JUST BACK FROM NOME.—Sunday evening's south bound local brought quite an attraction to Roseburg though for a brief time only. The attraction consisted of Alex Allen of Nome, Alaska, and his famous team of four large shaggy "Husky" and "Malamute" sledge dogs. Mr. Allen is a representative of Seiffert Brothers, Spokane, mining investors and brokers, and has been in the Nome district mining sledging and mail contracting since 1897, having formerly operated extensively in the Klondike. Mr. Allen was enroute to his old home at Gasquet near Crescent City and will also spend a few days in Grants Pass visiting friends. He will either return to Nome in about three weeks or close a contract with a Thunder Mountain, Idaho Transportation Company to carry mail and supplies into that camp. He has quite large interests in the Nome country. The exercise drill of his valuable dog team in their sledge harness during the 30 minutes the train stopped here was a rare sight to our people.

WRONGFULLY ACCUSED.—It appears that Mr. G. W. Benefiet of Elkton, has been repeatedly accused of the authorship of an article which appeared in our columns in August last, quite severely criticising Mr. J. M. Robinson of Elkton. In justic to Mr. Benefiet we will say that he had nothing whatever to do with writting the article in question.

SPECIAL MEETING BOARD TRADE.

Bonus is Raised and Creamery Plant is Assured.

A special meeting of the Douglas County Board of Trade was held Thursday evening to take final action on the creamery proposition for Roseburg. C. S. Jackson, chairman of committee on soliciting bonus of $500 reported that our citizens had responded liberally and were generally enthusiastic in regard to securing such a valuable and important industry and manufacturing institution in this county. The committee reported $470 already subscribed and the list was turned over to the board of managers with the recommendation that the remaining $30 be secured at the earliest possible date to make up the full $500 bonus. The board of managers were also instructed to enter into an agreement with Mr. Gardiner of Albany, embodying the construction, completion and operation of a creamery plant in Roseburg, the bonus to be turned over to him upon the fulfilment of this agreement. Mr. Gardiner was present and stated that he was ready to enter into this agreement and commence the erection of a creamery building and the installment of his creamery plant therein at once. Thus a first class creamery for Roseburg and Douglas county is an assured fact.

CREAMERY SITE PURCHASED.

Mr. Gardiner, the creamery man, has purchased of Mrs. Zotta Ball, the two lots on Jackson street nearly opposite the McCallen hotel on which he will commence the erection at once a modern creamery building and in which he will install an up-to-date creamery plant of sufficient capacity to handle the milk of from 600 to 800 cows. It is the intention of the promoter to have the plant in operation by June 1. It is now in order for owners of dairy cows to begin preparations for providing feed for them in abundance during the winter season when the product is the most valuable.

MR. BLAKELEY HAS RETURNED.

Roseburg Street Improvement Contractor and Saw Mill Promoter.

Mr. F. J. Blakeley returned to Roseburg last week from an extended sojourn in the East and Middle West, and was much gratified to note the advent of springtime here while only recently he had been experiencing the bleak, disagreeable weather of the uncongenial East. Mr. Blakeley spent much of his time inspecting modern saw mill and wood working machinery in contemplation of establishing a large manufacturing institution of this kind in or near Roseburg. He says, "I shall begin looking around at once for a suitable mill site and a place where we can boom our logs, and just as soon as we have the details all arranged a mill will be erected, and I hope in connection with the mill to see many other important industries started.

"There is plenty of money in the East seeking a place for investment, and to my mind the great timber forests of Western Oregon, together with its many other resources, is bound to attract these capitalists. My people are thoroughly alive to Oregon's future, and when men of their financial standing make a start, others are sure to follow."

STREET IMPROVEMENT.

Mr. Blakeley is the contractor for Roseburg's street improvements and has been examining the most approved systems of the east and may secure the services of Mr. Gettins, superintendent of the park board of Detroit, Michigan, to superintend the work here. He expects to begin about June 1st, or whenever the weather conditions becomes favorably, and proposes to do the work in a systematic and thorough manner.
