CHECK OUT OUR TIPS FOR KEEPING YOUR PETS SAFE THIS 4TH OF JULY

Many pets get lost or injured during the 4th of July, due to being terrified of fireworks.

HERE ARE SOME TIPS TO KEEP YOUR FURRY FRIENDS SAFE:

The best place for your pet is inside. If you prefer to be outside with your pet, keep your pet on a leash beside you. If you must leave your pets alone, keep them inside in a room without windows. Leaving the tv or a radio on can help keep them calm.

Please keep them away from fireworks! There have been pets that have tried to retrieve them, resulting in injuries.

Make sure they are wearing the proper identification tags, and all information is current, especially if they are microchipped.

Some pets can be more scared of the noise of fireworks than others. Consult your veterinarian about reducing stress for your pet, especially for older dogs, and the option of sedating your dog if necessary.
