LOCAL AND OTHER INTELLIGENCE.

Sad and Sorrowful.—Elsewhere in our columns will be found the obituary notice of one of Mr. J. M. Bentley's children. This is the fifth little one that the parents of this child have followed to the grave in the last six years. It is indeed a sorrowful spectacle for parents to follow their children one after another to the grave. One out of six children is left these grief stricken parents. This is truely heart-rending and seems as if it were enough to break the very hearts of the parents. Scarcely are their wounded hearts and affections healed from the loss of one till the wounds are opened afresh and they are again called to mourn the loss of another child. But there is a balm in Gilead. The blessed hopes of immortality, the proud and happy thought that the little ones have gone where there is no sorrow, no sickness, no suffering, no death, buoys up the spirits of the surviving and those are privileged to "sorrow not as they that have no hope," but can look forward with bright assurance to the happy day when they shall meet their children to part no more forever in the realms of everlasting bliss.

We clip the following handsome notice of our Junior from the Mountain Sentinel:

G. M. Bull, typo, local editor and job printer of the East Oregonian has been spending several days in our town visiting friends and extending the circulation of his journal. Mr. Bull is a young man whose energy, pluck and perseverence has, at an early age placed him at the head of the craft, as the job work executed in the E. O. office will attest. We hope he may have success that will induce him to visit Union often, and we guarantee him ever a hearty welcome at the Sentinel office.

Rand and Briggs have purchased about 6000 head of cattle, mostly in this county for the eastern market. Lang and Ryan have also about 6000 head and have driven them east, lately. The latter firm bought a considerable number from the stock men of this county. Over $100,000 left in the county from these sales.

James Hendershot indicted by the grand jury, of Union county, at the October term 1878, for embezzlement had his trial last week, at Union and was acquitted. We are glad of it. E. S. McComas was indicted by the grand jury for libel. That will perhaps terminate in the same manner.

In Limbo.—Rattlesnake Jack is in jail at Canyon City, charged we believe with larceny. He writes a letter to the Grant county News complaining of his treatment and tells what a nice little boy he has always been and don't think he ought to be in jail.

Messrs. Pennington and Benson are repairing and papering the Pendleton Hotel throughout and making it look like a new building. The ceiling of the plazza in front has been whitewashed and the whole house is putting on a beautiful appearance.

A Little Fast.—From the way parties are going out on the reservation with chain and compass we imagine that nearly all the lands are taken. We guess however parties will have to wait a little while before they take possession.

Hon. E. N. Cooke of Salem died at his residence in Salem, on the 6th inst., in the 69th year of his age. Mr. Cooke was born in Jefferson county, New York, and came to Oregon in 1851. He was burried by the Odd Fellows of which order he was a member.

Rev. D. P. Brooks of the Baptist Church will preach at their Church at Pendleton, on the 4th Sunday of this month at 11 A. M. Rev. W. H. Pruett will preach at Heppner at the same day at 11 A. M. and 4 P. M.

Thanks to Senator Grover for copy of United States statutes passed at session of Congress 1877-8. Also to Senator Slater and Congressman Whiteaker for public documents and other congressional favors.

The name of Hon. S. J. Field of California, is mentioned as the probable Democratic candidate for president in 1880. He can have our hearty support if nominated and we have no doubt will distance Grant.

The Odd Fellows Grand Lodge meets at Albany next Tuesday, the Masonic Grand Lodge at Portland, on the 9th of June and Grand Lodge I. O. G. T. at Salem, June 20th. We will not attend the latter.

Samuel Anderson executor of the estate of C. S. Jewell, deceased, sold to Charles Seeley 2700 sheep for $2700 last week. The sheep were badly scabbed and everything was counted.

Hon. J. P. Schooling, a member of the late Legislature, from Linn county, came up on Saturday last visiting friends and relatives in this county. He went up to Weston on Saturday.

Jesse Failing is putting up a building on the corner between the Pendleton Hotel and the bridge, to be used as a furniture store.

Go to the Pendleton Drug Store for your tobacco, you lovers of the weed. The very best assortment ever brought to town.

Grand Lodge I. O. O. F., meets at Albany next Tuesday the 20th.

R. N. Stanfield called on us this week.

This county beats Webfoot this season, and still it rains.

Next week we will give our entire trip to Grand Ronde.

Elsewhere will be seen Schedule Time on the Columbia.

The Independent man has been to Heppner. Attended a law suit for a client and won it. Is that the first case ever won?

Bishop Morris, of the Episcopal Church was in Pendleton this week on his rounds of pastorial visitation. He went over the mountains yesterday.

Veto.—Hayes has vetoed the bill entitled "an act to prohibit military interference at elections". The old fraud expects to be a candidate again, and proposes to have the army re-elect him.

Good.—H. B. Thielson Jr., with a corps of engineers, left Portland last Monday to survey a line on both sides of the Columbia river from the Cascades to Celilo in the interest of Jay Gould's railroad, the Oregon Pacific.

Correction.—Last week we stated that Doane, Weeks and Knowles were here in the interest of the W. P. Railroad, when we should have said the North Pacific. We stand corrected Charley. Our mistake and your treat.

A. H. Starkweather and Floyd McDonald have been on a visit to Granite Creek, and returned this week. They report the prospects of the mines very flattering. The Beagle ledge they say is the best they saw, even better than the famous Monumental.

From "The Old Philosopher."

Mr. Editor:—

I furnished no article last week, because there was such a dearth of news. I waited until the last moment in the vain hope that my friend F. P. T. would suggest some item either in an editorial or a "Young Philosopher" letter. But alas, the "Young Phil." hid his light under a bushel, and the only two editorials in the last issue of the Independent were copied from the Portland Oregonian, for one of which only Fred. gave credit. This week news is scarce as "change." Deputy Marshal Morse started for Portland a few days since with two prisoners who were held to answer for selling whiskey to Indians. One of the prisoners took "French Leave" at the Dalles. Where, oh! where was Coffey? Our townsman, J. M. Bentley, has again met with misfortune. His only remaining child was buried to-day. This makes the fifth of his children stricken down by the hand of death within a few years. Sad, sad indeed! The family has the sympathy of the entire community. The weather during this month has been rainy, cold and altogether disagreeable, and as the local of the Portland Oregonian remarks, "it is difficult to determine whether this is May or December." However, "there is no evil without its benefits," and if this weather is bad for sheep shearing, the tillers of the soil bewail not the copious showers.

THE UMATILLA RESERVATION

Will in due course of time be collected of its present owners of aborigines, and the white man will cause its vast acres to blossom and bring forth fruit. But it strikes me that many of our good people, as well as others from Weston, Walla Walla and other places, are rather hasty about visiting the land, setting stakes, surveying and selecting choice spots. Remember there is considerable red tape about government affairs, and it may be a year or more before the reservation will be open for settlement. My impression is that instead of being thrown open for pre-emption, etc., the land will be appraised, and choice spots will be sold for cash at fair prices. Money makes the mare of civilization go off at a gallop, and corn will tell the tale. Weston is putting on airs because she's going to have a railroad; that is provided some of the stubborn farmers in that vicinity do not refuse the "right of way." Pendleton is not envious of Weston; we rejoice at her prosperity, and at the same time we may smile at her town branch road, for we are going to have a Ajax road. Jay Gould in connection with some German capitalists intends to build a road from Ogden to Portland. Jay Gould means business. Mr. Thielson the Chief Engineer of the company passed through here a few days since, taking a look at the country. He informed "Yours truly" that if the O. S. N. Company will carry their material to Umatilla at reasonable rates, the road will be begun this summer at that place, and he has no doubt the road will run through this valley, and instead of making their men fence as is the custom of railroad companies, this company proposes to help along towns that already have a good start. If Jay Gould & Co. cannot make proper arrangements with the O. S. N. Co. for the carrying of freight, construction of the road will be begun immediately at Portland. Surveyors are already in the field between that city and the Dalles. Let us hope that the iron horse will soon be snorting through our valleys. Let those who have come away from Illinois and Iowa, because the locomotive spreads civilization, now take a long sail.

OUR WOOL GROWERS

Begin to feel a little more encouraged. A month ago the prospects were that prices would rule low this season, but eastern dealers have forced sales of old stocks, and now there is a better demand for new wools and prices are steadily advancing. Our producers of wool, would do well to heed the following advice, contained in a circular lately issued by a leading commission firm: "We would call the attention of growers to the necessity of shipping their wool to market in good order. The success of a sale depends so largely on the attractive appearance of the parcel that we can hardly recommend too strongly that care be exercised in the matter. Gradeall fleeces so far as possible. All defective, heavy, and bucks' fleeces should be packed separately. All extra choice should be put apart and the whole clip invoiced accordingly. Tags should be carefully removed from the fleece and rejected. All sales are made subject to rejection of every inferior fleece or part of one. Every fleece is opened and repacked by buyers. They are too careful to pay freight on trash if gotten for nothing; and it would be well for farmers to be as wise. Then tie all fleeces neatly and put in good sacks. There is always a rebate for poor ones, and the looks spoil chances of sale. By so doing, Oregon wool growers will put in the good reputation already gained by their product.

THE NEW CONSTITUTION.

Has been adopted in the State of California by a very decided majority. A great hue and cry was raised by capitalists and importers in San Francisco, that its adoption would prove disastrous to the welfare of the State and they spared no money nor efforts to defeat it. But the people of the interior are tired of the rule of monopolies and want a change. The new Constitution has some very good points and some which will perhaps prove irksome, but taken altogether it will work no hardships and after awhile all will be serene in the "Golden State."

Bishop Morris arrived here last evening and held services in the Episcopal Church. Several children were baptised. Wonder if Bush Livermore enjoyed it as much as he did at a previous baptism in the ditch?

Yours truly,

The Old Philosopher.

Our Junior returned from Union, on Wednesday evening last. He received a hearty welcome while he was gone and our subscription list is largely increased, so much so that we are compelled to order a new supply of paper. In sound numbers, 28 new subscribers. Pretty well for one weeks work. We extend our hearty thanks to the people of Union county and promise them that one of us will be with them often.

Notice.—As will be seen among our list of agents we have appointed Eugene Chase of Union as our agent at that point and for the surrounding country. He is granted the privilege to receive and receipt for all money due this office, and transact all other business pertaining to said office.

Prospects Darkies.—Up to the 28th of April 8,600 colored emigrants from the South had been sent from St. Louis to Kansas. Of the whole number only 2,400 could pay their own fare. The others were furnished with free transportion by the colored emigration relief committee.

During our absence from home C. E. Bull and Miss Bell Bishop, did remarkably well, doing almost three persons work. Besides issuing the "E. O." printed nine different posters and several letter-press jobs. Did well.

Ed. Hirsch, State Treasurer, passed through Pendleton this week on his way home from Union, where he had been as a witness in the cost of the State against Hendershott.

I. Hathaway is making grand improvements in fixing up his variety store; putting in show windows and now intends giving it a coat of paint.

Mr. Horace Bickers of the steamer Harvest Queen, is visiting his brotner-in-law Lot Livermore of this place.

Judge Bailey is putting on airs—has had his office painted.

Umatilla County.

The following exhibit sent us from the office of the State Treasurer makes a good showing for Mr. Webb our efficient County Treasurer:

Pendleton.—A correspondent of the Portland Standard says: We found Pendleton, to be the principal town of this section. It is the county seat of Umatilla county, containing about 800 inhabitants, three churches (Episcopal, Methodist and Baptist,) one grist mill—said to be the best in Eastern Oregon,—two blacksmith shops, two livery stables, two meat makets, one tin and hardware store, four stores, (general merchandise,) two shoe shops, one variety store, one drug store, one bakery, one barber shop, one furniture store one saddler shop, two hotels, two newspapers, one planing mill, four doctors, five lawyers, three milliner shops, six saloons, one high school, (private,) two private schools and one public. There are about 250 scholars in the district. No public school building is yet in the place, which looks rather bad, but we were told that during the coming summer an effort will be made to have one built. Odd Fellows, Masons, Knights of Pythias and Good Templars have organized lodges in successful operation.

Correspondence.

Lena, May 12, 1879.

Ed. "E. O."—We have had what is termed a lambing race in this neighborhood of late. One R. Kelly, who hails from Australia, took Wm. Matlock's band of ewes to to lamb, claiming he could raise a larger percentage of lambs than anybody on the creek, and particularly that he could beat Tom Matlock, whom he termed a rancher. When the lambing season was over and the lambs were marked, it was found that Kelly had lambed 85½ per cent. and Matlock 126 per cent. So much for the rancher.

J. E. D.

Escaped.—Wm. Hicks and Enoch Baker, two convicts, says the Salem Statesman, escaped from the penitentiary on the night of the 6th. They effected their escape by digging through the wall of their cell, with a chisel which they brought with them from the work shop. Two sets of guards were on duty, but neither noticed their escape. $200 reward is offered for their arrest, or $100 for the arrest of either.

Chief Moses and the other Indians who went to Washington, D. C., on a bust at the government expense, have returned on the Ancon. The steamer Vancouver met the ship at the mouth of the Willamette and took them aboard for Fort Vancouver, where they will remain a few days before going to their reservation.—Bee.

Sam Bowles understood the true philosophy of journalism. He onceap ologized for the length of an article, saying he did not have time to write a short one.—Our Occasional.
