OREGON CITY COLLEGE.

The Trustees of this Institution are happy to announce that after a long delay, they have secured a teacher for it. Mr. J. D. Post who has had more than twenty years experience in teaching in Hartford and New York City, will commence his first term on Wednesday Nov. 23d. Of Mr. Posts qualifications the Trustees will not speak but submit the following two testimonials from competent judges: From T. L. Wright, Principal of the Hartford Grammar School

An Extract of a Letter from T. L. Wright, Esq.

Mr. Post gave while connected with me in the Hartford Grammar School, not only to myself, but to the numerous patrons of the school, the highest degree of satisfaction, while he both merited and received the peculiar confidence, respect and affection of the pupils. It gives me great pleasure to say of Mr. Post, that he is a most devotedly laborious, thorough and faithful Teacher, giving his whole soul, and all his energies to his work, and consequently wonderfully interesting his Pupils, and accelerating their progress in knowledge.

From Dr. Elliot of New York City.

Several years since while preparing for Yale College I enjoyed the tuition of Mr. J. D. Post. I have always looked back upon the period of my life with gratitude to him, and satisfaction to myself, for his instructions so rapidly onward in the path to knowledge. The success of those who have been his pupils, has in numerous instances shown that we did not overrate his teachings. But Mr. Posts abilities as a teacher are not his only qualifications. By extensive reading and experience, he is competent to afford important service in almost any sphere, where learning, experience and discretion are required.

TERMS—Primary pupils $6 per term of 11 weeks. Common English branches $8 per term of 11 weeks. Higher English including Philosophy, also, Latin and Greek $10. For Drawing, French, &c. there will be an extra charge. A small incidental charge for fuel.
