LOCAL AND OTHER INTELLIGENCE.

New Mail Route.—John Holtz has just returned from an absence of about four weeks—in the mountains between Pilot Rock and Canyon City—where he has been engaged in stringing stack and establishing stations for the new mail route running from Pilot Rock to Prairie City. The line is now in good running order, and mails are going regularly from here to the latter named city once a week. This gives the mining country a direct outlet. Their mails heretofore having been sent by Baker or Canyon City. John looks hearty and says he feels as fine as a lark. He did not arrive soon enough for the Farrow festival; had he, we should not have had the opportunity to lay before our readers any portion of this news. Supposing it had served him as it did the balance of the guests.

After the Indian ceremonies of reception given to Lieut. Farrow and his scouts as detailed elsewhere, were over, the Lieut. came to town, and a reception far superior to any Grant reception, was given him by the citizens of Pendleton. A banquet was spread at the Pendleton Hotel and a good time was had. The table groaned under its load of rich viands until the guests lightened it and began to groan themselves. Everything passed off pleasantly and all vied with each other in doing honor to the returning chief, the brave Lieut. E. S. Farrow, who has in this short campaign won for himself and his Indian scouts laurels that others have spent years to win, and failed. Three cheers for Lieut. Farrow and his Umatilla scouts.

Cattle.—We understand that Samuel George, who bought the late Luke Skelly's band of cattle, has ascertained that a goodly number of this summer's calves have been marked, and that said calves are now sucking the cows. George knows the parties who have commenced to gobble up these calves and proposes to make it warm for them. George is the owner of all the Skelly cattle and thieves had better regulate their actions accordingly. The Skelly cattle were branded M L connected, and with a dog iron. Now all you cattle markers look out.

Come From Oth Gate.—Uncle Ben Hopper, an old pioneer, settled in Happy Canyon in 1864; raised stock and vegetables till he had enough of this worlds goods, and he proposes to return to Egypt, but not to buy corn, as he has plenty of that truck on hand. He goes to south Illinois to visit the scenes of his childhood. Hope he may find plenty old and prosperous friends. We hope he will return before next election for he always votes the Democratic ticket, and "we want more such in this latitude."

The fire company have now thoroughly organized and took for their name "Protection No. 1. The constitution and by-laws have been adopted. Officers:

J. F. Dunn, Chief.
Wm. Mays, Foreman.
Lot Livermore, President.
D. W. Bailey, Secretary.
S. Rothchild, Treasurer.

Grand ball for firemen October 30th, at Millarkey's Hall.

What Farmers are Doing.—Farmers north of town are busily engaged fencing and plowing their farms. Fencing is a slow business as the rails have to be hauled form 20 to 40 miles. The planing mill at Pendleton has been doing a land office business, splitting poles in the center to be used as rails, this enables the farmer to get two poles for one in his fencing, and it is said that the split pole makes the better fence.

County Court.—The county court has been in session during the week, and among other things have accepted and paid for the following bridges. One across Umatilla river one mile above town, built by Mays & Zeigler. Price, $2300. One at town built by Bentley Haun & Co. Price $2499. One in Happy Canyon built by J. M. Snell. Price $1699. All these bridges are good and substantial and were a public necessity.

Immigration from Europe to the United States during the last twelve months has been nearly double what it was for the previous year, and consists mainly of skilled workmen, attracted hither by the revival of our manufacturing industries. England and Europe has long furnished common laborers to the United States, and now we can furnish ample room for skilled artisans they are coming to.

A Heavy Punishment.—Ex-Sheriff Isle, of Yamhill county, has been convicted of embezzlement. It will be remembered that at the close of his official term about a year ago, he has found to be several thousand dollars short in his account. He was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary and a fine of five thousand dollars was also imposed—so we are informed.

Grand Ball.—Given on Birch creek at Pilot Rock, Umatilla county, Oregon, Oct. 31st, 1879. Good music will be in attendance, and a good time is anticipated. All are cordially invited to attend. Tickets, including supper, $2 00.

Salmon Eggs.—A car load of salmon eggs from St. Cloud river, northern California, arrived in Chicago the other day on the way to Washington. The car contained 6,500,000 eggs to be distributed in rivers in the eastern States.

We notice large invoices of goods being landed in front of R. Alexander & Co., L. Blum is not behind in the race, Rothchild & Bean Do. The trade that these stores have is something wonderful for a played out town.

79 hotel arrivals at Ben Ton, from Sunday to Wednesday night inclusive.

Six new houses now being built in Pendleton.

Now is the winter of our discontent made glorious by a pair of Mills & Leak's gloves, the best made.

J. Hexter deserves more than passing notice for the A No. 1 butter that he brought from Vancouver.

We solicit communications of all deaths and marriages in the county. Don't be afraid to let your light shine.

We understand that Frank Parker of the Walla Walla Statesman and Miss Fanny Newell were married last Tuesday.

88,000 pounds of goods for La Grande, Baker and Union passed through town this week. And there is building going on in town.

Any person wishing to buy a good ranch for stock and farming combined. Read advertisement of F. Maddock, under "New To-day."

Don't fail as the weather grows cold to call at R. Alexander & Co.'s and get a pair of Mills & Leak's gloves, the only ones worth the money.

Ben Ton Hotel just beats anything for setting up the eatables. Beaver tail soups, ox tail soups, meats, vegetables, pies, and all got up by a first rate white cook.

Ministers of the Gospel please leave at the Oregonian office the time of service in your different churches. With name of pastor and we will insert it with pleasure.

Several beaver tails were sent into town and distributed around to different parties. It is said they are delicious when got up in ham ton style. Success to the trapper. May his shadow never grow less.

Church Matters.—On next Wednesday there will be services at the Episcopal Church. The Bishop of the diocese will be present. Everybody invited.

Sales.—Lang & Stang have sold the half interest in their brewery, in Pendleton, to J. B. Natis. D. Theodore has also sold his two town lots to the same man.

New Bridge.—The bridge across the Umatilla in Happy Canyon is completed. Thus a man can get to the lower part of the county now without going around by the way of Reddie.

Enterprising.—Jimmy Cullison has made arrangements to polish off every body's boots who come to town. He will be found at all public places. A good boy and needs patronage.

Worthy Object.—Two sisters of charity canvassed our town this week and raised $100 to be expended for a hospital at Walla Walla. We learn that the employees at the agency subscribed very liberally to the fund.

We noticed in the Independent a kind of a row between a Mr. Cantwell and J. N. Bunch. Our opinion is that a person's private wrongs should not be heralded through a newspaper; they interest no one but themselves, and if they cannot agree the courts will eventually settle the matter. We hope both parties are right.

Heavy Wind Storm.—On Saturday evening last our city was visited by a very severe storm of wind and rain, the gale being as strong as was ever witnessed in this vicinity. It lasted but about two hours, but this was long enough to do considerable damage to fences, shade trees, shrubbery, sky-lights, tin roofs, etc. A part of the tin roof on the Capitol building was blown off, some of the pieces being blown across the block to the north of the Capitol. This was probably a clearing up storm, as we have had but little rain since, and it is to be hoped will not have any more for some weeks to come.—Salem Mercury.

Four of the prisoners confined in the county jail at Albany, made their escape last Friday evening. They sawed through two sets of iron bars, and went through an eighteen inch brick wall. Their names are John Shaw, John Clark, Frank Parker and a Chinaman. They were aided in their escape by parties on the outside, who furnished them with the necessary tools to dig out with. The blankets in the jail were used to deaden the sound while at work. There were two other prisoners in the jail at the time, but they preferred staying, as they were only sent to jail for a few days and their times had almost expired. Those that escaped were awaiting the action of the grand jury on charge of burglary.—Pacificator.

Thus we learn that other jails outside our county, give liberty to the prisoner.

Judge Jere S. Black, of Pennsylvania, yields to the Washington Post his views upon national politics to the effect that the treachery of Tammany is enough to make a true Democrat "raise his better angel from his side and fall to reprobation;" that Tilden in his opinion doesn't want to be the candidate in 1880, but that he can have the nomination if he is willing to take it; that his personal preference is not for Tilden, but for Gen. Hancock, "because he was the first officer of his rank in the regular army that lifted his voice to say a good word for constitutional liberty;" but he thinks Tilden deserves a vindication as the victim of fraud and slander. Judge Black says that the talk to the effect that Tilden ought to have seized the Presidenty and had himself inaugurated at all risks is "unmitigated nonsense." If the House had declared him elected then he would have been unfaithful to his duty if he had not taken possession; between his political supporters in Congress permitted him and his constituents to be juggled out of their rights, he could not remedy the wrong.—Standard.

Granite Creek Mines.

Through James Beagle, of the Buffalo mines, in Granite, we learn that Harve Robbins, new hotel, near the Monumental Mines, is nearly completed, that it will accommodate one hundred and fifty boarders; that there will be a large billiard saloon attached to house. Ross' saloon is completed and in running order. Stemme & Co.'s store is completed and their goods will arrive for the winter in a few days. That about 100 men are employed in the Monumental Mines and about the mill which will be completed about the middle of next month, that several hundred tons of rich milling ore are out and ready for the mill. Good ledges are being struck all along Granite creek from the Monumental to the saw mill about three miles down the creek. Beagle is tapping the ledge about 400 feet from the surface where he expects to be able to gaze upon untold wealth. The surface of this ledge has been the richest ever discovered in the mines. Many thousand dollars have already been taken out and worked by an arrastra. Work has stopped on all the ledges on Onion creek, but will be developed next summer. One claim owned by Cabal Bro. has been offered for sale for $100,000—offered $75,000, but this offer was refused. The old city of Independence is reviving. Messrs. Gleason are keeping a first class saloon in the place.

New ditches are being run in the mountains, and old ones repaired.

Wm. Johnson and I. Clopp are fixing to work their placer claims on the North Fork of John Days on a large scale as they have purchased all the apparatus which has been used heretofore on the Carson mines, including iron pipe and iron hydraulic.

Correspondence.

Hepner, October 18th.

Ed. "E. O."—Our town has been very lively for the last week or so.

Sam Jones, formerly of Pendleton, got very drunk, the cause of which was despondency, and as we now have a jail, was therein incarcerated by the authorities. He was very quiet for an hour or so, when some persons walking in the upper end of town noticed a dense smoke issuing from one side of his quarters. We were immediately informed of his doings, and arriving on the scene, found that he had fired one side of the jail, which was burning very brisk, for in another half hour he would have made his exit, when the justice of the peace arrived and turned him loose. This is the way our criminals are encouraged. I believe there is a law against firing buildings. Also the chief of Heppner was on a bear and came pretty near being ——— which, luckily for the inhabitants of this place, was not done or he would have tried to wipe Heppner from existence. I expect he scared you Pendletonians.

Mr. E. C. Lord, Bill Ellis and Sheriff Sperry were in town a few days ago.

Mr. George Swaggart is putting on an addition to his building, which will be used as a stationery and notion store.

Mr. H. Heppner, our thriving merchant, has been deputized to go to Portland as a committee to represent the Heppner colony to Father Grant and family, and if possible to get the seventy fifth Savior of our country to visit us. Heppner! I wouldn't do dat.
