and Maurice Strakosch, on worldwide popularity. O. Bull is known wherever the most popular violinist has ever shed the fire of his music, and is also known to be one of the most generous and warm-hearted of men. He will arrive in the next steamer from Panama, having been detained on account of the necessary official instruments, which it seems he intended to take a young man to bear, a race for him, but who did not arrive in time for the sailing of the steamer. We are happy to learn that he has since recovered possession of them, as the loss would have been irreparable.—Maurice Strakosch is perhaps, the best pianist living, next to Liszt, and many think him superior.—He is an accomplished gentleman and finished musician. Our citizens may therefore prepare for something in the way of instrumental performances that can not be excelled in any portion of the world.—S. F. Sun.

FROM THE STATES.

☞ The following highly important despatch was telegraphed from Washington on the afternoon of June 5, and reached New York just before the sailing of the steamer for California:

Washington, Monday, June 5, 1854.

A special bearer of despatches from the Spanish Government has just been in official communication with the new Minister from Madrid, in this city, and the result is said to indicate events of the highest importance.

All our difficulties with Spain are in a train of amicable adjustment, but the most important fact developed is the official avowal that Spain has announced her willingness to sell Cuba, and that negotiations are now actually on foot between the two Governments with that end in view.

It was a knowledge of these negotiations and communications from Spain, which prompted the President to issue his Proclamation against the Filibusters, just as a knowledge of the Gadsden Treaty, a while ago, induced the Proclamation against California Filibusters.

The intelligence is creating no little excitement among the politicians of all classes here. The Northern men are asking "what does it mean?"—To what end is it to lead?

The Southerners are jubilant—while the moderate men of both sections only see in the negotiation a revival of the sectional animosities that have already too frequently shaken the strength of the Union.

God save the Republic! Yours, &c.

☞ The Nebraska bill passed the House on Monday, the 24th, by the vote of 113 to 100. After a long and tedious session, the Senate on Thursday, the 30th ult., passed the bill sent to them from the House, by a vote of 35 to 13. On the 30th of May the President delivered a message to Congress, approving and signing the bill.

☞ The Eagle has been removed from the Government Dry Dock at Brooklyn, and now lies at Henry & Dennistoun's dock, undergoing repairs. Her timbers are found to be perfectly sound. The defects in her machinery consist of no importance. It is believed, however, that the expense of repairing will be comparatively light, and that the ship will be ready for duty in less time than upon the average of such jobs. The refitting of the frigate Columbia is now in active progress. Her spars, rigging and guns were taken on board yesterday, and the work of refitting her cabin and other apartments will be commenced immediately. The officers are now occupied in the duties of their respective departments.—N. Y. Herald.

☞ The Sacramento Bee says:

During the month of May, 857,506 passengers from foreign countries arrived at this port.

☞ It is stated in Washington, that President Pierce had intended to send a message to Congress, in advance of some day the adoption of extreme measures towards Spain.

☞ The Wheeling Intelligencer says that the Bridge Company have removed one pier, the novel and unknown obstruction that has not been removed, at the expiration of nine days, and have taken no other measures to be in compliance with the decree.

☞ Louis Napoleon has expressed a decided disapprobation of the movements made by the U. S. from Spain, and the fear that his policy in the matter will be East. That policy was based on the faithful observance of treaties, and was opposed to attempts on the part of any Power to take advantage of the weakness of a neighbor to rob it of its territory.

☞ There are such a population in the state of slavery in the city of New York—street beggars and outcasts by the very beggary and shame.

☞ The Revue de la Havane publishes an extract from the Cuba Gazette, of the 1st of the 5th May, in which he argues against the emancipation of the slaves being contemplated as calamitous and ridiculous. He calls on the authorities to repress and chastise the perpetrators of them with a strong hand, and to confirm the confidence of the inhabitants of the island by assuring the owners of slaves of the legitimate, peaceful and constant possession of their property, now and in all times. He concludes in a similar strain by saying: "Do not neglect to inculcate this on all minds, or to convince that they ought to keep tranquil under the paternal provisions of that government which has raised the island to a degree of richness and welfare, which are at the moment the envy and cupidity of powerful nations—of that government which feels itself as strong to destroy the plots of intriguing and venal perfidy, as the armaments of filibusters, which perhaps at this moment are preparing for our troops, and for our royal Colonies, a fresh occasion to exalt their names in the eyes of the Queen and the country."

☞ The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Herald, writing June 2, says:

The State Department have received despatches from Mr. Gregg, the Consul at Honolulu, to the effect that the King of the Sandwich Island had renewed the application to be admitted to the Union either as Territory or a State, and that he (Mr. Gregg) had written home for instructions. Mr. Gregg represents that the King and people are now in a state of great excitement on the subject, and that they will not be satisfied with any thing short of a positive decision. Mr. Gregg represents that the King and people are now in a state of great excitement on the subject, and that they will not be satisfied with any thing short of a positive decision. They cannot understand why it is that the U. S. interferes so much in the affairs of Mexico, and yet when the U. S. interferes so much in the affairs of Mexico, there would no longer be an opportunity of doubt. Mr. Gregg represents that he was without any instructions on the subject, or power in act—but he strenuously contended to open negotiations, on a private and delicate subject, subject to the approval or rejection of his government. It is expected that the result of the negotiation will reach N. Y. in the course of a month, and that it will present, directly, an application for annexation to the Union, unless indeed some unforeseen difficulty should arise to adjust the preliminaries between the King and Mr. Gregg. It is understood our government is wholly unprepared in the matter—delicacy in being judged by Mr. Marcy to be the better part of valor.

☞ Beef is higher than ever at New York.—Last week the best pieces were scarce at 25 cents per lb.

California Mines.

At Moscow, Smith's diggings, it is reported, on the Sierra City, that dirt has been found prove as high as $50 to the pan.

The French Gulch diggings are proving rich; a company came gold pieces from Washington Bay.

The Manhattan Company, consisting of 20 men, are a mile south of Sierra City, that dirt has been found prove as high as $50 to the pan.

The Tiger Bluff Co. are also to put in a three-horse ditch a mile below the Manhattan. The company meet every Sunday at Esq. Egberts to make their arrangements.

A company are commencing a ditch in the vicinity of Indian Bar.

An old claim on Dry's Flat owned by Henry Wilson, yielded about $800 above expenses in the last three weeks.

New Gold Discovery.

Great Excitement at Port Orford

We copy the following from the memorandum of the purser of the steamship Columbia:

Arrived at Port Orford July 7, at 9 o'clock A. M., found the town completely deserted. Every one had gone to the new Diggings, which have been discovered some 24 miles inland.

Miners make from $20 to $31 per day. The character of the Gold is much the same as the coarse Gold of California, and is said to be equally as well. One party of four men are said to have taken out some $3,000 in the short space of two weeks. About $1,000 of the Gold from the new diggings was on exhibition at Port Orford, while the Columbia was there.—Portland Sun, June 17.

☞ It is then a question among people, how much are we to pay for our matrimony and its enjoyments, whether we will be the head of our house or not, if we only make it wholesome. Most emphatically I vote aye on this point, and be in favor of the women having power. Now although many do go to bedstaring up their heads at night, and sweep comically without injury, yet we do not like to have them so in earnest. The vessels through which the blood passes from the heart to the head, are always wider and better in the cavities when the head is better higher than the body, therefore we do not like to see our wives with the heads and people mixed to an extent that we have to see plain I am not for Women's Rights.

You may answer with the [illegible] of a singer—Is that all? I feared by your sadness I had wrote. Let those beautiful things be taken—all the splendid trifles, I care not for them—I only care for my husband's love and confidence. You shall forget in my affection that you were ever in poverty, only still love me, and I will act you to bear these little reverses with cheerfulness."

Still love her, a man must reverence, aye! and liken her to the very angels, for such a woman is a living revelation of heaven.—Ex.

Woman's Rights.

Perhaps only those who are wise above what is written, that are full drunk filled with what has been done and is now doing to raise and elevate the female race and the discontented ones are "like the troubled sea, when it cannot rest, whose waters cast up mire and dirt." They lower and injure themselves and they are perfectly beneath. For our part we hope these remonstrances will be put down, before our little daughter comes on the active stage of life, for sooner than have her to enjoy the position of Miss Stone, or any other female lecturer, we would rather let her fall an early grave. As she is our only daughter and [illegible] shoulder, we would not have her [illegible] all that is lovely in woman, and [illegible] the country, in the [illegible] of public show of herself, to [illegible] under the political [illegible] of Lucy Stone. [illegible] the character of the female lecturer [illegible] Mrs. Stone, before the commenced her lecture here had to put to silence the plain words of holy writ, by sophistry and logic—poor crutches to lean upon, yet she made them do. They cannot answer plainly and fully the Bible objections to their leaving their homes and domestic duties and assuming the prerogatives of men. How are the old to teach the young women to be keepers at home, to love their husbands and children, while they are going about the country?

We are afraid these notions are becoming dangerous to the moral and decent behavior of young girls of the present day. If older women can with propriety mix with the sterner sex in trade, in voting and in debate, or in any way in which they may come in competition, will not their example lead the young to the same boldness, although in a different way? We have seen accounts in eastern papers of young women sauntering into saloons, drinking brandy cocktails and something which they call by the women's rights new name of cigarettes! with as much nonchalance as any boy of 16 or 18 would do. What parent could bear to have such a dangerous thing be with companions? such a state of things will exist and there will be no help for it if these new notions are carried out as the advocates are pushing them forward at the present time, both by precept and example. One lecturer says that the time has come to lay down the needle and scissors and go out in the world and get our ideas enlarged. It may be well for those who are willing to sacrificing women and make a hundred dollars or more at the exhibition, but for our part we have rather "sing the song of the shirt," and "stitch, stitch, stitch," than become a show animal to gratify the curiosity of the curious.—Mrs. Mary Abbott.

There are many different minds on the above subject. We are rather inclined to side with Mrs. Abbott with regard to Lucy Stone, at least; for we have no charity for her whatever, and cannot have after reading as much as we have of her proceedings.

Farmers' Daughters.

We know of no reason why the farmer's daughter should not be as intelligent, and polished in her manners, as the merchant's daughter—or why she should not play the piano and speak French, if her father is able to afford her these luxuries. If she is not, all these unnecessary accomplishments are rather a disgrace than an ornament to her.

The farmer's daughter need not be bookish; the country girl need not be scientific, "green," and we may add there is more in no polish—the polish that is so good in the town greater—in the country than in the city only. The duties of the farmer's wife and the belle of the fashionable nature. She has the affections as the belle of the drawing room; for she has social nature, which is vastly superior.

The farmer's occupation is the noblest and most [illegible] all—why should the daughters shrink from it? Are they intelligent and virtuous, as a sensible person cannot but prefer these qualities in a wife to empty, outside appearance of refinement.

God made the country—man made the town;" and we might add that God made the country and the real maids the city girl—or, rather, some girl which is just as bad. The field is the best nationally developed the mind and heart in woman. There is sympathy between them, and if the farmer's daughter loses any thing by being deprived of the benefits of city society, she is abundantly compensated by the more genial influence of green fields and running brooks. She is less artificial than her sister of the city; she trembles not at the sight of a "horrid bullfrog" or a "nasty spider;" the cow that gives milk for her butter, is not the fabled dragoon; and a man in a long frock, with a long beard, is not the ogre of the nursery rhymes. She is not afraid of a black kettle, or a washtub, and boldly stares into a blazing oven without the fear of being burned to death.

In short the position of the farmer's daughter is superlatively favorable to the development of all that is true and beautiful in woman, and that senseless coppery which affects to depose her, will, one day, be severely reinstated.—Mrs. Mary Abbott.

FOUND!

ABOUT 3 1-2 miles northeast of this city, a bundle of unsealed papers addressed to D. H. N. V. Johnson. They contain a warranty deed and five or six letters. The deed has probably been sent from the States to be filled out here. The blank is partially filled. One of the letters was sent from San Francisco, and was addressed to "Sister Clara," and signed by "James Wood." They may be important documents. Any person who has lost such can probably particularly describe them, which will be their means of obtaining them, by calling at the Spectator office, complying with this request and paying for this advertisement.

[OFFICIAL]

SURVEYOR GENERAL'S OFFICE, Oregon City, June 12, '54.

SIR:—In answer to your enquiry relative to a rumor which is said to prevail, that I have authorized any settlement on the lands of the Hudson's Bay Company, in anticipation of the purchase, by the United States, of their possessory rights, I have the honor to inform you that it is without foundation. I have authorized no encroachment nor settlement on the lands claimed by that company, nor those of the Puget Sound Agricultural Company.

We are informed of no step being taken by our government to avail itself of the right of purchase reserved in the 2d paragraph of the 4th article of the treaty, between the United States and Great Britain of the 15th August, 1846, and my instructions are to "guard against any act which might lead to a conflict or difficulty in title," and in executing the public surveys to avoid any sectional or minute subdivisions of the land covered by such claims," but only to extend the township lines over them, so as necessarily to indicate in the plats of surveys their connection with the public domain of the United States.

We have, at Fort Vancouver, a military station, which, besides the land of the Hudson's Bay Company, is guarded by the 9th section of the land law of 27 th September, 1850, against any settlement within one mile of any tract or parcel of land selected for a military post."

You will observe that in the extensions recently made of surveys in Washington Territory, no subdivision or sectional surveys have been made over the lands designated by your predecessor as claimed by the Hudson's Bay Company.

Very respectfully, yours,

(signed) C. K. GARDNER,
Surveyor Gen. of Oregon.
