RESTRICT IMMIGRATION

Apropos of the present agitation of the question of continuance of Chinese exclusion it behooves our legislators to take cognizance of the constantly increasing tide of immigration from other foreign countries other than China.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1901, the total number of emigrants to this country was 487,918, against 448,572 for the preceding year or an increase of 39,346.

A close analysis of the statistics for the period show that this increase has been composed of the more undesirable class of foreignors,—those who are uneducated, illiterate, impoverished and who came here only for the purpose of laboring for a few years and then returning to their native country.

In his annual report just issued Terence V. Powderly, commissioner-general of immigration, discusses the dangers to American institutions arising from unchecked and unregulated introduction into the body politic of elements unassimilated and, in many cases, unassimilable.

He recommends that "congress enact suitable legislation, either with, or if necessary without, the co-operation of the states, for the purpose of distributing the alien population with some reference to the industrial law of supply and demand. The time has passed when vast acres of undeveloped territory in this country afforded a profitable outlet for individual energy and made it comparatively safe to interpret literally the once popular sophomoric oratory which advocate the indiscriminate welcome of the 'oppressed of all lands' to the United States as an asylum. If not now, then at some day not far distant, the public mind will be awakened to the necessity, as a measure of self-preservation, of undertaking seriously and earnestly to adopt means, not necessarily to shut off immigration, or even materially to diminish it, but at least to deal with it so that it may not continue to threaten our social and civil order."

"It seems not inappropriate to correct the popular error that the existing immigration laws represent a purpose of restricting the volume of immigration. Congress has enacted no such legislation. Its sole purpose has apparently been to absolutely exclude certain classes of aliens whose presence is regarded as detrimental to the interests of American citizens upon moral, financial or physical grounds. The specific enumeration by class, of such, restricts the executive power to exclude or to deport to these classes alone, leaving the gateway of the republic wide to the ingress, without limitation otherwise, of the inhabitants of the earth, excepting, of course, the Chinese. Hence there is no color of authority in the law for the rejection at our ports of, what are commonly called anarchists, enemies of political or social order, or polygamists in doctrine, our laws apparently recognizing thus that right to the free enjoyment of individual opinion which, according to American institutions, is an 'inalienable right' of manhood, though it does refuse entry to evildoers whose misdeeds involve moral baseness which has been the subject of judicial investigation and conviction.

The Boer war has demonstrated that the notions of military affairs in England is wrong and that of warfare obsolete. If we may trust report, the famed armies of Germany and France are not ordered on a much better understanding. The old European idea of massive formations, of automatic precision in drill, of parade, excellence, still answers that ideal. Armies, however large, made up in this way can make little impression on loose formation, accurate individual marksmanship and individual initiative that characterizes the Boer army, if one may call their commanches by the name of army.—Indianapolis News.

It is declared on good authority that the Italian vote now governs the state of Vermont. This is a condition of things that nobody ever expected to see, and yet it exists. And these Italian voters of Vermont are decent men and good citizens, too. Gradually, for the past twenty years, they have quietly crept over the borders, so to speak, and with their wives and little ones have tramped up there from New York. Landing first in the larger towns of the state and working with the pick or establishing peanut and fruit stands, then gradually spreading out into the country, and after "rising out" as farm hands, the women as well as the men working in the fields, most of them have now become measurably independent. Practically all of them are thrifty and of good morals.

The new tariff law of Australia levies duty on the following products shipped from the Pacific coast: Raisins 3d per pound, currants 3d per pound, dried vegetables 20 per cent ad valorem, almonds 5d per pound, pears 1s 6d per cental. Boiled fruits 3s per dozen, canned fruits one-half pints and smaller sizes 8d per dozen, quarts and over one-half pints 1s 6d per dozen, quarts and over pints 2s per dozen, exceeding quart (per gallon) 1s. Salmon—Preserved fish in tin or other air-tight vessels 2d per pound. Fish, poultry, game and meats, fresh or preserved by cold process, 1d per pound; potted or concentrated, including extracts and caviar, 20 per cent ad valorem.

Railroading is classed as a hazardous occupation by accident insurance companies and well it may be. During the year ending June 30,1900, 7683 persons were killed and 50,320 were injured in accidents of one sort or another upon the railways of the United States. This is probably a much larger number of casualties than resulted from all the actual warfare in the world during the same period. The number of deaths from wounds on the British side in few years of the Boer war was less than 7500, and the total number of men wounded was only a small fraction of the men wunded on the railroads of the United States. Railway commerce hath her victims no less than war.

The shipbuilding industry of the United States, exclusive of the United States navy yards, according to a preliminary report of the census bureau had a total invested capital of $76,699,651 in 1900. This is an increase of 181 per cent since 1890. The value of products, including custom work and repairing, was $73,444,733, an increase of almost 93 per cent. There was 1082 establishments and 46,121 wage-earners, with total wages of $24,284,166; miscellaneous expenses, $2,592,527, and cost of materials used was $35,031,280.

No better opportunity for investment of capital in a paying proposition is offered by any town in Oregon than right here in Astoria. With the unexcelled pasturage in close proximity to this city for an unlimited number of milch cows a condensed milk factory will find here a field which is sure to make such an enterprise profitable from the day of its opening. This is a matter which it might be well for Astoria's Push Club and Chamber of Commerce to take up.

Steadily has the United States advanced among the gold producing countries until today it stands at the head of the list, its annual output exceeding that of the Transvaal in its palmiest days. This must be an eyesopener to those who have imagined that our day as a gold producer is over. Still more astonishing is the fact that the great bulk of our production is furnished by California and Colorado, which were the scenes of the early gold rushes.

Early in congress Senator Mitchell will introduce a bill to create a new federal judicial district for Oregon, to be located in Baker City. The measure is greatly needed. It will mean another judge, marshal, district attorney and other court officials for this state.—Sherman Observer.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Lord Rosebery has bought a large steam yacht which he is sending to the Mediterranean. It is reported that he intends to join the yacht in the Riviera.

Owing to the friction between the bishop and clergy of Denver, several priests visited Rome. There was a fracas among the clergymen recently and an intervention of the police took place. Father Crudlang was arrested but immediately released.

As a token of interest in the Germanic museum at Harvard University, Emperor William is having prepared for presentation to Harvard a unique collection of plaster casts. The casts will duplicate some of the finest German mediaeval stone work, such as the tracery in the choir of the Halberstadt cathedral.

John L. De Saulles, the quarterback of the Yale team who was injured in making a flying tackle of Marshall in the game Saturday is still at the Massachusetts general hospital. The hospital physician says that De Saulles' condition is satisfactory and with continued improvement he will return to New Haven today.

The Amateur Athletic Union has decreed "that any man who receives pay for officiating at athletic games shall not be eligible for registration." Mr. Stoll, chairman of the registration committee has been ordered to refuse the applications for registration of paid officials. Referees of basket ball who accepted money for services rendered will share a like fate.

Directum, for years the King trotting stallion, will pass under the auctioneer's hammer this week at the Fasig-Tipton sale, which began last night in Madison Square Garden. He belongs to the estate of the late W. E. Spier. As a race horse Directum probably had no superior. His record of 2.08¼, made in a race as a 4-year-old in 1893, was considered extremely remarkable at that time. In his three and four year old form he met all the horses of any note in America and defeated them.

The Vienna Vaterland, quoted by the correspondent of the London Times and New York Times in the Austrian Capital says: "Just at the moment when the agitation in Germany against the barbarism and brutality of the English in the South African war has reached a climax, it is proved by judicial sentences that, in the midst of peace, Polish children under German rule are subject to sanguinary ill-treatment and the Polish parents, guilty only of protesting, are thrust into prison."

MODERN SURGERY SURPASSED.

"While suffering from a bad case of piles I consulted a physician who advised me to try a box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve," says G. F. Carter, Atlanta, Ga. "I procured a box and was entirely cured. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is a splendid cure for piles, giving relief instantly, and I heartily recommend it to all sufferers." Surgery is unnecessary to cure piles. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve will cure any case. Cuts, burns, bruises and all other wounds are also quickly cured by it. Beware of counterfeits.—CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

UP TO DATE STORIES.

One of the best stories General Archie Williams ever drew from his repertoire is told on himself. Many years ago, when attorney-general of Kansas, Mr. Williams had occasion to make a trip to the East. He had no railroad passes east of the Mississippi river, so he borrowed an annual over an Illinois road from his old friend, Jake Smith. It happened during the first stretch through Illinois that the conductor of the train on which the Kansas City man rode was a former schoolmate of his. The conductor recognized Williams, but Williams didn't recognize the conductor, and about this fact the fun of the story hangs.

"Mr. Smith," said the conductor, after working his train and returning to seat with his passenger from Kansas, "I see you are from Topeka. Did you ever know a man out there by the name of Archie Williams?"

"Yes, I know him very well," responder the pseudo Smith, after struggling hard to steady his nerves and regain his composure. "Yes, Williams is considerable of a fellow out there. He's attorney-general of the state."

"Who, Williams? Attorney-general?" ejaculated the conductor. "What kind of a people are they out there in Kansas to elect a chucklehead like that for attorney-general? Why, sir, I used to know Williams back here in Illinois, and of all the dundle-pated, stop-in-himself-and-fall-all-over fellows you ever saw, Williams was the worst. That man attorney-general? Why, if you will believe me, Mr. Smith, he didn't know enough to wad a shotgun."

"Stop it! Stop it!" yelled Williams, springing to his feet. "There is your blankety blank Smith pass; take it up and collect fare if you want to, but you can't abuse me any longer."—Nashville American.

HE KEPT HIS LEG.

Twelve years ago J. W. Sullivan, of Hartford, Conn., scratched his leg with a rusty wire. Inflammation and blood poisoning set in. For two years he suffered intensely. Then the best doctors urged amputation, "but," he writes, "I used one bottle of Electric Bitters and 1½ boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and my leg was sound and well as ever." For Eruptions, Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Sores and all blood disorders Electric Bitters has no rival on earth. Try them. Hart's Drugstore will guarantee satisfaction or refund mony. Only 50 cents.

SHERIFF'S SALE

Notice is hereby given that I will on Monday, the 24 day of December, 1901, at the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at and in front of the court house door, in the City of Astoria, in Clatsop County, State of Oregon, offer for sale and sell, at public auction to the highest bidder for cash in hand at the time of sale all and singular the real estate and property heretofore bid in for taxes for said Clatsop County, the said City of Astoria, and School District Nos. one and six of said county, or either of them and which they or either of them have acquired title by virtue of any such sale.

Said sale is fixed for said date pursuant to an order heretofore made by the County Court of said county, as the lists of such property could not be prepared by the first Monday after July.

Sheriff of said County.

Dated November 2, 1901.

TO CURE A COUGH.

Stop coughing, as it irritates the lungs, and gives them no chance to heal. Foley's Honey and Tar cures without causing a strain in throwing off the phlegm like common cough expectorants.—Hart's drug store.

The Struggler's Outlook.—Dabbs—An artist needs some high ambition to keep his art-fervor alive. Danks—Oh, well, maybe our pictures will get worked up into soap advertisements some of these days.—Detroit Free Press.

W. J. Shively, Batesville, O., speaking of Dannie Salve, says: "I used it for piles and it has done me more good than any salve I have ever used, and I have tried a great many kinds."—Hart's drug store.

Comrade—That article of yours in the Comet is always long. Nobody will ever read it through. Benedict—It wasn't written to be read, Comrade. What was it written for then? Benedict—For $10 a column.—Boston Transcript.

G. H. Hausan, Lima, O., engineer L. E. & W. R. R., writes: "I have been troubled a great deal with backache. I was induced to try Foley's Kidney Cure, and one bottle entirely relieved me. I gladly recommend it to any one, especially my friends among the train men who are usually similarly affected."—Hart's drug store.

No Heroics.—She, eagerly—And what did papa say when you asked him for me? He—Consented at once. She—Glorious! He—Oh, I don't know; he might at least have given me an opportunity to tell him that I'd marry you even though we had to elope.—Ohio State Journal.

DON'T LET THEM SUFFER

Often children are tortured with itching and burning eczema and other skin diseases but Bucklen's Arnica Salve heals the raw sore, expels inflammation, leaves the skin without a scar. Clean, fragrant, cheap, there's no salve on earth as good. Try it. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c at Hart's Drugstore.

It Stands.—"The death of Li Hung Chang had been reported so often that I didn't believe it this time until the news had been confirmed," remarked the Observant Boarder. "Oh, this time his death proved fatal," declared the Cross-Eyed Boarder.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

George A. Points, Upper Sandusky, O., writes: "I have been using Foley's Honey and Tar for Hoarseness and find it the best remedy I ever tried. It stopped the cough immediately and relieved all soreness." Take only Foley's.—Hart's drug store.

Desolation.—"Well," remarked Noah, thoughtfully, as he looked out over the waste of water, "it will be pretty lonely when we get ashore." "Yes," answered Japhet, "there won't be enough of the neighbors left to get up a court of inquiry and prove that we didn't know how to run the ship."—Washington Star.

Adolph Blumer, Grand Mound, Ia., writes: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar in my family and think it is the best cough cure on the market. I would not be without it in my home, as there is nothing so good for coughs and colds."—Hart's drug store.

The Real Peril.—Sympathizing Friend—It must be a terrible thing to have one's boy so far away from home and to feel that his life is in danger every day. I can imagin just how it must seem to you. Tearful Mother—Oh, its not the boy that's in the Philippines I'm so uneasy about. It's Dicky. He's joined the college football team.—Chicago Tribune.

FOR HOARSENESS.

Benj. Ingreson, of Hutton, Ind., says he had not spoken a word above a whisper for months, and that one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar restored his voice. Be sure you get Foley's.—Hart's drug store.

Cassidy—Ain't ye workin'? Casey—No; we're out on strike." "What for?" "How do O know? Shure, Ol'm not the walkin' delegate."—Philadelphia Record.

RELIABLE AND GENTLE.

"A pill's a pill," says the saw. But there are pills and pills. You want a pill which is certain, thorough and gentle. Mustn't gripe. DeWitt's Little Early Risers fill the bill. Purely vegetable. Do not force but assist the bowels to act. Strengthen and invigorate. Small and easy to take.—CHAS. ROGERS, druggist.

During the Negotiation.—"It's a prime turkey, Mrs. Brady!" "Do yez think so? May be they thought it was sich a fine bur'd they hated to let it die young!"—Puck.

FOOD CHANGED TO POISON.

Putrefying food in the intestines produces effects like those of arsenic, but Dr. King's New Life Pills expel the poisons from clogged bowels, gently, easily but surely, curing Constipation, Biliousness, Sick Headache, Fevers, all Liver, Kidney and Bowel troubles. Only 25c at Hart's Drugstore.

Wealth.—"Is she wealthy?" "Wealthy? She's so wealthy she can afford not to wear diamonds."—Detroit Free Press.

RECOMMEND IT TO TRAINMEN.

Seymour Webb, Moline, N. Y., writes "I have been trouble with my kidneys for twenty-five years, and had tired several physicians but received no relief until I bought a bottle of Foley's Kidney Cure. After using two bottles I was absolutely cured. I earnestly recommend Foley's Kidney Cure." Take only Foley's.—Hart's drug store.

She—You don't know what it is to love. I don't, oh? Haven't I been to every play, read every popular novel in the last six months, got into debt hopelessly, had my appendix removed, and all for your sake.—Life.

THE CHILDREN'S FRIEND

You'll have a cold this winter. Maybe you have one now. Your children will suffer too. For coughs, croup, bronchitis, grip and other winter complaints One Minute Cough Cure never fails. Acts promptly. It is very pleasant to the taste and perfectly harmless. C. B. George, Winchester, Ky., writes "Our little girl was attacked with croup late one night and was so hoarse she could hardly speak. We gave her a few doses of One Minute Cough Cure. It relieved her immediately and she went to sleep. When she awoke next morning she had no signs of hoarseness or croup."—CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

The German government has purchased 300 adding machines from an American firm. The American bird in this instance takes on the form of an adder.—Baltimore Herald.

A PHYSICIAN TESTIFIES

"I have taken Kolol Dyspepsia Cure and have never used anything in my life that did me the good that did," says County Physician Geo. W. Scruggs, of Hall county, Ga. "Being a physician I have prescribed it and found it to give the best results." If the food you eat remains undigested in your stomach it decays and poisons the system. You can prevent this by dieting but that means starvation. Kolol Dyspepsia Cure Digests what you eat. You need suffer neither dyspepsia nor starvation. The worst cases quickly cured. Never fails.—CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.
