

OBITUARIES

Marilyn Simantel

Seaside

Sept. 29, 1939 — June 16, 2017

Marilyn Simantel died June 16, 2017, at home in Seaside, Oregon. Marilyn was born Sept. 29, 1939, in the small farming community of Waltham in southern Minnesota, the third child of Alvin and Verona Wuertz.

In 1962, Marilyn married Marcus Simantel. They have four children, Amy Lin, Angela Jane, Adam Mark and Ana Maria. Marilyn was an amazing wife, mother and the proud, proud grandmother of nine beautiful grandchildren.

She was known for her love of music and was an accomplished pianist and vocalist, doing solo work and singing in numerous groups that varied from Sweet Adelines to the Oregon Chorale, which toured Europe twice. Marilyn is known by her grandchildren for doing crossword puzzles and reading books. She had a substantial collection of books on U.S. presidents and first ladies.

Marilyn attended public high school in Austin, Minnesota, Concordia College in St. Paul, Concordia Teachers College in Chicago, and received her master of education degree from Portland State University. She taught elementary school in New Orleans and New York before moving to Hillsboro, Oregon, where she taught for 30 years before retiring in 1997. She was highly regarded by her peers, by her students, and by their parents for her professionalism and her success in the classroom.

Marilyn volunteered extensively, and felt strongly about the importance of her work with CASA and the Dougy Center in Portland, Oregon. After retirement she and Marcus moved from their farm to a downtown Portland condo, where Marilyn took advantage of book readings, lectures and various classes. She had a love for the Portland Central Library, where she also volunteered hundreds of hours.

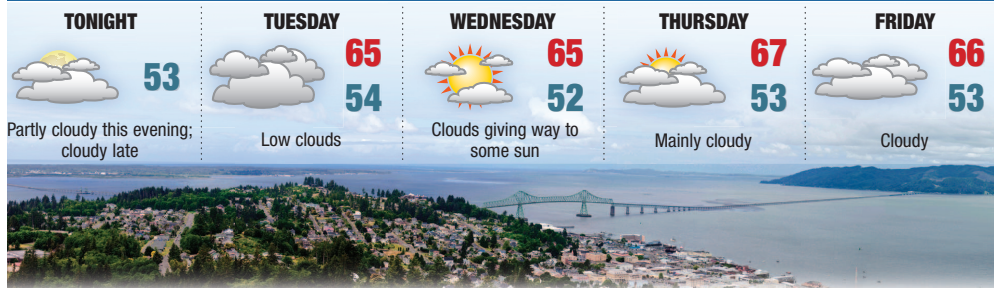

In 1999, Marilyn was diagnosed with pulmonary hypertension, which made life in retirement a constant challenge. Her incredibly positive attitude always impressed her family and friends and she will be greatly missed by all.

Memorial donations may be made to the Pulmonary Hypertension Association.

TOMORROW'S NATIONAL WEATHER

Astoria cracks heat record Saturday

93 degrees is tops for June 24

By KATIE FRANKOWICZ
The Daily Astorian

Astoria's past and present have experienced all sorts of temperatures on June 24 over the last 60 years, but they have never had the 93-degree scorcher they sweated through Saturday.

The cities of Portland, Hillsboro, Vancouver and Troutdale all hit record high temperatures for Sunday, coming in with 100- to 101-degree days, the National Weather Service reported this morning. The short heat wave ended today with the arrival of clouds and cool marine air. Astoria was also covered in clouds this morning, but it appears Saturday's high temperatures at the coast could have been a June record for the city, based on daily temperature data from 1953 to 2015. Astoria cooled down Sunday with a high of 68 and low of 55.

Historically, at least since record-keeping began in 1953, temperatures on June 24 have ranged from low 60s to high 80s.

In 1953, June 24 was a cool 61-degree day. In 1961, that day was a little warmer at 71 degrees. In the late 1980s — when crack cocaine began to show up increasingly in U.S. cities — June 24 in Astoria hit a high of 76 degrees in 1988 and 87 degrees in 1989.

A panoramic photo shows the core of the Milky Way rising above Manzanita and Rockaway Beach early Saturday. The coast had toasty temperatures Saturday, while the Portland metro area hit new highs on Sunday.

Since 1953, June in Astoria has typically meant highs of 67 degrees and lows of 53 degrees, according to a data set of daily temperatures. But June's temperatures range all over the place. June 1966 saw a high of 91 degrees on June 15, but this hot day was sandwiched between a 73-degree day and a string of days where temperatures hovered in the mid- to high 60s. In 1970, June started off with a bang at 90 degrees the first day of the month. By the time June 24 rolled around, however, daily temperatures had dropped to 60- and even 58-degree days, and June 24 had a high of only 64 degrees. In June 1995, Astoria hit a high of 92 degrees on June 29, followed by a comparatively chilly 64 degrees the next day.

Last year, the hottest day of June happened early in the month when temperatures hit 87 degrees on June 4.

There was less rain, however. June 2016 saw only 2 inches of precipitation total. This June, Astoria hit almost 3 inches for the entire month and average temperatures, both high and low, were several degrees cooler than last June.

ON THE RECORD

DUI

At 3:46 a.m. Saturday, Jenna Adele Rivera, 25, of Seaside, was arrested by the Clatsop County Sheriff's Office on U.S. Highway 101 near Avenue U in Seaside and charged with driving under the influence of intoxicants.

Attempted assault

At 12:46 p.m. Saturday, John Carl Dalgren, 38, of Astoria, was arrested by the Astoria Police Department on the 800 block of Erie Avenue and charged with attempted assault on a public safety officer, harassment and resisting arrest.

Police responded to reports of Dalgren, who appeared to be under the influence of methamphetamine, destroying items in his bedroom. The officer drove him to Columbia Memorial Hospital, though Dalgren said he wanted to go to the jail instead. While on the hospital campus, Dalgren allegedly grabbed the officer, stomped him on his foot and punched him in the chest as he again asked to be taken to jail.

He then was taken to the Clatsop County Jail, where he allegedly punched a Clatsop County Sheriff's deputy.
