Our Court House has received a new coat of paint, being now of a dark maroon color, the fence is well under way and when completed and painted white the whole surroundings will present a handsome appearance. In fact we very much doubt if our worthy Circuit Judge will recognize his bailiwick on his return.

A stick was cut in the Tacoma mill, Washington Territory, to put in the ship Dashing Wave, that is 120 feet long and 24x14 inches in thickness.

School books for sale at cost at H. Jacobs'.

Burglary.—The store of H. Dunphy was broken into by a burglar on Sunday night last and quite a large amount of jewelry was stolen. The thief entered by a back window, removing a pane of glass so as to permit of his getting his hand inside to draw the latch. This done he raised the window, entered the room and rifled the show-case of a large portion of its contents, effecting his retreat by the same way he entered undiscovered. A loose character from Walla Walla by the name of Tom Roach was arrested on suspicion and had an examination on Monday before Justice Guyer but there being no evidence against him he was released. The culprit is still at large.

Sheriff Martin was struck with the old '49 fever on hearing the reports from the gold mines in the mountains and has gone on a prospecting tour to see what he can find. Bob Sargent in the meanwhile is the ruling spirit of the bailiwick, is always on a rush and it seems would like to impress the people that the Sheriff of Umatilla County has work to do. We learn that Carley Ball has the richest prospect in the mountains and he has gone out to view his possessions.

A Coon Story.—A. W. Nye while on a recent visit to the place of Col. Shaw near Vancouver shot two coons out of a tree on the Colonel's ranch which made 15 that have been killed out of the same tree in the last five months. Ad will have to migrate if he wishes to pursue the avocation of a Nimrod longer, for we shall see to it that the Legislature passes a special act forbidding him the use of fire-arms before the game is entirely destroyed.

Wanted! 1000 men, women and children to be made warm for the winter. Apply to G. W. Webb's hardware store. Stoves for the million, tinware, zinc, copper and sheet-iron ware, tools for farmers, blacksmiths, carpenters, stone and brick masons, well-diggers, miners, and every branch of the mechanics' or architects' trade. Fire arms and ammunition, cutlery, nails, etc., always on hand and of the best quality.

Comes now I. Hathaway and being first duly sworn says he is prepared to furnish fruits, candies, confectioneries, nuts, cigars, tobacco, fishing tackle, musical instruments, knick-knacks and notions of every description at bed-rock prices. His headquarters are at the Red Store on Main St.—and don't you forget it.

Wm. Switzler has sold to L. Blum the store and lot now occupied by the latter on the corner of Main and Court Streets for $4,000. We understand Mr. Blum contemplates erecting a brick building thereon at an early date.

The finest piece of horse flesh we have seen in the county is a two year old Percheron filly owned by Mr. W. J. Smith of Greasewood, which was weighed on John Bowman's scales on last Monday and showed down 1255 clear weight.

On Wednesday we were visited with the most violent wind and dust storm we have seen for a long time but it lasted a short while only, ending in a refreshing shower of rain soon followed by sunshine.

Our town continues to thrive and prosper, the sound of the carpenter's saw and hammer and the music of the blacksmith's anvil are to be heard in every direction from early dawn to evening twilight.

Jno. R. Foster, Esq., and Dr. Hodge, senior member of the firm of Hodge, Davis & Co. of Portland were in town on Thursday.

Mrs. Doctor Harris, who has been visiting her daughter in Independence Polk County, returned home this morning looking quite well.

S. Rothchild and wife reached home on Friday morning the 24th inst. after their bridal tour and are the recipients of many welcome greetings from friends in Pendleton.

The planing mill got on a bust on Wednesday and tried to give us a first class fire but it was luckily squelched in its infancy.

We return thanks for a complimentary to the Linn County Agricultural Fair, Oct. 6, 7, 8, and 9.

A Strange Animal.

An old hunter writes to the Modoc Independent from Dunn's Cove, that he and his dog have just killed a wild animal unlike anything he ever saw, and, describing it, asks for information concerning the genus. The writer says: The well-known Mr. Groves, an old hunter, and myself were hauling hay the other day, and my old hunting dog was heard to make a strange noise as though baying something. Knowing that he would take hold of anything he came across, I thought that I would go and ascertain what it was. It was on a very rocky hillside. Mr. Groves went with me. We had only our hay forks with us. When we came near the dog he seemed very uneasy. The animal had secreted himself between two large rocks. When I got within six feet of the animal, he growled fiercely and started for me, but luckily I stopped him with the fork. Mr. Groves, who was near, ran in with his fork, and we two, with the assistance of the dog, killed it. Groves escaped unhurt, while I had my pants and boots badly torn and one foot badly mutilated. The scent of the animal was very offensive, and we could not save its hide. It measured five feet three inches from one track to the other, its tail about the length of its body, with a bunch of red hair on the tip; a strip down the back about four inches; deep red stripes running with the ribs; his ears shaped like a hog's, standing straight out; two tusks two inches long on each side of his mouth, above and below; very ferocious.—Bulletin.

A Fatal Game.—Persons who understand the game are completely carried away by the belief that four aces cannot be beaten; but this is a very large sized mistake, as a Colt's 45-calibre six-shooter, with a mean, nervous looking man at the end of it has oftentimes proved the contrary. Many of our citizens have seen it done very often. In some localities cheating in a game of poker will sweep a man into eternity quicker than a cat could be singed in a certain warm place said to be "paved with good intentions." In Walla Walla County, in early days, a man named Tuggs settled, and he had not been here long before he made it known that he could "spheil 'em." One day he met a cadaverous hemp-haired biped named Bill Brown at a little country grocery store, and they sat down to a little social game, very soon a hand was called and it was learned that Mr. Tuggs had four aces while Mr. Brown only had three. The pack belonged to Tuggs, who expired instantly, and but a short time since the following inscription was deciphered from the tree under which he was buried:

"Tuggs. Dide from trying to play a fat pack on Bill Brown at Bunkum's grocery, May 16th 1853. He rests upon the buzzum of the lam, his cares of life are o're."—W. W. Statesman.

The proposed new counties will be called Wise and Coal, the former with Milton as a County seat and the latter with Heppner; such is the bill pending we see by reports from the Legislature. We do not know the division lines agreed upon.

Medical Lake.

Much is being said in the papers just now about Medical Lake in Washington Territory, which seems to be a sort of modern Bethesda, to which the lame, the halt and the blind move, hoping to get relief. The waters of this lake, however, cannot begin to cure backache and all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs as do the Oregon Kidney Tea. Sold everywhere.

NOTICE.

I have purchased the old Butter Creek Saw Mill, known by some as the VANARMAN MILL, and am ready to supply lumber of all kinds to customers. If desired I will deliver the lumber at the top of the grade and will always keep a supply at that point. I will also keep on hand poles and posts, either split or round, at what is know as the Boo's Camp, near my mill. I have moved my engine on top of the mountain. Call on me, examine my goods and you will all be convinced that I can furnish not only a better article, but can furnish sawed posts and poles cheaper than any one can furnish the round ones.
