"Come up to the house and have dinner with me, Charley."

"Well, I don't care if—gracious, what a looking head! Has somebody hit you with a brick?

"No, we were fooling, and my wife hit me with a biscuit."

"You'll have to excuse me to-night, Sam. Some other night, perhaps."—Chicago Herald.

A lady who lives near Lagrange, Ga., ordered her servent girl to fire up the stove preparatory to baking some potatoes. She did as she was directed, but when the stove door was opened the house cat was found baked to a turn.

An American quack doctor sold some liquid on the streets of Paris which he warranted to relieve pain in one minute. Some of those who were not relieved made complaint and he was sent up for one year.

Disturbance of the Heart.

Heart disease is like an assassin, which creeps upon you in the dark, and strikes you when unaware. Therefore do not overlook any uneasiness in the region of the heart or disturbance in its action, but at once take Dr. Flint's Remedy. Descriptive treatise with each bottle; or address Mack Drug Co., N. Y.

"This was some time a peculiar," as Hamlet says. Since, however, the people of America and other lands have been enabled to pit Hostetter's Stomach Bitters against that unfriendly ally of health, malaria, it has been an easy possibility. Wherever malaria evokes its fairy venom to poison the air and decaying unwholesome vegetation infects the water there, in the very strongholds of the fiend, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have fastened their clutch on the system, and have fastened it, too, in the very teeth of malarious force that should clearly recommend the Bitters to persons exposed to malarious influences, for it is a certain bracer of debilitated constitutions, and a most powerful defender against malaria. Dyspepsia, liver complaint, rheumatism, kidney and bladder ailments, constipation, nervousness, and sleeplessness are also overcome by this invigorant.
