the Mississippi. We quote the last paragraph of his speech, and ask Mr. Greeley to better post himself, with regard to water power, in this country: "Men of Virginia! I entreat you to forget the years of slavery and secession, and civil war, now happily past, in the hopeful contemplation of the better days of freedom, and union and peace now opening before you. Forget that some of you have been masters, others slaves,—some for disunion, others against it—and remember only that you are Virginians, and all now and henceforth freemen. Bear in mind that your State is the heart of a great Republic, not the frontier of a weaker Confederacy, and that your unequalled combination of soil, timber, minerals, and water power, fairly entitle you to a population of five millions before the close of this century. Consider that the natural highway of empire—the shortest and easiest route from the Atlantic to the heart of the Great Valley—lies up the James River and down the Kanawha, and that this city, with its mill power superior to any other in our country but that of St. Anthony's Falls on the Mississippi, ought to insure you a speedy development of manufactures surpassing any Lowell or Lawrence, with a population of at least half a million, before the close of this century. I entreat you, then, Republicans and Conservatives, whites and blacks, to bury the dead past in manual and hearty good will, and in a general, united effort to promote the prosperity and exalt the glory of our long disgracted and bleeding, but henceforth, reunited, magnificent country!"

CALIFORNIA.—The Mining and Scientific Press forgets that the entire surplus of the crop of Oregon wheat last year, and for that matter all we ever have to ship, goes to swell the bulk of California a produce. In remarking upon the close of the harvest year 1866, that paper says: "The total receipts for wheat and flour shipped from this port the past year, will very nearly reach the round sum of ten millions of dollars! This, it should be recollected, implies the production of that amount in excess of our own consumption, and all that has been sent over the mountains for the supply of the State of Nevada and the neighboring territories. It is a large amount to form a single item of our agricultural productions, and is an earnest foretaste of what may be expected in the future, when the capacities of our State shall be tested to their utmost extent." So Oregon had nothing to do with that little matter of $10,000,000. Those exports were all from California? ha! Well, we do not see it in that light, somehow. Then again it says: "The reputation of California wheat and flour in the Eastern States and Europe, is second to that of no other country." Now, that is a dence of an error. What can make the press of California lie so? The "reputation" of our sister State did stand "second to that of no other" until flour from this city took the decided preference, wherever its manufacturers sent it.

TRUTH.—P. W. Gillette, Esq., is traveling correspondent in Oregon for the Oregonian. His last is dated at Salem. He says the following in a candid manner, which is as truthful as need be: "No country can ever be very prosperous without good thoroughfares. They are the arteries of the State, and yet our main stage road in many places is scarcely fit for a decent cow trail. From Aurora to Milwaukie it is horrible. Much of the way over that road, the stage has to pursue its "whaling way" among the primitive trees. Clackamas is a good substantial old county, but she exhibits poor taste in road making." Clackamas county deserves a "darned sight harder rab" than that! Our roads point to a shiftless, devil-may-case sort of community.

PROLIFIC.—We have heard of "two hearts that beat as one," belonging to as many heads with perceptive organs, but never knew until last Thursday that one stalk of cabbage was capable of producing more than one head. Such was proven to us to be the case by the appearance of Mr. Wm. Cassady, of Canemah, who brought to our office one stalk of the Osthemian variety which has produced three heads of sound cabbage. Also one stalk of the Drum Head variety which has grown two fully developed heads of fruit, one of which was produced last year, and one this season. It may be something important to know that it is not essential to transplant cabbages every spring, as, at least in this county, it has been demonstrated that the vegetable is not an annual.

GETTING READY FOR BUSINESS.—A walk of a few hours about town on Thursday last has shown us that business will soon be resumed in all its branches in Oregon City. The Imperial Mills, which have received substantial improvements, will begin running next week. The woolen Factory next month. The P. T. Company have taken the Echo out of the dry dock, looking as neat and trim as a new craft, and on Monday she is expected to "start up" as far as Corvallis. The Paper Mill will in all probability resume active operations inside of a month. Good crops are being well harvested in the country—business is looking more brisk east, west, and south.

CONTEST FOR GAME.—On Wednesday last a chicken Hawk pounced down upon a hen in the door yard of Mr. John Meldrum of this city, for the purpose of securing a meal from the brood of little chicks following, but the domestic fowl protected her young, and engaged in a "rough and tumble" fight with the Hawk, keeping the wild bird on the ground until Mr. McNamara, working on the Water Company's reservoir came to her assistance, and twisted Mr. Hawks' neck unto death.

HARVESTING.—The rains of the past two weeks may start the rust in wheat. If rust appear, cut your grain in the dough, and it will make sweeter, nicer flour, and more of it. Use no "headers" in Oregon. It damages wheat. There is no climate can equal that of this State, in curing grain. The weevil is not known here, and if the shocks are dry and well sunned before threshing, you may put up your wheat in bins, and keep it sound and merchantable for two or three years, or until you wish to dispose of.

CAPT. N. C. BROOKS.—Capt. N. C. Brooks, who has become well known as a commander and explorer in the Pacific, paid us a visit yesterday. He opened trade between Oregon and the Sandwich Islands in 1864, and soon after the loss of the Brother Jonathan, which bereft him of his family, disposed of this trade, and has since been visiting the Atlantic States.

A GOOD TEAMSTER.—On Tuesday last as the Senator neared Oswego two or three ox teams were driven in regular bullwhacker style down to the margin of the river to load limestone for the furnace. The first team in the train was driven by Mr. J. C. Leonard, late of Portland, and our informant states that he used his "gad" in first rate style, and says he must be a good driver.

In Memoriam.

At a special meeting of the Rector, Wardens and Vestry of St. Paul's Chapel, Oregon City, Oregon, held on the 23d of July, 1867, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased an All Wise Providence, whose ways are past finding out, suddenly to remove by death on the 14th of July, our much esteemed Bishop, the Rt. Rev. T. F. Scott, from the spiritual supervision of the Church in this Diocese, and of his parental and fostering care of this congregation, the subject of his many prayers and labors, therefore be it

Resolved, That while we bow with humble resignation to this deeply afflictive dispensation of our Heavenly Father "Who doeth all things well," we cannot but mourn with sorrowing hearts at the loss of one so dear and beloved, and around whom clusters so many precious recollections.

Resolved, That we cherish with grateful remembrance the many graces of the Christian which were so beautifully exemplified in his life, meekness, gentleness, humility, forgiveness, and that charity which suffereth long and is kind, thinketh no evil, but rejoiceth in the truth.

Resolved, That we shall ever hold him in our highest esteem as a sound divine, a firm Churchman, an able maintainer and defender of the truth, Evangelical in his views, and practical in his teaching, ever holding forth in the clearest and strongest light "Jesus Christ and Him crucified" as the sinner's only hope.

Resolved, That as members of this Missionary Diocese, we look upon the death of our Bishop as a great shock to the work of the church in this part of the Lord's Vineyard, and humbly pray that God would remember us in our affliction and weakness, and cause the mantle of Elijah to fall on some Elisha.

Resolved, That this church and Parish, that for a time were blessed with his fatherly instruction and pastoral care, render a tribute of gratitude to his memory, which can only be felt, and rejoice in the comforting assurance, that having finished the work that God had given him to do, he now rests from his labors, and is a shining inhabitant of the celestial Paradise, joining the Angelic host in swelling the seraphic strain, saying—"Blessing, and honor, and glory, and power be unto Him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb forever and ever."

Resolved, That our deepest sympathies are extended to the heart stricken widow, under her sad bereavement, and that we commend her in prayer to Him who is the widow's God.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the widow of the deceased, and that a copy of them be sent to the OREGON CITY ENTERPRISE and the Pacific Churchman for publication.

Portland papers, and New York Church papers, please copy.

CHURCH MANUAL.—A small pamphlet containing the manual of the Oregon City Congregational Church has been laid on the table of an up country publisher, who says: "This Church for two years past, until lately, has been officiated over by Rev. P. S. Knight. It is in a prosperous condition, having increased in membership under his ministry. The articles of faith are very brief, but embrace a great deal of religion, without containing any dogmas. It is the oldest Congregational Church probably on this coast, having been organized in 1844. Dr. Atkinson was its pastor from 1848 until 1863.

THANKS.—We feel thankful to our brethren of the Press throughout Oregon and Washington Territory, who have, without distinction of party, greeted the enlarged edition of the ENTERPRISE with so many kind words. We admit that times are very dull just now, but that gives the more cause for renewed exertion on the part of everybody. In such times as these all people should increase their hours of labor, instead of dallying for a reduction.

MONTHLY BOOK LIST.—We are in receipt of the "Monthly Book List" of the Pioneer Book Seller of Oregon, Mr. S. J. McCormick, 105 Front st., Portland. The list gives prices of an extensive invoice, from which parties may select, and then instructs how to order the goods. McCormick is now a heavier dealer, in proportion to business, than any San Francisco house in that line.

QUOITS.—This somewhat ancient but honorable game, has been revived in Oregon. On Thursday last, in front of the Court House in this city several games were pitched between parties, and one side always came out winner. We observed that the Sheriff, County Clerk, Merchants, and others were engaged at it.

THE OIL MILL.—Our Olympia neighbor of the Standard says the oil mill in this city will be ready to begin operations next September. This is a mistake. The mill is being built at Salem. Mr. Baker is now engaged in getting out stones for it, at the quarry near Oregon City. The first large one was shipped on Monday last.

ENTERPRISE.—The Oregon City Enterprise has added another column to each of its pages. This gives it a more important appearance but adds nothing to its beauty. It is an indication, however, that our friend Ireland is making money, which at the present stage of business is rather astonishing! Success to you, old fellow, for you deserve it.—Mountaineer 20th.

SUNDAY PRACTICE.—There are five churches in this city. On last Sunday we believe service was held in but one of them. There was a gay game of base ball on the bluff, though. We frequently hear it stated that the Good Templars and church people have "got this town," but really the above situation shows that the place is a poor one for preachers.

PREVENT ACCIDENTS.—Our exchanges are full of notices of accidents by runaway teams, and the batch are traceable to defective harnesses. We advise all of our readers, near this city, to call upon Mr. J. H. Schram, before it is too late, and by getting a good harness prevent such accidents.

PERSONAL.—Lieut. Clawson and wife, and Mr. F. A. Hill and sister, Mrs. Thwing, paid us a flying visit on Tuesday. The Lieutenant seems to enjoy his new style of life very much, and notwithstanding the disaster which reduced his interest in the Iron Works to ashes lately, has a determination to speedily build up again.

CHANGE OF BUSINESS.—As will be seen by advertisement of Mr. James Mann, he has changed his order of business somewhat, and now goes under the title of Good Templar's Hall. Success attend him.

WORKING.—Mr. John Helm informs us that his chemicals are now in good condition. Parties in want of pictures should not fail to give him a call, at the Athey Gallery, on Main street.

CLACKAMAS COUNTY FLOUR.—Advices from New York state that Clackamas flour is yet commanding full figures. This includes both Imperial and Standard.

PUBLIC BALL.—Posters announce that Mr. John Athey will give a Public Ball at the Court House on Tuesday evening next. A pleasant time is expected.

INTERNAL REVENUE.—Collector Crawford will be in this city next week. See advertisement, and save costs.

A WAR IN UTAH.—It appears that a war in Utah is inevitable. The "Saints" latterly seem generally to have an aversion to accepting of Brigham's ill advice, yet the elements of discord predominate.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!

A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.

Prevents Fever and Ague and Bilious Remittent Fevers; fortifies the system against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water; invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels;

Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.

REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or

PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, genial, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility, and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and inocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day. SOLD EVERYWHERE.
